REVISED AND UPDATED
2014 EDITION

This book was paid for by the taxpayers of the State of Mississippi and authorized by the Mississippi Legislature.

DELBERT HOSEMANN
Secretary of State

My fellow Mississippians:

Throughout the years, the face of Mississippi has changed. In many ways, we are not our fathers' fathers' Mississippi. While Mississippians have adapted to changes in our cultural, societal and economic environment, we maintain our strong heritage and core values. These values define who we are and enforce how the rest of the nation views our people—warm, generous, hardworking and irrepressible. In times of economic downfalls and natural disasters, our resilience pushes us past hardships. This spirit, strength and determination is seen in the faces of our citizens, our families and our neighbors.

In the 2012-2016 edition of the Official and Statistical Register of the State of Mississippi, my goal is to highlight some of those faces of Mississippi—the individuals who epitomize what it means to be a Mississippian. These individuals have built their businesses and devoted their lives to ideas and to tangible solutions for the benefit of our State and, often, our country. They are leaving a legacy not only to their children and grandchildren, but to the children and grandchildren of all Mississippians. The intellect, drive, dedication and determination in their faces mirrors our own, and we are pleased to highlight their hard work and accomplishments.

We have all heard the famous William Faulkner quote, "To understand the world, you must first understand a place like Mississippi." I believe for the world to understand a place like Mississippi, it must first understand the stories of our people.

Sincerely,

Delbert

MISSISSIPPI'S TIME IS NOW

A new era has begun in Mississippi. Optimism and determination are gaining momentum with each passing day. Now, as Mississippi approaches its bicentennial year in 2017, we are in a strong position to capitalize on our opportunities. It is truly our time to shine.

Mississippi has, without question, persevered through challenging times. Yet we have emerged stronger. Our tradition of conservative fiscal management, pro-business policies and a balanced budget mandated by the State Constitution have fueled small-business development and creative entrepreneurship. At the same time, our State's attractive business climate, abundant natural resources and enviable quality of life have captured the attention of many of the world's leading corporations.

When you consider our near-ideal geographic position in the Americas, it is no wonder Mississippi has become a magnet for transportation, distribution and logistics businesses. We are surrounded by 800 miles of navigable waterways—the Mississippi River, the Gulf of Mexico and the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. Rail systems cross the State offering 2,541 miles of track, and five interstate highways provide easy access to markets east and west, north and south.

Of course, we are not just shipping products; we are producing them. Mississippi is currently ranked as the fifth fastest-growing state for gross international exports. In 2011, we exported $10.9 billion in shipments, a 33% increase over the previous year. Canada, Panama, Mexico, China and Columbia were our top trading partners.

Mississippi's resurging manufacturing sector deserves much of the credit. Our success story recently prompted Forbes to proclaim "Manufacturing Booms in Mississippi" in their online series Reinventing America.

MISSISSIPPI IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Our pro-business climate, low tax burden and affordable utility rates have made our State a top destination for business.

- Lowest labor costs
- 3rd best labor climate
- 4th best corporate tax environment
- 4th lowest overall cost of doing business
- 9th most business-friendly overall
- Right-to-work status established by State constitution

manufacturers have modernized their plants and expanded into new facilities to meet rising demand.

Our State has also found considerable success in the energy sector. Mississippi was named the number one jurisdiction in the world for oil and gas investment in the 2011 Global Petroleum Survey conducted by The Fraser Institute, Canada's leading public policy think-tank. Our State has also emerged as a leader in the Green Revolution. In recent years, Mississippi has become a hotbed of activity for renewable energy projects, attracting cutting-edge biomass fuel projects and securing manufacturing operations for highly efficient solar energy panels.

Shipbuilding has a long tradition in Mississippi and it continues to be a vital industry for our State. Ingalls Shipbuilding, a division of Huntington Ingalls Industries, is the largest provider of surface combatants to the U.S. Navy and also the largest private

OUR FUTURE: HEALTHY, WEALTHY AND WISE

As Mississippi's population ages, the need for health care workers is expected to surge. Promoting growth in Mississippi's health care industry will increase access to quality care across the State. At the same time, it will create new opportunities for high-paying jobs, since health care jobs pay wages roughly 40% higher than the State average.

Recognizing these factors, Mississippi has announced incentives to attract development within Health Care Industry Zones across the State. Efforts are already underway in Jackson to position the city as a regional health care destination via the Mississippi Healthcare Corridor, a five-mile stretch in the heart of the capital city focusing on health care, research and support services.

Without question, education is a critical economic driver and it continues to be a high priority for elected officials and business leaders in Mississippi. In recent years, our K-12 schools have introduced new accountability standards with the goal of educating and equipping tomorrow's workforce. In 2011, our State achieved a 20% increase in the number of schools receiving the highest rating possible. To build upon these improvements, we are continuing implementation of the Common Core State Standards, a state-led initiative that establishes a rigorous set of benchmarks for K-12 education.

More Mississippians are attending college than ever before. System-wide enrollment at Mississippi's four-year colleges has increased annually since 1994 with a 5% gain between 2010-2011. Mississippi's community and junior colleges are also enrolling significantly more students and seeing a larger percentage graduate. Between 2006 and 2010, Mississippi's community colleges added more than 17,000 students to their rolls. Between 2010 and 2011, the system awarded 14,000 degrees, an increase of 15% over the previous year.

Mississippi's universities are engaged in advanced research projects to fuel tomorrow's innovations. These research institutions are now able to share massive amounts of complex data more quickly. MissiON, the Mississippi Optical Network, will provide 20 times the current broadband capacity. A collaboration with AT&T, this $16 million project links the Mississippi Research Consortium, composed of the University of Mississippi, Mississippi State University, the University of Southern Mississippi, Jackson State University, University of Mississippi Medical Center, Mississippi Department of Information Technology, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and Stennis Space Center.

and materials. USM's technology-focused business incubator, The Accelerator, was launched in 2010 and currently supports 10 technology companies. In 2011, Hattiesburg was selected by three prominent technology companies as the site for their new manufacturing facilities.

The University of Mississippi opened its Insight Park in 2012 to serve as a catalyst for innovation in a variety of research areas. Researchers from the university contributed to groundbreaking projects including the discovery of the Higgs Boson particle, development of new drugs, and ongoing research to develop and investigate new cancer therapies.

In Starkville, former Mississippi State professors turned their materials research into a promising new company, propelling Mississippi's entry into the advanced semiconductor market. SemiSouth manufactures a silicon carbide semiconductor for high-power, high-efficiency, and harsh-environment power management and conversion applications. Following the company's initial success, SemiSouth has announced an $18 million expansion to increase manufacturing capacity.

Jackson State University is conducting innovative research in a number of disciplines, such as biotechnology, nanomaterials, public health and drug discovery. JSU is classified as a high-research university and is ranked second in R&D expenditures among all Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

OUR LAND OF CREATIVITY, BEAUTY AND OPPORTUNITY

Mississippi has a long, rich cultural heritage that touches the lives of people in every corner of the globe. Our ideas and the expression of our creativity have both lasting value and economic power. Our artists, architects, writers, filmmakers and other creative professionals represent a robust economic force, whose combined

Recognizing these facts, the Mississippi Development Authority and the Mississippi Arts Commission are working together to promote the growth of our creative economy and stimulate arts-related entrepreneurship throughout the State.

Travel and tourism mean big business in Mississippi, generating nearly $6 billion in revenue and attracting 20.8 million visitors to our unique places, events, cultural attractions, outdoor recreation, casinos, hotels and restaurants. The visibility of our State's attractions is at an all-time high, and tourism's impact on the State economy continues to increase.

Our festivals, events and cultural attractions are renowned. For more than 120 years, the Neshoba County Fair, dubbed Mississippi's Giant House Party, has been a quintessential annual tradition of colorful cabins, camaraderie and political stump speeches. The Canton Flea Market is one of the largest and most popular outdoor arts and crafts markets in the South. Mal's St. Paddy's Day Parade in Jackson is the second-largest of its kind in the U.S. and recently spun off a second parade, The Sweet Potato Queen's Zippity Doo Dah Parade. Another tradition, the Delta Blues and Heritage Festival, has attracted visitors from every continent since 1978.

Annual pilgrimages such as those in Natchez, Columbus and Holly Springs showcase historic homes, including many built during the antebellum and Victorian eras. Crystal Springs' Tomato Festival, Corinth's Slugburger Festival, Forest's Wing Dang Doodle festival, and the Watermelon Festival in Mize all delight visitors with the sights, sounds and flavors of our State. All told, more than 400 unique events are held in Mississippi each year.

Music lovers of all kinds flock to the Birthplace of America's Music to visit the B.B. King Museum and Delta Interpretive Center, the Delta Blues Museum and other Blues landmarks along Mississippi Highway 61. The Mississippi Blues Trail provides information and insight to the journey through the storied Mississippi Delta and beyond via interpretive markers at 152 sites statewide. Mississippi recently launched a Country Music Trail, with 17 markers dedicated to-date. Plans for a new GRAMMY® museum in Cleveland are underway and, once completed, the museum will be the only GRAMMY museum outside of Los Angeles.

Visitors and locals alike enjoy Mardi Gras parades celebrated in several Mississippi Gulf Coast communities and the annual Blessing of the Fleet is a beloved Biloxi tradition since 1929. The Coast now boasts a $30 million state-of-the-art science museum with the opening of the INFINITY Science Center at Stennis Space Center. Art lovers are drawn to the Coast, as well, visiting the Walter Anderson Museum of art and the quaint galleries and shops of Ocean Springs. The recently rebuilt Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art dazzles visitors with its pottery collections and the brushed-steel "pod" structures of internationally celebrated architect Frank Gehry.

Mississippi's scenic beauty offers abundant opportunities for outdoor recreation. The historic Natchez Trace Parkway, 310 miles of which lies within Mississippi's borders, is a popular route for bikers and sightseers. Hikers and other nature lovers can choose from 27 state parks and abundant lakes and waterways. Hunting and fishing are immensely popular. More than one million acres are available for hunting, including 31 state Wildlife Management Areas and seven National Wildlife Refuges. Twenty-one prime lakes are owned or leased by the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks and are available for fishing. The Ross Barnett Reservoir and Sardis Lake are among the most popular.

Mississippi is also an emerging destination for golf travelers. Lauded as "Golf's Best-Kept Vacation Secret" in a recent Forbes Magazine article, Mississippi is home to spectacular world-class golf courses like the Tom Fazio-designed Fallen Oak in Biloxi and others designed by golf legends Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Davis Love III and Jerry Pate.

MISSISSIPPI'S ENTREPRENEURIAL SPIRIT

In every corner of our State, you will find Mississippians who, through their vision and passion, have profoundly impacted our State, our nation and the world.

In Greenwood, Fred Carl founded Viking Range Corporation after searching for a professional-style range for his wife and finding no such product existed. Carl went on to create the first professional-style range designed, engineered and certified for home use. Today, Viking Range Corporation makes a full line of kitchen appliances recognized worldwide as the industry's top standard.

While in high school, Hartley Peavey aspired to be a rock 'n' roll guitarist, not an entrepreneur. However, once he discovered his true talent for tinkering with guitar amplifiers, Peavey's hobby turned into a full-time business. His Meridian-based company, Peavey Electronics Corporation, is now one of the world's largest manufacturers of musical instruments, amplifiers and professional audio systems.

Booneville native, Augustus L. "Leon" Collins, distinguished himself in numerous staff and command positions before his promotion to Brigadier General, the first African-American General in the Mississippi Army National Guard. In 2012, Collins was appointed by Governor Bryant as Adjutant General of Mississippi. In that role, he commands 12,500 men and women serving in the Mississippi Air and Army National Guard.

Ridgeland-based C Spire Wireless dates back to the 1960s. Brothers Wade and Jimmy Creekmore founded their company to introduce telephone service to rural Mississippi communities. As technology advanced, the Creekmores expanded into the wireless business under the name Cellular South. Today, under the leadership of CEO Hu Meena, their company is known as C Spire Wireless. They are the nation's largest privately-held wireless communications company, serving one million subscribers in four Southern states.

Another Mississippi innovator, Will Primos, is renowned among hunters and sportsmen. Will made his first duck call at the age of 11 and continued his hobby through the mid 1970s when he started selling his hunting calls to a small sporting goods store. Before long, Primos Hunting was receiving orders from across the country. The Flora-based business now manufactures more than 620 products, holds 26 patents and owns numerous trademarks.

A senior partner with Phelps Dunbar Law Firm, Reuben Anderson was Mississippi's first African-American Supreme Court Justice. Anderson has held numerous board positions (AT&T, Kroger, Trustmark) and served as President of the Mississippi Bar Association and President of the Mississippi Economic Council. His leadership and example has inspired and paved the way for countless entrepreneurs and civic leaders.

Joel Bomgar began his career providing IT support for a local company while working his way through college. Traveling across the State in an old car without air conditioning seemed like an inefficient way to work, so Joel set out to develop a way to manage his customers' computers across the Internet. Joel's company, Bomgar, now serves over 6,500 leading businesses in 65 countries. Bomgar has been recognized as a Deloitte Fast 500 Rising Star and included in the Inc. 500 and 5000.

Lee McCarty, and his late wife Pup, first began making pottery together in 1954 using native Mississippi clays. During their early years, the couple's friendship with William Faulkner afforded them unlimited access to clay from a ravine behind the author's Rowan Oak plantation. Working in a converted mule barn in Merigold, the pair developed their unique style and signature glazes. Over the years, the McCartys' artistic vision has inspired growing demand from collectors worldwide.

In Biloxi, the Mavar and McLendon names are synonymous with quality seafood, with a history dating back seven generations. That family tradition lives on with Mark Mavar and Jonathan McLendon, whose companies—M&M Processing, LLC and Biloxi Freezing & Processing—joined together to strengthen their competitive position. Together, the companies catch and inventory more than one million pounds of wild-caught Gulf shrimp, on average, per month.

Pecans are a mainstay of Mississippi agriculture, and Indianola Pecan House is one of the biggest names in the business. Its founder Wheeler Timbs, Jr. got his start after buying the pecan company where he had worked for many years. Wheeler “Tim” Timbs, III, the current president of Indianola Pecan House, has expanded the company’s product lines, introducing new flavors and co-branding products through partnerships with Jack Daniel’s and Mossy Oak.

Furniture executive Hassell H. Franklin founded his company in 1970 with just 32 employees. As CEO of Houston-based Franklin Corporation, Hassell has led his company to become one of America’s largest privately-owned furniture manufacturers, employing more than 1,300 employees. His son Mark now serves as COO.

Success has been sweet for Madison’s Peter DeBeukelaer, a third-generation chocolatier whose grandfather founded Belgium’s first biscuit and wafer company in 1860. Peter moved his family from Belgium to Madison in 1984 and now carries on the family tradition with his creation, the Pirouline—the first rolled-wafer cookie of its kind and the only rolled wafer made in the U.S. The DeBeukelaer Baking Company distributes its cookies to loyal customers worldwide.

Tommy Gary and his Wildwood Gin are continuing Mississippi's long tradition of agricultural innovations. When Gary shut down his family's cotton gin and moved, instead, into the waste cotton processing business, few appreciated the wisdom of his decision. Now, 25 years later, Gary and his son Lawson are pioneering new techniques to clean and process the cotton by-product "mote," which is in demand for a variety of 100%-cotton absorbent products such as disposable wipes.

Jimmy Sanders, Inc. was founded in 1953 by the company's namesake and the father of Mike Sanders, who now leads the growing enterprise. Headquartered in Cleveland, the company has burgeoned into one of the top-five agricultural supply distributors in the Mid-South, serving growers through 70 locations in eight states. The company's operations include agricultural chemical distribution, seed production and sales, bulk handling of fertilizer and precision agricultural services.

The history of Taylor Machine Works dates back to 1927 when founder W.A. Taylor, Sr. opened a small automotive and machine shop in Louisville. The company has grown over the years to become one of the United States' leading manufacturers of industrial forklift and material handling equipment.

Following the 2000 announcement of Nissan's assembly plant in Canton, William "Bill" Cooley and his daughter Toni forged a relationship with the automaker which led to the creation of Systems Electro Coating. Their company applies an anti-corrosion primer to sheet-metal components and parts and is one of the largest non-OEM operations of its kind. In 2011, Toni launched Systems Automotive Interiors to assemble seats for Toyota's new Blue Springs assembly plant.

Hol-Mac Corporation, based in Bay Springs, serves Original Equipment Manufacturers as a major supplier of steel fabrications, hydraulic cylinders and hydraulic fuel tanks. The company also manufactures three proprietary products: Pac-Mac Refuse Equipment, Hammerhead Off-Road Armor and BenchMark Tanks. Founded in 1963 by Charles B. Holder Jr., Hol-Mac is now managed by his sons, with Jamie serving as President and COO. A strong advocate of manufacturing careers, Charles Holder hosts "Tinker's Camp" for youth in Jasper County and the surrounding area, and also participates in a number of initiatives to promote technical skills training throughout Mississippi.

For Joe Frank Sanderson, Jr., success is a family affair. His grandfather D.R. Sanderson operated a Hazlehurst farm supply store in the 1940s and later expanded into the poultry business, bringing in his sons to assist. Today, Laurel-based Sanderson Farms is the third-largest poultry producer in the United States, employing more than 11,000 people, with annual sales of more than $2 billion.

Headquartered in Philadelphia since its incorporation in 1964, Yates has offices in eight states and in Mexico. One of the most vertically integrative and innovative construction firms in the U.S., Yates serves the commercial and industrial construction industries and provides services which include Construction Management, Design-Build, General Construction, Operations and Maintenance, Preconstruction, Program Management, Environmental, Disaster Response and Engineering/Construction/Construction Management.

Another successful construction company, Jackson-based Garrett Enterprises Consolidated, was founded in 1979 by Socrates Garrett, a former salesman with Xerox. Garret's company provides a broad range of services, including professional consulting and contracting services throughout the southeast United States. In 1993, Garrett founded the Mississippi Link, a weekly newspaper publishing stories of particular interest to the African-American community in Mississippi.

M.G. Dyess, Inc. was founded in 1992 to serve the nation's growing energy industry. Under the leadership of Glynn, Mike, Ricky, and Grant Dyess, the Bassfield-based company has grown to become a leader in the underground pipeline construction business.

B&P Enterprises was founded more than 34 years ago in Walls. Under the leadership of Bruce Prewett and his sons Josh and Kendall, B&P has become one of the Southeast's leading companies for disaster-related clean-up, recovery and response. The company specializes in environmental remediation, hazardous materials emergency response, derailment services, and transport and delivery.

Hattiesburg-based Warren Paving provides vital infrastructure-building services, producing more than a half-million tons of asphalt each year for heavy highway building, airport construction and high-tech site work construction. Warren operates asphalt facilities in Hattiesburg and Gulfport and the company has opened a limestone quarry in Kentucky which ships limestone aggregate via barge to the company's Gulfport facility and other customers. The company is now led by Lawrence Warren and his son Steven.

Gulfport entrepreneurs Rick Carter and Terry Green opened their Island View Casino Resort just one year after their first casino venture, Copa Casino, was destroyed by Hurricane Katrina. Carter and Green purchased the Grand Casino Gulfport property from Harrah's and rebuilt their new 563-room hotel and casino on the property. The Island View, which remains Gulfport's only casino, has since expanded to offer a new 18-hole championship golf course and state-of-the-art gaming systems.

Former Mississippi Secretary of State Dick Molpus began his career at his family's business, Molpus Lumber Company. After completing his third term as Mississippi's Secretary of State in 1996, he founded Molpus Woodlands Group, a timberland investment management organization. The company currently manages approximately 1.5 million acres throughout 17 states on behalf of its clients. Molpus is the founding chairman of the United States Endowment for Forestry and Communities and is a 2005 inductee into the Mississippi Business Hall of Fame.

Golding Barge Company was founded in 1995 by Steve Golding, a tank-barge industry veteran who began his river career at the age of 15. The Golding family heritage in the barge business extends back almost 50 years to their previous company Ole Man River Towing. Golding's Vicksburg-based company specializes in the transportation of refined petroleum products, petrochemicals, chemical products and crude oil throughout the entire U.S. inland waterway system. The next generation has now entered into the inland barge business with the addition of Steve's sons, Austin and John Reid, to the business.

More than 80 years ago, Jack Dunlap of Batesville opened up a Chevrolet dealership and later sold International Harvester tractors before finding success in the tire business. Together with his son Robert, who joined the business in 1954, the Dunlaps turned their homegrown business into one of Mississippi's largest and most successful companies. The Batesville-based company now operates wholesale operations known as Dunlap & Kyle Company, Hesselbein Tire Company, and Gateway Tire Company. All retail operations are Gateway Tire & Service Centers in Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and Ohio.

In 1944, Hosea Luter operated a plumbing and electrical store out of his home before moving to a new location to focus on kitchen and bath product lines. Years later, his son Emmette had the vision to create a kitchen and bath showroom impressive enough to attract customers from far outside their small rural community of Tylertown. Now CEO, Emmette Luter and his sons Chad and Max market the company as the world's largest single-location walk-in bath and Jacuzzi® brand dealer.

Emmerich Newspapers, Inc. was founded by John Oliver Emmerich, Sr. of McComb more than 90 years ago. Now under the leadership of the founder's grandson Wyatt Emmerich, the company has grown and prospered by focusing on great writing and superior local coverage. Emmerich currently publishes 25 community newspapers, most in Mississippi, with related community websites and magazines.

Former banking executive Jill Beneke founded her company PILEUM Corporation in 2002. Based in Jackson, the company offers management consulting and information technology services to clients in a broad range of business sectors. The company recently opened a location in Knoxville, enhancing its ability to provide services throughout Mississippi, Tennessee and Alabama markets.

Providing high-quality health care to rural locations is a priority for Joe McNulty and his Pioneer Health Services. McNulty founded the Magee-based company in 1996 after working as a respiratory therapist and later owning, managing and leasing health care companies and hospitals. Pioneer now owns, operates and manages eight rural critical access hospitals in the Southeast and also provides specialized management services to many other medical facilities throughout the United States.

Dr. Aaron Shirley is a nationally acclaimed health care pioneer, becoming the first African-American resident at the University Medical Center in 1965. Three decades later, he set out to convert Mississippi's first retail mall into a state-of-the-art ambulatory health care facility. The Jackson Medical Mall – Thad Cochran Center now provides high levels of care for under-served populations in Jackson and is restoring economic vitality to the community. Dr. Shirley was honored for his leadership in 1993 as a recipient of a "Genius Grant" from the MacArthur Fellows Program.

Mississippi has made job creation a priority by attracting new employers to the State and helping existing businesses expand their workforce. Our efforts are clearly paying off, judging by the billions of dollars companies are investing in our State and the thousands of high-value jobs that have resulted.

Global businesses and consultants are taking notice. In fact, our job creation efforts garnered Mississippi a Silver Shovel Award from the respected site planning publication Area Development, in recognition of our innovative policies, infrastructure improvements, processes and promotions to attract new businesses, and investments in new and expanded facilities.

MANUFACTURING

Automotive

With Toyota joining Nissan as the State's second major vehicle manufacturer, auto manufacturing is in high gear in Mississippi. Toyota's Blue Springs facility is the company's newest and most innovative assembly plant in the world. Opened in 2011, the $800 million plant builds Corollas and employs 2,000 people. The 100,000th Corolla rolled off the assembly line in October 2012, less than one year after production began.

In 2013, Nissan is strengthening its investment in Mississippi by adding three new vehicles, made only at its Canton assembly plant. The addition of new assembly lines for the Frontier pickup, Xterra SUV and Sentra brings the Canton plant's total employment to 4,500. With the company shifting a greater share of its production from Japan to America, Nissan projects 85% of Nissan vehicles sold in the United States will be manufactured in North America by 2015.

Aviation and Aerospace

Aerospace manufacturing is on the rise in Mississippi, particularly in Columbus where three major facilities are located at the GTR Global Industrial Aerospace Park. Stark Aerospace, a subsidiary of Israel's IAI North America, manufactures tactical unmanned aerial systems (UAS) used in U.S. military and counter-narcotics operations. Aurora Flight Sciences fabricates composite aerostructures and major subassemblies for unmanned aerial systems. American Eurocopter, the American subsidiary of the world's leading helicopter manufacturer, produces helicopters for the U.S. Army, National Guard and various civilian applications.

In Batesville, GE Aviation manufactures advanced composite components for jet engines and aircraft systems. The company, which is the world's leading producer of large and small jet engines for commercial and military aircraft, has announced plans to expand their operations with a second plant in Ellisville.

From their Marion County plant, Pioneer Aerospace manufactures state-of-the-art aerodynamic deceleration systems. The company has produced recovery systems for numerous NASA missions, parafoils for the International Space Station, and also parachutes for troops and cargo.

Steel Production and Metal Fabrication

A growing manufacturing industry demands affordable, high-quality steel. To meet the demand, Severstal came to Mississippi from Russia to open the first new U.S. steel mill in more than a decade. Severstal North America's Columbus facility is one of the most advanced mini-mill steel production facilities in the world. The facility recently completed a $550 million expansion, doubling annual steel production capacity to meet increased demand.

A number of American manufacturing and fabricating companies have also chosen Mississippi. Olin Corporation recently relocated its Winchester Centerfire ammunition plant from Illinois to Oxford. Steel fabricator Dennen Steel of Grand Rapids, Michigan, opened a new facility in Iuka. The Cincinnati company Enerfab is preparing a site in Natchez to produce fabricated steel plate products for industry.

TRADITIONAL AND ALTERNATIVE ENERGY

Ensuring an affordable supply of energy has become an increased national priority, and Mississippi is seeing considerable success in both the traditional and renewable energy sectors.

Denbury Resources came to Mississippi to tap into one of the nation's largest known carbon dioxide reserves, the Jackson Dome Complex. The company uses the gas as part of an innovative method to recover additional oil from depleted or near-depleted oil wells. The CO_2 is transported through underground pipelines to mature oil fields, where the gas is pumped into wells to recover oil that would otherwise be left underground. The carbon dioxide is then recovered and sequestered underground to prevent release into the atmosphere.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Mississippi has the sixth-largest amount of biomass in the nation, largely due to our sizeable forestry industry.

In Pascagoula, Chevron is constructing a new $1.4 billion base oil facility capable of producing 25,000 barrels per day of base oil, the main ingredient in premium motor oils. The project is on schedule to go online in 2013.

Also in Pascagoula, Gulf LNG Energy recently opened a new $1.1 billion terminal. The facility stores liquefied natural gas and distributes its gas form through pipelines to users, typically in the power generation industry. Natural gas is also stored in Mississippi salt domes by Louisiana-based D'Lo Gas Storage and the Texas-based companies PAA Natural Gas Storage LP and SGR Holdings.

Interest in green energy solutions has never been greater, and energy companies are investing in Mississippi at a record pace. There are more than 50 biomass-related, 32 solar and 82 energy efficiency projects in the State, according to the Mississippi Technology Alliance.

The Texas-based energy company KiOR has developed a process for manufacturing gasoline, diesel and fuel oil from a renewable resource—woody biomass, primarily from yellow pine. The company has gained EPA registration for its cellulosic gasoline product, which the company intends to market as an alternative to petroleum-based gasolines. KiOR entered the startup phase of production at its Columbus facility and began shipping product in 2012.

Two solar energy companies are now manufacturing solar panels and components in Mississippi. Stion, a San Jose-based company, opened a new factory in Hattiesburg, the first thin-film solar factory in the southeastern United States. Stion expects to create more than 1,000 jobs and make $500 million in investments over the next six years. The second firm, Twin Creeks Technology, has opened its first full-scale manufacturing facility in Senatobia. The plant will produce 100 megawatts of crystalline silicon solar panels annually when it reaches full capacity.

LOGISTICS AND DISTRIBUTION

Mississippi's favorable business climate has made our State even more attractive to global businesses who are setting up new logistics and distribution centers in Mississippi in rapid succession.

The trend towards Mississippi began with the launch of the FedEx Ground distribution center in Olive Branch. As the world's largest express transportation company, FedEx processes an average 3.7 million packages every day at the center. Many other global companies soon followed.

Olive Branch landed distribution centers from two Fortune 20 health care companies: McKesson Corporation, the world's largest pharmaceutical company and the 15th largest company in the U.S., as well as Cardinal Health, a global pharmaceuticals distributor and manufacturer of medical and surgical products. Olive Branch is home to Anda Distribution, a Florida-based distributor of generic pharmaceuticals, and Hamilton Beach, which relocated its distribution center from Memphis, signing a record-setting 10-year lease for 1.2 million square feet.

Southaven also saw its share of site wins with the announcements of a number of new distribution centers, including a $2 million investment from Kimberly-Clark and a $1.5 million center from the electronics distributor, WPG Americas.

OUR BEST DAYS ARE AHEAD

More and more, people around the world are realizing the unique benefits of working and living in Mississippi. Certainly, we have been blessed with beautiful scenery—sugar-white Gulf Coast beaches, rolling hill country, breathtaking river vistas and endless acres of forestland.

But our State offers much more than scenic beauty. The spirit of our people makes our State truly great. We have forged together through the challenges of the past, and we are seizing the opportunities which lie ahead.

Mississippi is a racially and ethnically diverse state, and all of our citizens share in the State's future success. We have the highest percentage of African Americans elected to public office. People of Hispanic decent are finding success in Mississippi, as well. Hispanic buying power in Mississippi has increased 206% over the past decade. Native American buying power increased 111% over the same period.

We are united in our support for the men and women who serve in our country's armed forces. Our State is home to four federal military bases, two Army National Guard installations, three Air National Guard units and 85 National Guard Readiness Centers. Our State's military operations create thousands of direct and indirect jobs and their economic impact generates an estimated $2.5 billion each year.

Old Biloxi Lighthouse

We are a faithful people, charitable by nature. Our State has the highest rate of church attendance in the nation. According to the Pew Forum on Religion and Public Life, 60% of Mississippians attend church at least once a week, and 82% of Mississippians identify religion as being very important in their lives. Our State ranks second in the nation for charitable giving, with the average Mississippi household donating 7.2 percent of discretionary income to charity.

Mississippians know how to face the toughest challenges with grace and a shared determination to succeed. We have the desire and we have the ability. The future is ours to claim.

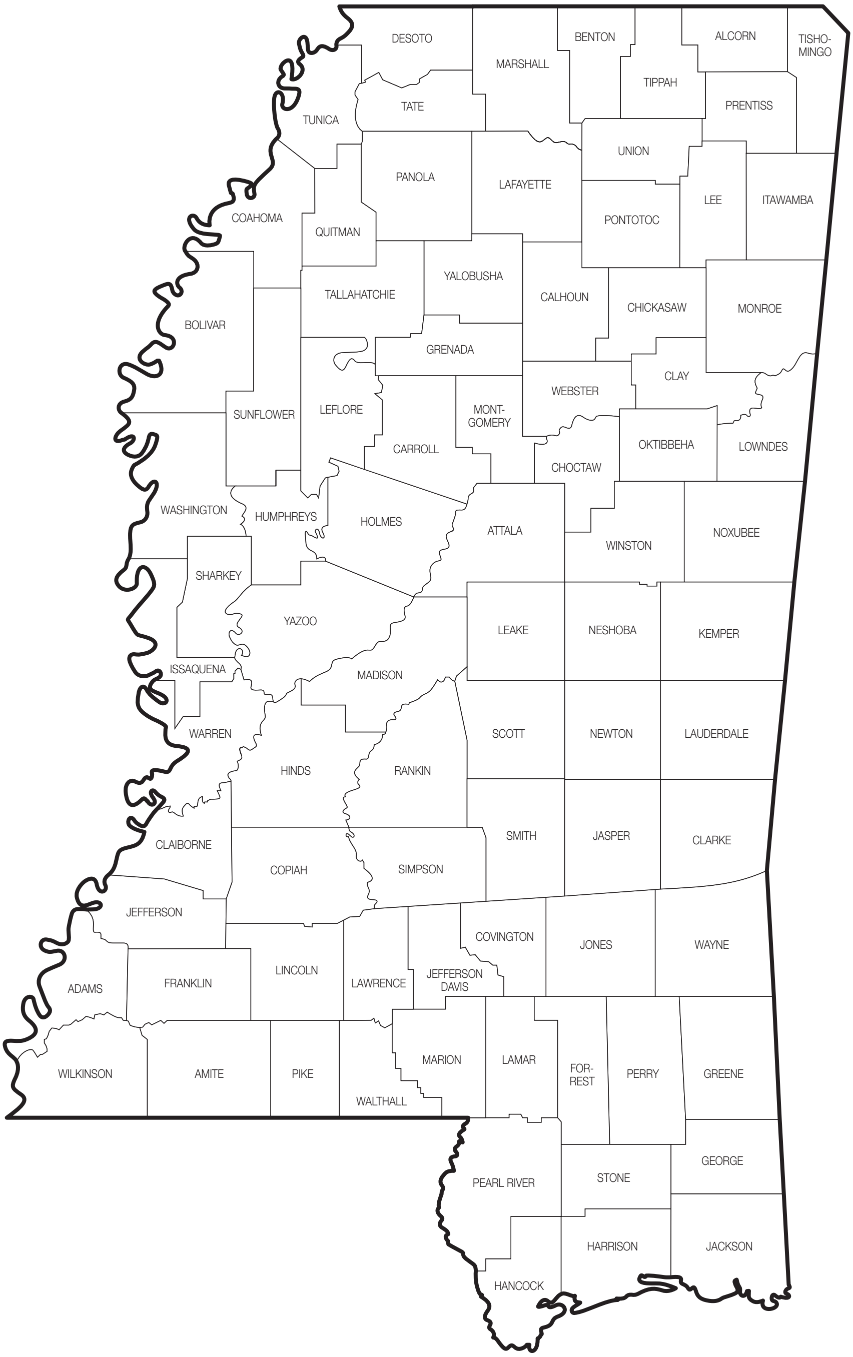
STATE OF MISSISSIPPI



MISSISSIPPI

Established December 10, 1817, Mississippi is the 20th state admitted to the Union. David Holmes was chosen as the first governor of the state. Nicknamed both “The Magnolia State” and “The Hospitality State,” Mississippi took its name from the Mississippi River derived from the Indian word misi-ziibi, meaning Great River or Father of Waters.

With a 2012 estimated population of almost 3 million and a land mass of 48,430 square miles, Mississippi is the 32nd most extensive and the 31st most populous of the 50 states. The state’s density is 63.5 persons per square mile. Mississippi is heavily forested, with more than half of the state’s area covered by wild trees, including pine, cottonwood, elm, hickory, oak, pecan, sweetgum and tupelo.

The State of Mississippi is entirely composed of lowlands, the highest point being Woodall Mountain in the northeastern corner of the state at the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains, situated at 806 feet above sea level. The lowest point is sea level at the Gulf Coast. The mean elevation in the state is 300 feet above sea level.

Mississippi has a humid subtropical climate with long summers and short, mild winters. Temperatures average about 91°F in July and about 48 °F in January. Summers are long making it possible to grow crops from March through October. The average rainfall is 52 inches, with fall being the driest season.

Descendant Native American tribes include the Chickasaw and Choctaw. Other tribes who inhabited the territory of Mississippi and whose names were adopted by local towns include the Natchez, the Yazoo and the Biloxi.

The first major European expedition into the territory that would become Mississippi was led by Hernando de Soto, who passed through in 1540. The French, in April 1699, established the first European settlement at Fort Maurepas (also known as Old Biloxi), built at Ocean Springs and settled by Pierre Le Moyne d’Iberville. In 1716, the French founded Natchez on the Mississippi River as Fort Rosalie; it became the dominant town and trading post of the area. The French called the greater territory “New Louisiana” and the Spanish government continued to claim the Gulf Coast as its property.

Through the next decades, the area was ruled by Spanish, British and French colonial governments.

The constitution under which Mississippi is currently governed was written and adopted in 1890. It establishes a governmental structure closely patterned after the federal system with three separate divisions: the executive, legislative and judicial. Each division of government operates under a system of checks and balances designed to keep any one branch from assuming more authority than the Constitution of 1890 intended. Under the three branches, additional boards, agencies and public offices or departments have been created to deliver government services. The vast majority of these independent agencies, boards and commissions do not report directly to any elected statewide official but are overseen by boards appointed to limited terms by various officials.

Mississippi is one of five states which elects its state officials in odd-numbered years. Mississippi holds elections for the top statewide offices as well as members of the State Houe of Representatives and Senate every four years, always in the year preceding federal Presidential elections. On a local level, county and municipal governments are also established according to Mississippi law.

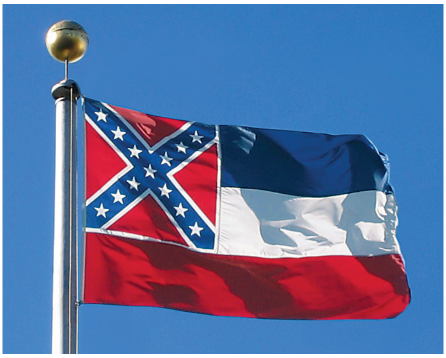
MISSISSIPPI STATE SYMBOLS



MISSISSIPPI'S STATE FLAG

By majority vote on April 17, 2001, the citizens of Mississippi adopted the following as Section 3-3-16 of the Mississippi Code: "The official flag of the State of Mississippi shall have the following design: with width two-thirds (2/3) of its length; with the union (canton) to be square, in width two-thirds (2/3) of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltire thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of the original States of the Union; the field to be divided into three (3) bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one, extending the whole length of the flag, red (the national colors); this being the flag adopted by the Mississippi Legislature in the 1894 Special Session."

Although the 1894 Mississippi Legislature had adopted the flag described above, during the 1906 revision of the Mississippi State Code, the law designating an official state flag was not brought forward. On May 4, 2000, the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that Mississippi did not have an official state flag. The election to select the official state flag was the recommendation of a 17-member commission appointed to study the issue by Governor Ronnie Musgrove. The 2001 Legislature passed a law setting the date for the special election. Voters chose between two designs.

The state flag may be displayed from all public buildings from sunrise to sunset; however, the state flag may be displayed from all public buildings twenty-four (24) hours a day if properly illuminated. The state flag should not be displayed when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed. The state flag shall receive all of the respect and ceremonious etiquette given the American flag. Provided, however, nothing in this section shall be construed so as to affect the precedence given to the flag of the United States of America. Miss. Code Ann. § 3-3-15 (1972).

PLEDGE TO THE MISSISSIPPI FLAG

> "I salute the flag of Mississippi and > the sovereign state for which it > stands with pride in her history and > achievements and with confidence > in her future under the guidance of > Almighty God."

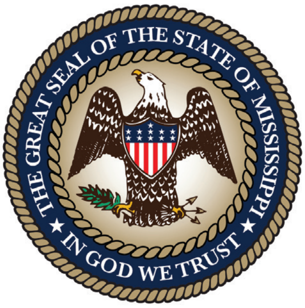
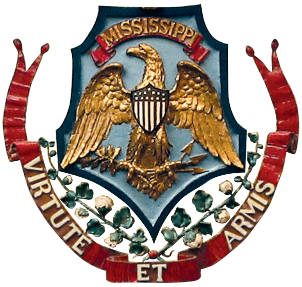
Miss. Code Ann. § 37-13-7 (1972)



THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

The State Seal has been in use since Mississippi became a state in 1817. It is described in the Laws of the State of Mississippi, First Session, First General Assembly, 1817-1818: "The seal of this state, the inscription of which shall be 'the great seal of the state of Mississippi' around the margin, and in the center an eagle, with the olive branch and quiver of arrows in his claws." The Great Seal was amended by an act of the 2014 Legislature to include the words "In God We Trust."



MISSISSIPPI'S COAT-OF-ARMS

On February 7, 2001, Governor Ronnie Musgrove signed into law Senate Bill No. 2285 designating the above design as the official Mississippi Coat-of-Arms:

> "… a shield, blue in color, with an eagle upon it with extended pinions, holding in the right talon a palm branch and bundle of arrows in the left, with the word 'Mississippi' above the eagle; the lettering on the shield and the eagle to be in gold; below the shield two (2) branches of the cotton stalk, saltier wise, and a scroll below extending upward and on each side three-fourths (3/4) of the length of the shield; upon the scroll, which is to be red, the motto to be printed in gold letters upon white spaces, the motto to be 'Virtute et Armis'; this being the same Coat-of-Arms adopted by the Legislature in Chapter 37, Laws of the Extraordinary Session of 1894."

This design was declared the official state Coat-of-Arms by the 1894 Legislature, but the original law was not brought forward in the 1906 revision of the Mississippi Code. The Mississippi Supreme Court ruled in May 2000 that Mississippi did not have an official Coat-of-Arms. A 17-member commission appointed by Governor Ronnie Musgrove to study the issue recommended to the Legislature the re-adoption of the Coat-of-Arms.

STATE LANGUAGE

English was designated the official language of the State in Chapter 439, General Laws of Mississippi 1987.

STATE FLOWER AND TREE

An election was held in November 1900 to select a State Flower. Votes were submitted by 23,278 school children. The magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171, and the cape jasmine 2,484. A few votes were for other flowers. The magnolia was officially designated as the State Flower by the 1952 Legislature. In 1935, the Director of Forestry started a movement to select a State Tree for Mississippi. The tree was to be nominated and elected by school children of the state.

Four nominations were made: the magnolia, oak, pine, and dogwood. The magnolia received the majority. On April 1, 1938, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated the magnolia as the State Tree in Chapter 365, Laws of Mississippi 1938.

STATE SOIL

Natchez Silt Loam (Typic Eutrudepts) was designated the State Soil of Mississippi in Chapter 360, General Laws of 2002.

STATE DANCE

The square dance was adopted as the American folk dance of Mississippi, Chapter 303, General Laws of Mississippi 1995.

STATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The Grand Opera House of Meridian was designated the State Grand Opera House in Chapter 313, General Laws of Mississippi 1993.

STATE MUSEUMS

The Mississippi Code Ann. (1972) also identifies Tupelo Automobile Museum as the State Automobile Museum and the Mississippi Industrial Heritage Museum as the State Historical Industrial Museum.

OTHER OFFICIAL DESIGNATIONS

1. STATE BIRD

Found in all sections of Mississippi, the Mockingbird was selected as the official State Bird by the Women's Federated Clubs and by the State Legislature in 1944.

2. STATE REPTILE

The American Alligator (Alligator mississippiensis) was designated the State Reptile by Senate Bill 2060 which was adopted by the Mississippi Legislature during the 2005 Regular Session.

3. STATE WATER MAMMAL

4. STATE FISH

The largemouth or black bass (Micropterus salmoides) was designated the State Fish of Mississippi, Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

5 AND 6. STATE LAND MAMMALS

The white-tailed deer (Odocoileus virginianus) was designated the State Land Mammal of Mississippi by Senate Bill No. 2324, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974. The Red Fox was also named State Land Mammal in the 1997 Legislative Session.

7. STATE WILDFLOWER

The Coreopsis was designated the State Wildflower in 1991, Chapter 332 of the General Laws of Mississippi.

8. STATE BUTTERFLY

An act designating the spicebush swallowtail (Pterourus troilus) as the State Butterfly of Mississippi was approved in 1991 as Chapter 315, General Laws of Mississippi of 1991.

9. STATE INSECT

The honeybee (Apis mellifera) was designated the State Insect of Mississippi in Chapter 317, General Laws of Mississippi of 1980.

10. STATE FOSSIL

A Senate Concurrent Resolution designating the pre-historic whale as the State Fossil was adopted March 26, 1981.

11. STATE STONE

A Senate Concurrent Resolution designating petrified wood as the State Stone was adopted April 14, 1976.

12. STATE WATERFOWL

The wood duck (Aix sponsa) was designated the State Waterfowl of Mississippi in Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

13. STATE SHELL

An act designating the oyster shell (Crassostrea virginica) as the State Shell was approved April 12, 1974, as Chapter 551, General Laws of Mississippi of 1974.

14. STATE BEVERAGE

An act to designate milk as the State Beverage was adopted by the Mississippi Legislature during the 1984 Regular Session, in Chapter 394, General Laws of Mississippi 1984.

15. STATE TOY

The Teddy Bear is designated the state toy of Mississippi, in recognition of the Mississippi connection to the origin of the Teddy Bear inspired by President Theodore Roosevelt's bear hunt in the Delta, in Chapter 834, General Laws of Mississippi 2003.

STATE SONG – "GO, MISSISSIPPI"

Words and music by Houston Davis

The Jackson Board of Realtors undertook the task of finding a satisfactory song to represent the State of Mississippi. They selected through an advisory committee a song entitled, "Go, Mississippi" by Houston Davis. On May 17, 1962, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated "Go, Mississippi" as the official song of the State of Mississippi. General Laws of Mississippi of 1962, Chapter 654.

STATE MOTTO

"Virtute et armis"—A Latin phrase which translates "By Valor and Arms"—has not been adopted by the Legislature as an official motto as such, but has appeared on the State Coat-of-Arms since 1894. It was suggested by James Rhea Preston, a former Mississippi Superintendent of Education.

The Mississippi motto supposedly has its roots and inspiration from another motto created by Lord Gray de Wilton "Virtute Non Armis Fido" which means "I trust in virtue not arms."

Governor
PHIL BRYANT

Known for strong integrity and commitment to an accountable government, Phil Bryant was sworn in Mississippi's 64th governor on January 10, 2012. He was elected in November 2011 after capturing 62 percent of the vote.

In his Inaugural Address, Bryant outlined his vision for Mississippians to "rise together" through economic expansion, efficiency in government and adherence to values that make Mississippi great.

The close of the 2012 legislative session saw many of the measures Bryant introduced in his first State of the State Address become law, including key components of his Mississippi Works agenda. Strong, pro-job measures like the Health Care Industry Zone Act, the Small Business Regulatory Flexibility Act and Dual credit-Dual Enrollment are creating a solid foundation for Mississippi's success and economic vitality.

Bryant's commitment to economic development has led to the announcement of nearly 2,700 new jobs in 2012 and more than 1,100 new jobs to date in 2013.

Understanding the critical importance of education to Mississippi's future success and stability, Bryant committed the 2013 legislative session to improving public education in Mississippi. On April 17, 2013, Bryant signed into law the transformational, student-centered reforms outlined in his "Education Works" agenda.

Research proves that student outcomes are tied to teacher quality. Bryant's measures increase standards for entry into university teaching programs, create scholarships to attract the best and brightest teachers to public school classrooms and reward top-performing teachers with increased compensation through a four-district pilot program.

Bryant's "Third Grade Gate" literacy improvement efforts also target Mississippi's lagging literacy achievement by combing new reading instruction resources for K-3 teachers with a policy to end social promotion of third graders who are not reading on grade level.

Bryant's "Education Works" agenda also provides school choice for families by allowing public charter schools in struggling school districts, and it directs additional resources to early childhood development efforts and dropout prevention programs.

Bryant also continues to focus on expanding Mississippi's energy and health care industries and was recently named chairman of the Southern States Energy Board. He has issued comprehensive reports that detail growth strategies for expanding both energy and health care development opportunities in Mississippi, and thanks to his leadership, the Legislature has approved an expansion of the University of Mississippi School of Medicine—a move that will help reach Bryant's goal of training 1,000 new physicians to serve Mississippi by 2025.

Prior to becoming governor, Bryant served one term as Mississippi's 37th lieutenant governor, after earning 59 percent of the vote in November 2007. He also served Mississippi as state auditor and represented his legislative district in the Mississippi House of Representatives for five years.

As lieutenant governor, Bryant continued his long-standing mission to ensure accountability in state government. In his first week of office, Bryant proposed web casting of the Senate proceedings, so taxpayers could see their government in action and hold their elected officials accountable. He also led the fight to pass the most comprehensive ethics reform in nearly 25 years.

Bryant earned his reputation for integrity and fairness during his term as state auditor, where he recovered more than $12 million in taxpayers' dollars that were embezzled or improperly spent. He was first appointed to that position by former Governor Kirk Fordice in 1996, won re-election by a vast majority in 1999 and was re-elected in 2003, winning 81 out of 82 counties.

Bryant has a long history of fighting for conservative beliefs like lower taxes and traditional values. During his service in the Mississippi House of Representatives, he served as vice chairman of the Insurance Committee and authored the Capital Gains Tax Cut Act of 1994. As a freshman legislator, he also began a five-year struggle to end the marriage penalty in Mississippi's tax code.

Bryant, the son of a diesel mechanic and a mother who stayed home with her three boys, learned early the values of hard work and the importance of education. The Moorhead native and former deputy sheriff earned an associate degree in criminal justice from Hinds Community College and completed his bachelor's at the University of Southern Mississippi. He holds a master's degree in political science from Mississippi College where he also served as an adjunct professor of government.

Bryant is the contributing author of three books: 21st Century Government—Digital Promise, Digital Reality and Leadership Secrets of Government Financial Officials (the fourth and fifth volumes of a leadership series with an emphasis on financial management, human resources, technology, and auditing) and Best Case Practices.

Bryant is an avid hunter and outdoorsman. He is a staunch supporter of the Second Amendment and is a longtime member of the National Rifle Association.

Bryant's dedication to his work is evident through his years of public service, but his faith and family have always come first. Bryant and his wife Deborah have two children Patrick Bryant and Katie Bryant Snell, and are active members of St. Marks United Methodist Church.

Duties: The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the state, charged with executive direction and supervision of the general administration of the State. In this capacity, he or she sees that the laws are faithfully executed, supervises the official conduct of executive officers, acts as commander-in-chief of the state militia, and appoints officials as prescribed by law.

The Governor is responsible for the presentation of a balanced budget to the Legislature and approval or veto of legislation passed by the Legislature. He or she may call extraordinary sessions of the Legislature when he or she deems it necessary, and may issue pardons, executive orders, and extraditions of fugitives from other states.

The office provides staff assistance and liaison in all areas of state government administration and researches agency programs and policies.

A number of officers are appointed by the Governor. Among these are the Adjutant General, the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the chief executive officers of the departments of Banking and Consumer Finance, Mississippi Development Authority, Environmental Quality, and the State Tax Commission. The Governor also appoints members to numerous executive and administrative boards and commissions who, in turn, appoint executive officers to the departments they lead. Some of these departments are Finance and Administration, Health, Corrections, Education, and the State Personnel Board.

The Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 116-125. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Lieutenant Governor

TATE REEVES

Elected in 2011 as Mississippi's Lieutenant Governor, Tate Reeves stands ready to help guide the state toward a brighter future through a focus on improving educational achievement for students, supporting the creation of high-skilled jobs and responsibly managing the taxpayers' money.

Reeves, a Republican, led the 52-member Senate in a successful 2012 legislative session with a focus on keeping government spending under control, reforming education and making Mississippi a better place to raise a family.

Mississippi will have a balanced budget for Fiscal Year 2013 that spends more on education and adequately funds other priorities for the fiscal year that begins in July. One of Reeves' priorities, setting aside 2 percent of state funds for a "rainy day," was adopted to provide a cushion in the current economic climate. The budget increased spending for education programs and controlled spending with a moratorium on state vehicle purchases.

Mississippi increased education spending and enacted reforms to save money and clearly communicate school performance. In an effort to make school district ratings more transparent, the Legislature changed the grading system to A, B, C, D, and F. The simplified grading terminology will clarify district performance for parents. Also, school district administrative functions were consolidated in both Sunflower and Bolivar counties, saving taxpayers more than $3 million.

The Legislature approved several measures to make Mississippi an even better place to do business. Reeves believes government should create an environment to encourage the private sector to create more jobs. The Legislature laid the groundwork by allowing businesses to claim a tax credit on inventory held in the state, which will encourage companies to invest more capital in creating jobs. The state's workers' compensation law also was reformed to ensure a more fair and impartial relationship between the worker and employer with provisions to better define the employee's choice of physician, implement stronger measures against workplace drug and alcohol use and increased certain benefits.

Several measures to make Mississippi a safe place to raise a family were adopted in the legislative session. Legislators worked with law enforcement and social services experts to enact new laws that would build a foundation for a better Mississippi. The Child Protection Act requires health care professionals, members of the clergy, educators, child care providers and law enforcement to report cases of suspected child abuse. Also, the Legislature took steps to end abortion in Mississippi by requiring doctors performing abortion to have admitting privileges at a local hospital. This measure not only protects the health of the mother but should close the only abortion clinic in Mississippi.

Previously, Reeves was elected as Mississippi's 53rd Treasurer in 2003 and re-elected to a second term four years later with 61 percent of the vote, the highest percentage of any candidate running for statewide office. He was the first Republican treasurer in the state's history. Reeves is a Rankin County native and a graduate of Florence High School. He is an honors graduate of Millsaps College and holds a bachelor's degree in economics. While at Millsaps, he played point guard for the Millsaps Majors basketball team. Reeves has continued to be an active alumnus and remains involved with his alma mater by serving as a member of the investment policy board for the Millsaps College General Louis Wilson Fund and a member the Advisory Committee of the Else School of Management.

Reeves holds the Chartered Financial Analyst designation (CFA) and is a member of the CFA Society of Mississippi and the CFA Institute, an organization that leads the investment industry by setting the highest standards of ethics and professional excellence. In 1996, he was the recipient of the Mississippi Society of Financial Analysts Award.

Reeves served as president of the National Association of State Treasurers (NAST) for 2006-2007. He was very active in the association where he currently served as a member and former chairman of the Long Range Planning Committee and was a member of the Federal Legislative Committee. His service to the organization also includes previous membership on the NAST Executive Committee. Additionally, Reeves represented the State of Mississippi as a member of the Executive Board of the College Savings Plans Network. He served on the Board of Trustees for the Public Employees' Retirement System of Mississippi, as well as the Chairman of the Board of Directors of College Savings Plans of Mississippi and the Mississippi Health Care Trust Fund.

In 2007, Reeves was named as one of 42 national "Rising Star(s) in the Republican Party" by Rising Tide magazine—the publication of the Republican National Committee. Also in 2008, Reeves was elected by his peers to serve as President of the Mississippi Republican Elected Officials Association. Also in December 2008, he was selected by the Aspen Institute's Rodel Fellowships in Public Leadership as one of their "Top Young Elected Officials" to its Fourth Class of Aspen-Rodel Fellows. Reeves was recognized by his NAST peers as the recipient of the Jesse M. Unruh Award which recognized his outstanding service to the association, the profession and to his state.

Tate and his wife Elee Williams Reeves, a Tylertown native, are the proud parents of their three daughters, Sarah Tyler, Elizabeth Magee and Madeline Tate. The Reeves family attends Galloway Memorial United Methodist Church. They have been very committed to many civic and charitable organizations in Mississippi—including the Mississippi Society of Disabilities, UMC Children's Cancer Clinic, UMC MIND Center, Mississippi Museum of Art, Mississippi Children's Museum, Girl Scouts of Greater Mississippi, Boys & Girls Club of Mississippi, YMCA, United Way, Stewpot Ministries and the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra.

Duties: In addition to the Governor, the Mississippi Constitution makes provision for a Lieutenant Governor who acts as president of the state Senate. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, appoints standing committees of the Senate, appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate, and refers all bills. He or she serves as a member of the Senate Rules and Joint Legislative Budget Committees, votes only in cases of ties, speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions.

The Lieutenant Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 128-132, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 5-1-13, 5-1-43, and 5-1-47 (1972).

Secretary of State
DELBERT HOSEMANN

Recently elected to his second term in office, the Honorable Delbert Hosemann has served as Mississippi's Secretary of State since January 2008.

A true fiscal conservative, Secretary Hosemann trimmed more than $1.4 million per year from his annual budget since taking office by streamlining operations while emphasizing high quality service.

Committed to ensuring the integrity of your vote, Secretary Hosemann is committed to fair and honest elections in Mississippi. As chief elections officer for the State of Mississippi, Secretary Hosemann has led a crusade against those who would cast ballots illegally. For the first time, the Secretary of State's Office sends observers throughout the State during elections and issues a Report on Elections to the State Legislature and the public on their findings. These reports have provided critical public data for voter reform. Secretary Hosemann was also instrumental in the passage of a Constitutional voter identification requirement in the State and twice led the successful Legislative redistricting fight in the United States Supreme Court for the right of Mississippians to elect their leaders according to the State Constitution.

A military veteran of the United States Army Reserves, Secretary Hosemann's commitment to military voting was recognized by the U.S. Department of Defense, which invited him to join a delegation of Secretaries of State to remote areas of Iraq, Afghanistan and Kuwait to encourage the military voting process. Mississippi was the first state in the nation to allow online voting for our servicemen and women.

As a small business owner, Secretary Hosemann realizes the importance of economic development in our State. His goal is to make Mississippi the most business-friendly state in the nation. As part of his overall Business Reform Plan, Secretary Hosemann forms business reform study groups to revamp how Mississippi does business. These groups are composed of Mississippians from around the State, and their recommendations are drafted into meaningful legislation to promote economic development. Through various business reform proposals to the Legislature, Mississippi now has the leading Securities, Charities, and Limited Liability Company laws in the nation. Secretary Hosemann's landmark recommendation on trademark laws received global recognition by the International Trademark Association. The Secretary also drafted the nation's premier Athlete Agents Act which governs sports agents in Mississippi.

The Secretary of State also serves as State Land Commissioner. After taking office, Secretary Hosemann fulfilled a campaign promise to post all 16th Section leases on the Agency's website. This posting enabled school boards to make sound financial decisions when determining lease amounts and gave the public greater access to hunting public lands. Because of his commitment to reforming 16th Section land practices, revenue generated from these lands has increased by more than $30 million since Secretary Hosemann took office to more than $80 million dollars per year. This money goes directly back to the hands of Mississippi school children.

Funds generated from tidelands leases and assessments has also reached record amounts under Secretary Hosemann's leadership. In 2012, more than $9 million was generated to ensure public access to our Coastal areas. In addition, a $1 million donation was made to the State of Mississippi for the acquisition and preservation of tidelands. In 2013, Secretary Hosemann obtained funding from a coalition of state, federal and international sources to purchase more than 200 acres of Cat Island located off the Mississippi Coast. It will be maintained in its natural state for future generations.

The Secretary of State also successfully recovered more than $200 million for investors in a nationwide settlement agreement in a securities lawsuit initiated by the State of Mississippi. Because of his involvement in complex securities issues, Secretary Hosemann was asked by the National Association of Secretaries of State to Co-Chair the organization's Committee on Securities.

Secretary Hosemann was Chairman of the Board of Mississippi Blood Services, Treasurer of the Jackson Medical Mall Association and served on the Board of Directors for Jackson State University Development Foundation. He is a member of the North Jackson Rotary Club and was a Paul Harris Fellow. Some of his accolades include the George L. Phillips Community Service Award from the U.S. Department of Justice in appreciation for his distinguished service as Chairman of Project Safe Neighborhoods, and for his efforts in the Hurricane Katrina First Responder Assistance Project. He was also awarded the J. Tate Thigpen Award for exemplary leadership, support and commitment to the American Red Cross. Secretary Hosemann also served as Chairman of the Republican Secretaries of State Association.

In his spare time, Secretary Hosemann is an avid hunter and jogger. He is a life member of the National Rifle Association, and belongs to Delta Wildlife Foundation, Ducks Unlimited, and the Mississippi Wildlife Federation. He has completed both the New York Marathon and the Boston Marathon, represented Mississippi in the Senior Olympics, and completed every Mississippi Blues Half Marathon.

A Warren County native, Secretary Hosemann comes to the position with a background in Business and Taxation Law. He earned a bachelor's degree in business from Notre Dame University, a Juris Doctorate from the University of Mississippi School of Law, and a Masters of Laws in Taxation from New York University. He is a former partner of Phelps Dunbar, LLP and was selected to the Best Lawyers in America for 18 consecutive years.

Secretary Hosemann has been married to his wife Lynn for 42 years. They are extremely proud of their three children: Kristen, Chad and Mark; and grandchildren Grace, Nora Lynn, Carson and Charlie.

Duties: The Secretary of State directs a service and information agency with major statutory functions: administration of the Mississippi Corporation Law, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Uniform Securities Law, and the Elections Code; administration and supervision of the 16th Section School Trust Lands, the Tidelands Trust, lieu lands, and tax-forfeited property; and issuance of documents and publications of the state, including those for the executive and legislative branches; investigation of charity and securities fraud; enforcement of campaign finance and lobbyist reporting requirements. Issuing notary commissions, registering correspondence schools, administering the state's trademark and service mark laws, service of process, and administering the Administrative Procedures Act are other responsibilities. The Constitution also designates the Secretary of State as the "keeper of the capitol."

The Secretary of State is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5 §§ 133 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-3-1 et seq. (1972).

Attorney General
JIM HOOD

As Attorney General of Mississippi, Jim Hood is an aggressive prosecutor and dedicated public servant who is committed to protecting the citizens of our state and to making Mississippi a safer place to live. Attorney General Hood serves as Vice President of the National Association of Attorneys General, and he will take office in 2015 as President.

As a life-time advocate for crime victims, Attorney General Hood's new leadership role will help raise awareness and draw resources to serve and protect our most vulnerable citizens—children and the elderly.

Now serving a third term in office, Hood serves on the National Board of Directors for: The Jason Foundation, a youth suicide prevention program; The National Association of Model State Drug Laws; and as a Non-Regional Director for the National White Collar Crime Center (NW3C).

Hood is a passionate champion of children. He works tirelessly to prevent children from being abused and exploited, and to rescue those who have already fallen prey to those who do them harm. He founded the nation's leading Cyber Crime Unit and Fusion Center. Based in the Attorney General's office, the Cyber Crime Fusion Center is the hub from which state, federal, and local agencies investigate and prosecute internet predators who target children and vulnerable adults.

As a prosecutor, Hood tried more than 100 jury cases while serving as District Attorney. He successfully prosecuted several historic cases, including the prosecution and conviction of Edgar Ray Killen for the 1964 murders of three civil rights workers. As District Attorney, he also successfully prosecuted death penalty cases, including one which he originally won a conviction, and later, as Attorney General, argued and won an appeal of the case before the United States Supreme Court.

As Attorney General, Hood has established a Vulnerable Adults Unit, a Domestic Violence Unit, an Identity Theft Unit, and a Crime Prevention and Victims Services Division to better protect Mississippians. He has launched initiatives to prevent workplace and school violence, and stalking and domestic assault. Hood has developed and distributed numerous publications to assist and educate both consumers and other public service entities in areas such as cyber crime, consumer protection, domestic violence, victims assistance, election, and government law.

After Hurricane Katrina ravaged Mississippi, bringing with it unscrupulous opportunists who victimized citizens, Hood worked to strengthen laws to protect consumers, while ceaselessly prosecuting offenders cases of home repair fraud, price gouging, identity theft, and financial scams. He has recovered more than $600 million for Mississippi taxpayers from large corporate violators.

Hood has also placed emphasis on protecting the utility ratepayers of Mississippi by ensuring that public utilities that hold monopolies on power operate with the utmost transparency so that consumers are not overcharged. Attorney General Hood will continue to fight for better protection for children, senior citizens and consumers in Mississippi.

Hood spearheaded a national emphasis with other Attorneys General on hazardous counterfeit products, cyber initiatives, and child protective programs. In addition, Hood serves as Co-Chair of both the Intellectual Property and the Technology Issues Committees of the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG).

Hood received his J.D. from the University of Mississippi in December 1988. After graduation he served as a clerk with the Mississippi Supreme Court, as an Assistant Attorney General for five years, and as District Attorney for the Third Judicial District for eight years. He was educated in the public schools of Chickasaw County. He is a fifth generation Mississippian and an avid outdoorsman and hunter. He and his wife, Debbie, have three children—Rebecca, Matthew, and Annabelle.

Duties: The Attorney General is the chief legal officer and advisor for the State with responsibility to serve as lawyer for the State, its public officials, and governmental agencies. The Attorney General has the sole power under Mississippi law to bring or defend a lawsuit on behalf of the State. He or she is also empowered to act as counsel to state agencies and to defend them or bring suit on their behalf, either in person or through assistants.

The Attorney General employs a staff of attorneys, investigators, and office personnel, chosen because of legal talents or other skills. The major duties, divisions, and sections of this office are Civil Litigation, Criminal Litigation, Consumer Protection, Crime Prevention Victim Services, Medicaid Fraud, Opinions and Local Government, Prosecutors Training, Public Integrity, and State Agencies.

The Attorney General is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 6, § 173. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-5-1 et seq. (1972).

State Auditor
STACEY PICKERING

Elected for two terms as State Auditor, Stacey Pickering has recovered more than $5 million in embezzled, misappropriated and misspent taxpayer money on behalf of Mississippians. Over 150 cases have been investigated resulting in 99 individuals who have pled guilty or been found guilty by a jury of their peers and 57 individuals awaiting trial.

Pickering was re-elected in November 2011 with over 75 percent of the vote. The Jones County native was first elected Mississippi's 41st State Auditor on November 6, 2007.

Pickering has built a reputation of transparency and accountability and is often referred to as the "conscience of Mississippi." Pickering is committed to providing resources, education and evaluation for local and state governments to create a more efficient and performance-oriented government in Mississippi.

Under Pickering's leadership, the State Auditor's Office has earned accolades from the Government Accountability Office (GAO) of the United States for setting an example of best practice for the expenditure of one-time federal funds as a result of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA).

Pickering currently serves on the Domestic Working Group for the Office of the Comptroller General of the United States as well as on the Financial Management and Intergovernmental Affairs and Performance Audit Committees for the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers.

Throughout his career, Pickering has made tremendous strides in improving accountability and transparency in government and continues to promote fiscal responsibility. Under his leadership, the Performance Audit Division has conducted 227 audits and reports highlighting opportunity for greater efficiency and effectiveness in government.

In June 2012, Pickering was honored with the National State Auditor's Association's "National Excellence in Accountability Award" for his work on ARRA accountability and oversight. This is the first time Mississippi has ever received this award. In 2009, the Department of Defense honored him with a Patriot Award from its Mississippi Committee on Employer's Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR) in recognition of his extraordinary support of its employees who serve in the Mississippi National Guard and Reserve.

Prior to serving as State Auditor, Pickering was elected to the Mississippi State Senate in 2003 to represent District 42 in Jones County. As Senator, he served as Chairman of the Local and Private Committee and Chairman of Enrolled Bills Committee. The American Legislative Exchange Council named him to the national policy task forces on Transportation and Homeland Security. Pickering helped organize the Mississippi Legislative Sportsman's Caucus, serving as founding Co-Chairman, and under his leadership, this group passed more pro-hunting legislation than any other caucus in the nation during its first year. In 2004, he was named Legislator of the Year by the Mississippi Association of Realtors.

Pickering is a seventh-generation Mississippian. He was raised on the family dairy farm in the Hebron community of Jones County. A National 4-H scholarship winner, Pickering graduated from West Jones High School and went on to Jones County Junior College. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Samford University in Birmingham, Ala., and a Master's Degree from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary in 1993.

Pickering and his wife, Whitney, live in Laurel with their four children. They are active members of First Baptist Church of Laurel, where they teach Sunday School and he serves as a deacon. They have served as past Presidents of their children's school PTO and volunteer for the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art. Pickering is a Mason, volunteer firefighter, member of the National Rifle Association and Sigma Nu Fraternity. He serves on the Board of the Pine Burr Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Mississippi Air National Guard.

Duties: The State Auditor is responsible for auditing state agencies, county governments, school districts, community and junior colleges and universities; conducting investigations into abuse of public funds and violations of law; providing best practices for all public offices of regional and local subdivisions of the state, systems of accounting, budgeting and reporting financial facts relating to said offices in conformity with legal requirements and with generally accepted accounting principles; conducting inventory audits of all state property; and auditing the quality of data and data controls in public schools.

The State Auditor is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, SS 113, 115, 134, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. SS 7-7-1, et seq. (1972).

State Treasurer
LYNN FITCH

Lynn Fitch made history in 2011 becoming the first Republican woman elected Treasurer in Mississippi.

A native of Marshall County, Fitch was raised in Holly Springs where her father, Bill Fitch, still lives. She graduated from Marshall Academy, heading straight to the University of Mississippi in Oxford. In just five years, she earned both a Bachelors of Business Administration and a Juris Doctorate. After graduation at the age of 23, Fitch was practicing law as a Special Assistant Attorney General with the Mississippi Attorney General's Office representing the State Bond Commission, Department of Banking and Consumer Finance, Department of Economic and Community Development, Department of Finance and Administration, and Office of the State Treasurer.

Fitch believes strongly in ideas of limited and efficient government and has spent much of her professional life working hard to ensure taxpayer dollars are used in an effective and efficient manner. In 2009, she was selected by Governor Haley Barbour to serve as Executive Director of the Mississippi State Personnel Board, an agency responsible for directing more than 130 state agencies and overseeing 32,000 employees. Prior to her time at MSPB, she served as Deputy Executive Director of External Affairs and Support Services at the Mississippi Department of Employment Security. She has also been a bond lawyer with a focus on general and municipal bonds, corporate financing, Mississippi Business Finance Corporation, and Mississippi Department of Economic Development, Counsel for the Mississippi House of Representatives, Ways and Means Committee and Local and Private Legislation Committee.

Fitch has been recognized for her professionalism and leadership abilities by several organizations as well as for her philanthropic and charitable contributions. She currently sits on the Board of Directors of the American Red Cross and Goodwill Industries. She is the President of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation and was the recent recipient of the prestigious Outstanding Woman Lawyer of the Year Award.

She is a member of the National Association of State Treasurers, was named one of the 50 Leading Business Women in Mississippi and was selected into the inaugural class of Leadership in Law by the Mississippi Business Journal. In addition to these accolades, Fitch has been active in several professional associations including Leadership Mississippi; National Association of Unemployment Insurance Appellate Boards, Board of Governors; National Association of Government Communicators; National Association of State Workforce Agencies; and National Association of Bond Lawyers.

Fitch lives in Madison and has three children; Mackenzie, son-in-law Drew, Marye Will and John Tucker.

Duties: The State Treasurer is the Chief Financial Officer for the State of Mississippi. The Office of the State Treasurer has many different divisions including Cash Management, Investments, Bonds, Collateral, Unclaimed Property and College Savings Mississippi.

Among the Treasurer's duties and responsibilities are maintaining all the state's financial records including receipts, deposits and disbursements of funds that flow through the state's coffers. Those funds come from multiple sources including the federal government, proceeds from the issuance of bonds, interest payments and income and sales tax.

The Treasurer also is responsible for investing state funds, serves as custodian of securities held by other agencies, pays state warrants, manages the Unclaimed Property Program and administers Mississippi's two 529 College Savings Programs: MPACT, Mississippi's Prepaid Affordable College Tuition Program and MACS, Mississippi's Affordable College Savings Program.

The Treasurer serves as a member of more than a dozen Boards, including Mississippi Windstorm Underwriting Association Board, Mississippi Guaranty Pool Board, State Bond Commission, Public Employees Retirement Board, Mississippi Business Finance Corporation, Development Bank Board, License Tag Commission, Tort Claims Board, Economic Development Strategic Planning Task Force, State Prison Emergency and Management Board, Private Nonprofit Institutions of Higher Learning (MEFA), the Historic Properties Trust Fund Advisory Committee and Chairman of the College Savings Plan of Mississippi Board.

The Treasurer is elected to a four year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Constitution 1890. Article 5.SS 125, 134 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-9-1 et seq. (1972)

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce
CINDY HYDE-SMITH

Cindy Hyde-Smith was elected Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce in 2011, making history as Mississippi's first female elected to the post. Prior to serving as Commissioner, Hyde-Smith served as a State Senator representing District 39 for 12 years and was appointed as the Chairman of the Agriculture Committee. During her time as a Legislator, she authored countless pieces of legislation benefiting agriculture throughout the state. Hyde-Smith also served on numerous committees including Appropriations, Congressional Redistricting, Constitution, Corrections, Elections, Legislative Reappointment, PEER, Public Health and Welfare, Veterans and Military Affairs, and Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks.

Hyde-Smith's many accomplishments and honors include being appointed as Vice Chairman of the National Agriculture Committee by the National Council of State Legislators, Charter Member of the State Ag Rural Leaders, recipient of the Mississippi Association of Conservation Districts Award, and recipient of the Ambassador Award from Farm Bureau. She was named Legislator of the Year for her exemplary leadership in agriculture by Farm Bureau, and she received the Delta Council Achievement Award for her outstanding contribution to aquaculture. She was the recipient of an Honorary American Degree from the National Board of the Future Farmers of America. The National Rifle Association recognized Hyde-Smith's distinguished service in the Defense of Liberty and the Second Amendment Right to Keep and Bear Arms through their Millennium Honor Roll Award. The National Guard of the United States recognized Hyde-Smith with the National Medal of Merit Award, and she received the Outstanding Patriotic American Award from the United States Selective Service System.

Hyde-Smith is a member of the Southern United States Trade Association, an organization to promote international marketing efforts. Other leadership efforts include memberships in the Southern Association of State Departments of Agriculture, National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, Lincoln County Cattleman's Association, Lincoln County Forestry Association, and National Rifle Association.

Commissioner Hyde-Smith and her husband Michael live in Brookhaven with their daughter Anna Michael, the family's fifth generation farmer. Born in Brookhaven, Hyde-Smith is a graduate of Copiah Lincoln Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi. They are active members of Macedonia Baptist Church and serve on numerous community committees.

Duties: The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce was created in 1906 by the Mississippi Legislature to foster and promote the business of agriculture under the management and control of an elected state official known as the Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce.

The Department performs regulatory functions in the areas of aquaculture inspection for all non-native species of fish and game fish for stocking and food consumption purposes; agricultural theft; meat, fruit, and vegetable inspection; feed, seed, fertilizer, and soil and plant amendment inspection; weights and measures; public grain warehouse inspection; pulpwood measurement; insect and plant disease inspection and quarantine; pesticide inspection; egg inspection; retail food inspections; sanitation excluding food services; rendering plant inspection; syrup labeling inspection; honey and honey product labeling inspection; and catfish and catfish product labeling inspection. The Department operates a seed testing laboratory and a metrology laboratory.

The Department's Marketing Development and International Trade divisions promote the sale of Mississippi agricultural products, both nationally and internationally, through such programs as Make Mine Mississippi and the Farmers' Market Nutrition Program. Market information and agricultural statistics are distributed through the Department's crop reporting and market news service which publishes the bi-monthly Mississippi Market Bulletin.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce is elected to a four year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Code Ann. § 69-1-1 et seq. (1972).

MIKE CHANEY

Mike Chaney, a Tupelo native and long-time resident of Vicksburg, is Mississippi's Insurance Commissioner.

Prior to taking office in January 2008, Commissioner Chaney served seven years in the Mississippi House of Representatives and eight years in the Mississippi Senate, where he was the first Republican to serve as Chairman of the Education Committee.

Commissioner Chaney also served as a key member of the Senate Insurance Committee and Chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Chaney received numerous awards while serving in the Mississippi Legislature, including being named legislator of the year by teachers and Realtors and the Mississippi Homebuilders recognized him for his legislative work in rebuilding the Mississippi Gulf Coast following Hurricane Katrina.

Commissioner Chaney was a pioneer in worker's compensation when his business, along with two additional companies, in 1991, formed the first MMA Workers Compensation Insurance Pool for businesses in the state.

He is a graduate of Mississippi State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business and Finance and is a veteran of the United States Army, serving in Vietnam from 1968-69.

He is married to Mary Thurmond Chaney, and the couple has three married children and eight grandchildren.

Duties: The Insurance Commissioner is charged with execution of all laws relative to insurance companies, corporations, associations and fraternal orders, their agents and adjusters. His office licenses and regulates the practices of all insurance companies, agents, burial associations, fraternal societies, bail bondsmen, and other entities engaged in the business of insurance. The Insurance Commissioner licenses manufacturers and dealers of mobile homes and regulates their practices, including inspecting their manufacturing techniques and standards. The office enforces the liquefied compressed gas inspection program. The State's standard fire code is administered by the Commissioner through the department's State Fire Marshal Division. The Insurance Commissioner also serves as State Fire Marshal and Chairman of the State Fire Academy.

The Insurance Commissioner is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Code Ann. § 83-1-1 et seq. (1972)

Public Service Commissioner
District 1 – Central

LYNN POSEY

Lynn Posey is currently serving as Central District Public Service Commissioner and is also Vice-Chairman of the Commission.

Commissioner Posey was born in Brookhaven. He is a graduate of Copiah-Lincoln Community College, as well as Mississippi State University where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree and a Masters degree in Public Administration. He is also a graduate of the University of Mississippi School of Banking.

Posey served in the Mississippi State Senate from 1988-2007. While in the Senate, Commissioner Posey served 16 years as Chairman of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks and was a member of the Public Utilities Committee for 16 years. He also served as a sub-committee chairman on Appropriations, Business and Financial Institutions, Economic Development and Forestry. In addition, Posey also served as the Chairman of the PEER Committee, as well as the Founder and Chairman of the Mississippi Sportsman Caucus.

He is married to the former Kathy Singletary of Crystal Springs. They reside in Union Church and have two children, Hunter and Kaitlyn. The Poseys belong to the Union Church Baptist Church.

Public Service Commissioner

STEVE RENFROE

Steve Renfroe was appointed Southern District Public Service Commissioner by Governor Phil Bryant on September 10, 2013.

A ninth-generation Mississippian, Commissioner Renfroe is a lifelong resident of Moss Point and a graduate of Mississippi College with a degree in Mathematics. He retired from Chevron in 2011 after a 35 year career, which included 10 years as an environmental specialist and more than 20 years managing public and government affairs in Mississippi.

Renfroe also has a long list of volunteer accomplishments, including chairman of the Mississippi Commission for Volunteer Service, chairman of the United Way of Jackson and George Counties, and chairman of Excel By 5, an early childhood initiative he and his wife helped start. In addition, he was instrumental in bringing the National Audubon Society's new education center to South Mississippi.

Commissioner Renfroe's wife of 42 years, Debby, is a retired public school kindergarten teacher. They have one adult child, Robert.

Public Service Commissioner

BRANDON PRESLEY

Brandon Presley was elected Public Service Commissioner for the Northern District of Mississippi in 2007 and re-elected in 2011, winning 28 of the district's 33 counties. Elected to the Public Service Commission at age 30, he was the youngest Commissioner ever elected in Mississippi. Prior to his election to the Public Service Commission, he served as Mayor of Nettleton from 2001 to 2007, having been elected at the age of 23, making him one of the youngest mayors in Mississippi history.

Commissioner Presley was recently elected Second Vice President of the Southeastern Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners, which is composed of Public Service Commissioners from the 11 Southern States and Puerto Rico. He serves on the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) committees on Consumer Affairs and Water, and he previously served on NARUC's ad hoc Committee on Wireless Consumer Protections Standards. Presley was elected by his peers to serve as Vice-President of the Entergy Regional State Committee (E-RSC) which is composed of state regulators from Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and the City of New Orleans. He is a former member of the board of directors of the National Regulatory Research Institute (NRRI).

Presley is past Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Itawamba Community College and former member of the Board of Directors of Gilmore Memorial Hospital. He is past Chairman of the Lee County Council of Governments and also served as President of the North Mississippi Mayor's Association. Presley, 34, is a lifelong resident of Nettleton, where he is a member of the Nettleton First Baptist Church. He is past-President and current member of the Nettleton Lions Club and is a member of the Nettleton Civitan Club.

Duties: Public Service Commissioners are elected to represent the three Supreme Court Districts of the state. Telecommunications, electric, gas, water, sewer utilities, and the enforcement of the Mississippi Telephone Solicitation Act (Do-Not-Call Law) are under the supervision and regulation of this Commission. It is the Commission's responsibility to see that rates and charges for service are just and reasonable, that the approved rate schedules are adhered to, that the service rendered is reasonably adequate, that the facilities constructed or acquired are required for the convenience and necessity of the public, and to promulgate and enforce rules pertaining to regulated public utility service and rates. In carrying out its responsibility, the Commission must answer complaints, make investigations, and conduct both formal and informal meetings. Public Service Commissioners are elected to four-year terms and may be re-elected. Miss. Code Ann. 77-1-1 et seq. (1972)

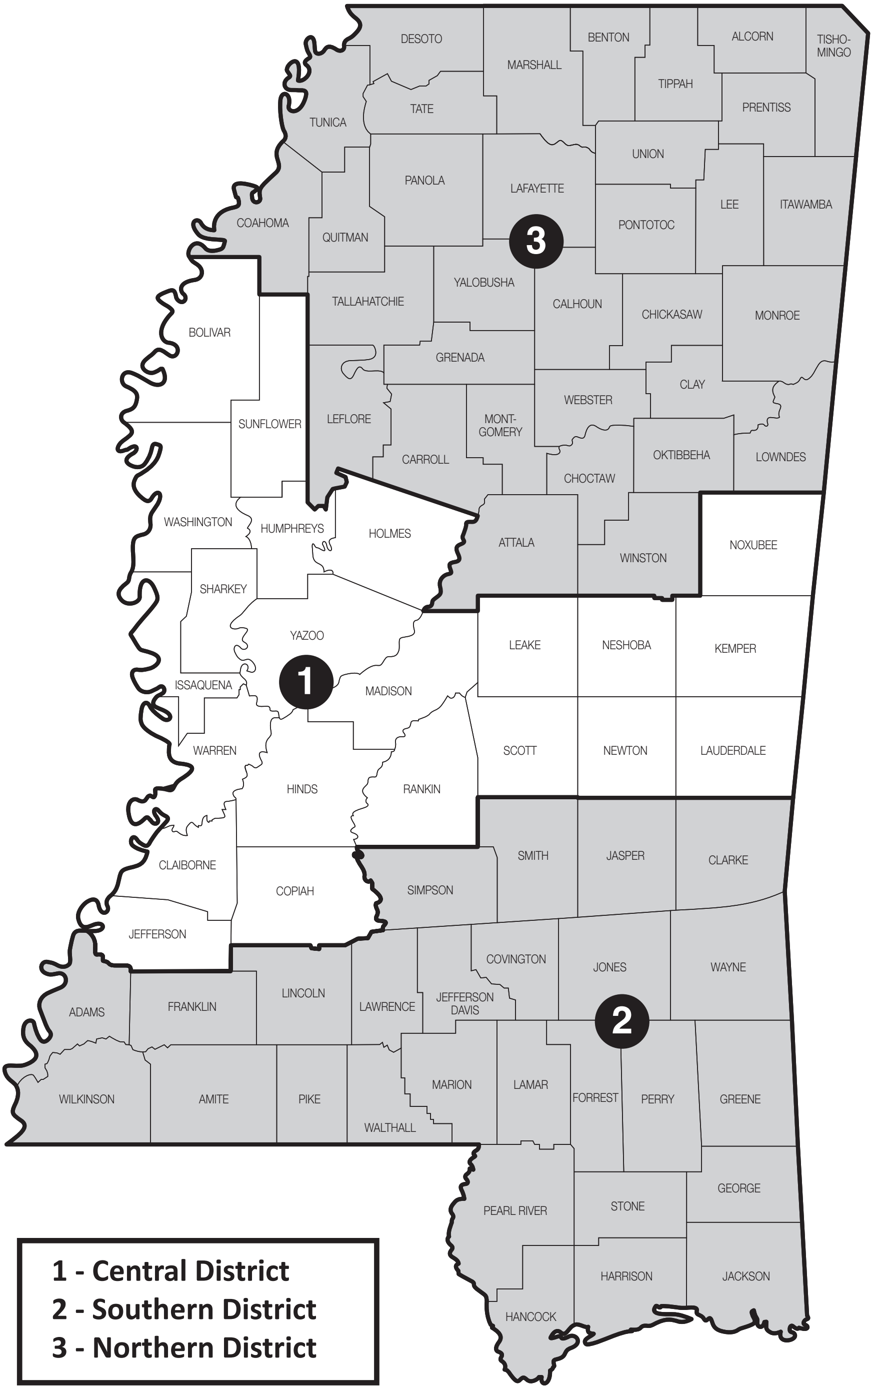
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION & TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION DISTRICTS



1 - Central District
2 - Southern District
3 - Northern District

Transportation Commissioner
District 1 – Central
DICK HALL

Dick Hall is serving his fourth full term as Central District Transportation Commissioner which covers 22 counties with a population of approximately one million people.

After serving 24 years in the Mississippi Legislature, Dick Hall was appointed Central District Transportation Commissioner by Gov. Kirk Fordice in 1999 to fill the unexpired term of a former commissioner. Hall was elected later that year to his first full term as Commissioner and has been reelected to two subsequent terms.

Hall's experience in the Mississippi Legislature was extremely broad-based serving three terms as a Representative and three terms as a Senator. In both the House and the Senate, Hall chaired the Environment Committees of each chamber, respectively. Other chairmanships included the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee — the first Republican to occupy this position in over 100 years. He also served as president of the Mississippi Republican-Elected Officials Association and as state chairman of the United Republican Fund. Other honors have included being the first recipient of the Hugh L. White Free Enterprise Award and Conservation Legislator of the Year.

Born in Vicksburg, Commissioner Hall grew up in Jackson and graduated from Central High School. After earning a bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University, Hall served as a Field Artillery Officer in the U.S. Army. His dedication to public service does not end with governmental involvement. Hall's community participation has included serving on the Board of Directors of the Metro Jackson Chamber of Commerce, the YMCA and the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra. He has served as Chairman of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, the Mid-Mississippi March of Dimes and President of the Jackson Touchdown Club. He is also a member of Mississippi Museum of Natural Science Foundation. Commissioner Hall and his wife Jennifer reside at the reservoir in Rankin County and attend Lakeside Presbyterian Church.

Transportation Commissioner
TOM KING

Tom King is entering his first term as Southern District Transportation Commissioner.

He previously served as a state lawmaker since 1993, when he was elected to the House of Representatives where he remained until 1999.

In 2000, he began his tenure in the Senate, where his leadership brokered many bills designed to better the lives of Mississippians. As Chairman of the Senate Highways and Transportation Committee, King authored resolutions that honored the achievements of persons throughout his district and the state. Most notably, King authored Senate Bill 3181—the $300 million bond bill for highways and bridges and Senate Bill 3014, known as the John Paul Frerer Bicycle Act, which promotes safety for cyclists on the roadways. King also authored Senate Bill 2514 that created the Mississippi Wireless Communications Commission, which ensures that the state's emergency responders and law enforcement have the means to communicate regardless of any disaster that may occur.

King is a veteran of the Vietnam War, having served his country in the Air Force as an Air Policeman. He is affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, American Legion and VFW. He has received many professional awards and honors including—2011 Mississippi Municipal League Legislator of the Year; 2010 Hattiesburg's Veteran of the Year; American Legion Meritorious Service Award in 2007 and Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Legislator of the Year in 2002.

King was born in Hattiesburg. He attended Petal High School and graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1973. He currently lives in Petal with his wife, the former Susan Lynn Patterson, and has two children and two grandchildren. King and his wife are members of Petal-Harvey Baptist Church, where he serves as deacon.

Transportation Commissioner

Mike Tagert has a broad background in intermodal transportation and economic development spanning the public and private sectors. Prior to being elected Commissioner in February of 2011, Tagert was Administrator of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority, responsible for promoting intermodal transportation and attracting private investment for job creation and economic growth. He signed an International Agreement with the Panama Canal Authority to promote future trade and transportation via the Gulf of Mexico and Northeast Mississippi. The agreement strengthens Mississippi's strategic position for handling freight in anticipation of the Panama Canal widening and changing global freight patterns.

Other accomplishments include leading the successful designation of the Marine Highway (M-65) Corridor, an all-water route from the northern terminus of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway and the Port of Mobile, Alabama, to enhance freight capacity while reducing highway congestion. Tagert spearheaded various legislative initiatives, including Mississippi's Interstate Pest Control Compact, aimed at promoting trade while protecting the environment and agriculture.

Tagert is a former member of the Trade and Transportation Advisory Council for the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. Earlier in his career Tagert served as the Executive Director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry; a member of the Alabama Intermodal Infrastructure Advisory Board; Vice President of the Coalition of Alabama Waterway Associations; Vice President of Inland Rivers, Ports, and Terminals, Inc. He is a current member of the Civil Air Patrol and Mississippi's Representative on the Export Trade Advisory Council for the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Tagert served in the United States Marine Corps and the Reserves for six years. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Millsaps College in Jackson, and a Master of Science and Master of Public Policy and Administration from Mississippi State University.

Duties: Transportation Commissioners are elected from the three Supreme Court Districts of the state and have the authority and responsibility for the control and supervision of all modes of transportation in the state dealing with aeronautics, highways, public transit, and rail safety.

The Commission appoints an Executive Director of the Department of Transportation to carry out the policies set by the Commission.

The Department of Transportation has full and general supervision over all matters relating to airport development, highway construction and maintenance, weight enforcement, public transit, and rail planning. The Department also works with state colleges, universities, and other state agencies in transportation-related matters.

Transportation Commissioners are elected to four-year terms and may succeed themselves in office. Miss. Code Ann. § 65-1-1 et seq. (1972).

LEGISLATIVE

LEGISLATIVE

Article 4 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 creates a House of Representatives and a Senate jointly vested with lawmaking authority as well as the power of the purse, a provision that no money can be spent from the State's treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so.

THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE

The 1890 Mississippi Constitution places sole law-making authority in the bi-cameral Legislature, which also has the power of the purse, a constitutional provision stipulating no money can be spent from the state's treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so. The Senate exercises advice and consent over appointments made by the Governor. The power of impeachment is vested solely in the House; the power to try impeachment lies in the Senate. The House has the duty to elect the Governor if no candidate receives a majority of both the popular vote and the electoral vote in the general election.

There are 52 members of the Senate and 122 members of the House of Representatives.

Redistricting: The Constitution requires the Legislature to draw new, contiguous state legislative districts every ten years to reflect changes in population. No more than 52 Senatorial Districts and 122 House of Representative Districts are allowed. The Mississippi Legislature is also charged with the responsibility of drawing districts for the U.S. House of Representatives following each census. If the Legislature does not adopt the new legislative districts in the time allowed by the Constitution, a five-member commission consisting of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court as chairman, the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate must do so. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. XIII, § 254. Miss. Code Ann. § 5-3-81 et seq. (1972).

Officers: The President and presiding officer of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor; the second in command is the President Pro Tempore. The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is the Speaker of the House, a state Representative who is elected to the position by House members. The Speaker Pro Tempore is the second-ranking Representative.

Terms and Sessions: Legislators are administered the oath of office by the Secretary of State on the first day of the regular session of the year following election. The Constitution requires the Legislature to convene yearly on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January.

Volume of Legislation: During each regular session, the Legislature sends to the Governor more than 500 bills to be signed into law. Frequently, more than 100 of those bills involve the finance of state government (appropriations). Approximately 20-25 percent of all bills introduced become law.

The Secretary of State's Office assigns chapter numbers to the bills, distributes copies according to law, and certifies the bills for legal proceedings as requested.

Rules: The Constitution stipulates that bills may originate in either chamber of the Legislature. It empowers each chamber to determine its own rules of procedure, although each is prohibited from adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other chamber. Adjourning to places other than the House and Senate chambers is prohibited as well.

Each body adopts its own rules, although joint rules are adopted to govern legislative procedures that affect the orderly flow of bills between the houses.

Length of Session: The Constitution provides for legislative sessions to last no more than 90 days except for the first session of a new term, which may not exceed 125 days. Sessions may be extended by a two-thirds vote in both houses. When needed, the Governor may call a special session with a specific legislative focus. Numerous legislative committees also work between sessions on a wide variety of proposals. In addition, individual legislators often use the interim months to research and prepare bills for the next session. Members also work to help the citizens they represent.

Accountability: All proceedings in Senate and House journals are published by the Secretary of State. Moreover, the Constitution requires that the doors of each chamber shall be open "except in cases which may require secrecy."

JOINT RULES

*Appropriation, revenue, and local and private bills, and bills to restore suffrage are excluded from these deadlines. For purposes of the deadlines herein set forth, the term “revenue bills” shall include only those bills whose primary purpose is to increase or decrease taxes or to authorize the issuance of bonds or the borrowing of money. Bills which are primarily for regulatory purposes which have revenue provisions included shall not be considered as revenue bills for deadline purposes. The deletion from a bill of the features which made it a revenue bill shall render the bill a general bill for deadline purposes.

Conference reports on all bills must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than the time of adjournment on the day prior to being called up and considered. Appropriation bills which actually appropriate money and are recommitted for further conference are excluded from the requirement that the subsequent conference report be filed and lay on table one (1) day before being considered; however, original action must be taken on all appropriation conference reports by 2:00 p.m. on the 84th/119th day and subsequent reports must be filed no later than 6:00 p.m.

Requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted must be made no later than 8:00 p.m. on the 9th/45th day. The Rules Committee of the House or Senate, as the case may be, may authorize any member of its respective house to make requests, for one or more general bills or constitutional amendments to be drafted, after the expiration of the deadline for making such drafting requests but before the deadline for introduction of bills and constitutional amendments, upon a determination by the Rules Committee that such drafting requests are in response to conditions of an emergency nature arising subsequent to the deadline for making requests for general bills and constitutional amendments to be drafted.

+Committee reports and conference reports that are subject to being filed on these deadlines must be filed with the Secretary/Clerk no later than 8:00 p.m.

Whenever the word “day” appears in this rule, it shall mean calendar day.

The above schedule shall not be deviated from except by the passage of a concurrent resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership of the House and Senate present and voting.

HOW A BILL BECOMES A LAW

Drafting and Introduction. A bill must first be drafted in paper form. Legislative research and drafting offices are operated on a year-round basis in both the House and the Senate to assist the members with the necessary research and legal work involved in drafting bills in correct form.

Since the advent of annual sessions, a system of pre-filing has been instituted in both Houses. This means that bills may be written and introduced on an unofficial basis in the interim between sessions. For all practical purposes, the pre-filed bills are treated in the same manner as bills introduced when the Legislature is actually in session. At the time a member signifies that a bill is to be filed, it is placed on the Speaker's/President's desk for referral to Committee and, after referral, is given a number which it will retain throughout the legislative process. When the session convenes, the pre-filed bills are introduced officially into the records. Bills introduced after the session convenes are dropped into the "hopper" at the Clerk's/Secretary's desk. Bills must be typewritten on legal-sized paper, double-spaced, with the title and name of author or authors on the outside and must be introduced in original form.

Referred to Committee. Each bill is referred to one or more of the standing committees in the House or Senate for study and recommendation. In the regular order of business, the bills are read by title and number, and the committee to which it has been referred is announced. All bills are listed on a daily introduction list, entered in the bill docket and committee books, and copies are reproduced. The bill itself is placed in a jacket and put into the committee box.

Reported by Committee. The committee to which a bill has been referred reports its recommendations to the House or Senate. It may report the bill "Do Pass," "Do Pass As Amended," "Committee Substitute Do Pass," or it may report the bill "Do Not Pass," which has the effect of killing the bill unless a Minority Report is filed within three days by one or more of the members of the committee who were present at the meeting at which the bill was reported.

If a bill has not been reported by a committee after reference, a motion to withdraw the bill may be filed. When a bill has been reported favorably by a committee, it is placed on the calendar for House or Senate action. Separate divisions of the calendar are kept for bills reported by the appropriations, revenue, and local and private committees. Appropriations and Revenue bills have precedence over bills on the General Calendar.

The Legislature operates under a system of deadlines which sets the limits of time in which bills may be introduced, reported from Committee, acted upon originally in each House, amendments considered from the other House, and Conference Reports adopted. The deadlines are for the purpose of assuring an orderly flow of legislative action within the 90-day constitutional limitation of sessions. The first session of each administration has a limitation of 125 days, and the deadlines are adjusted for the additional time.

Consideration by House/Senate. When a bill comes up in its regular order on the calendar, it is usually called up and handled on the chamber floor by the Chairman of the Committee to which it has been referred. The bill is read and debated by the House or Senate, and, at this time, amendments may be proposed and either adopted or rejected. Other possible actions may be taken at this time — the bill may be recommitted to the committee for further study; it may be laid on the table, subject to call; it may be set for special order; or postponed to another date for action. An amendment to strike all after the enacting clause, if adopted, would kill the bill, or if a motion carried to indefinitely postpone the bill, it would be dead.

The Vote. A quorum must be present for the vote on the final passage of any measure. Bills of a general nature require a majority of those present and voting for passage; appropriation bills require a majority of the elected membership; revenue bills require a three-fifths majority of those present and voting; bills restoring suffrage or bills granting a donation or gratuity to any person require two-thirds of the elected membership. Adoption of Conference Reports or concurrence in Senate or House amendments require the same vote as was required for the original passage of the bill. After passage of a bill, it is subject to reconsideration for one whole legislative day. After the time has passed for reconsideration, any amendments that were adopted are engrossed into the bill, which is then sent to the other House.

House/Senate Action. When a bill reaches the other House, it goes through the same process of referral to Committee, report by Committee, and floor action. If a bill passes the other House without amendment, it is returned to the House of origin, enrolled, signed by the Speaker and the Lieutenant Governor, and presented to the Governor. If the other House adopts amendments to the bill, the bill and the accompanying amendments are returned to the House of origin, and the bill is placed on the calendar for concurrence or non-concurrence in the amendments of the other House. Should one House concur, the other is notified, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor. If one House declines to concur in the amendments of the other, it may request a conference to work out the differences between the two Houses. A conference committee is composed of three members from each House, and if the report of the conference committee is adopted by both Houses, the bill is engrossed, enrolled, and presented to the Governor.

Governor's Action. The Governor must either approve a bill or return it with objections to the House of its origin within five days (except Sundays) or it becomes law without his signature. (If the Legislature adjourns before the five days have expired, the Governor then has 15 days for consideration of the bill.) When a bill has been vetoed, the objections of the Governor are spread at large upon the Journal, it is reconsidered, and, if two-thirds of those present and voting vote in favor of the bill, it is forwarded to the other House. If two-thirds of that House vote in favor of its passage over the Governor's veto, the bill then becomes a law.

The above steps in the passage of a bill are a simplified example of the parliamentary procedure involved in legislation. The process seems very complex, but a knowledge of the rules and procedures and actual experience in observing a legislature in action help in understanding that the rules and procedures are to provide thorough study and debate of measures before they become law.

LEGISLATIVE REDISTRICTING

Reference: Mississippi Constitution, Article 13, Section 254

Every 10 years, following the dicennial U.S. Census, all federal, state, and local election districts must be redrawn to account for changes and shifts in population. In Mississippi, the state Legislature is responsible for redrawing its own state legislative districts to reflect new population statistics. This redistricting process is required by the Mississippi Constitution to be completed by the end of the regular Legislative session in the second year following the decennial census.

Once redrawn, the new legislative districts must be approved by the U.S. Department of Justice under terms of the Voting Rights Act. Legislative districts drawn in 2002 based on the findings of the 2000 U.S. Census were used in the 2003 and 2007 state elections. After the 2010 U.S. Census, a federal court decided in May 2011 that the 2011 state legislative elections could proceed under the existing 2002 maps. During the 2012 Legislative Session, the state Legislature adopted new legislative districts for use in the 2015 and 2019 elections.

In October 2012, however, a lawsuit was filed asking the courts to order new legislative elections in 2013 under new district lines. In December, the courts ruled that legislators elected for four-year terms in 2011 under the previous district lines would not have to re-run for their seats in 2013 under the new district lines. The Supreme Court upheld that ruling in May 2013.

The Mississippi House and Senate races in 2015 will be held using the new district lines.

MISSISSIPPI COURT SYSTEM

www.courts.ms.gov

Mississippi has a two-tier appellate court system that reviews decisions of law and fact made by the trial courts. The state's trial court system consists of two general jurisdiction courts (circuit and chancery) and three limited jurisdiction courts (county, justice, and municipal).

SUPREME COURT

The Mississippi Supreme Court is the court of last resort among state courts. Decisions of the Chancery, Circuit and County Courts and of the Court of Appeals may be appealed to the Supreme Court. Appeals which go directly to the Supreme Court include annexations, bond issues, constitutionality challenges, death penalty cases, disciplinary matters involving attorneys and judges, election contests, certified questions from federal court, utility rates, cases of first impression and issues of broad public interest.

Nine Supreme Court justices are elected from three districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at once. Supreme Court justices serve eight-year terms.

Each Supreme Court justice participates in deciding appeals from the entire state. Decisions are by a majority vote of the court. The nine justices may sit in en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

Supreme Court Districts: 1 – Counties: Bolivar, Claiborne, Copiah, Hinds, Holmes, Humphreys, Issaquena, Jefferson, Kemper, Lauderdale, Leake, Madison, Neshoba, Newton, Noxubee, Rankin, Scott, Sharkey, Sunflower, Warren, Washington, Yazoo; 2 – Counties: Adams, Amite, Clarke, Covington, Forrest, Franklin, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Lamar, Lawrence, Lincoln, Marion, Pearl River, Perry, Pike, Simpson, Smith, Stone, Walthall, Wayne, Wilkinson; and 3 – Counties: Alcorn, Attala, Benton, Calhoun, Carroll, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Clay, Coahoma, Desoto, Grenada, Itawamba, Lafayette, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Marshall, Monroe, Montgomery, Oktibbeha, Panola, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Quitman, Tallahatchie, Tate, Tippah, Tishomingo, Tunica, Union, Webster, Winston, Yalobusha.

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the Supreme Court District in which election is sought, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. 6, §§ 150 and 250; Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-993 (1972). Qualifying fee is $200.

Terms of Court: A term of the Supreme Court shall be held twice each year in the city of Jackson, to be styled the Supreme Court; and the terms shall commence the second Monday of September and the first Monday of March, and the Court shall be kept open for the discharge of business for at least nine months of every year if the business therein should require. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-3-3 (1972).

COURT OF APPEALS

The Court of Appeals hears cases assigned by the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals is an error correction court. It hears and decides appeals on issues in which the law is already settled, but the facts are in dispute. The Supreme Court may review Court of Appeals decisions. If the Supreme Court declines review, the decision of the Court of Appeals stands.

The Mississippi Legislature created the Court of Appeals in 1994 to speed appeals and relieve a backlog of cases before the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals began hearing cases in 1995.

Ten Court of Appeals judges are elected from five districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at one time. Court of Appeals judges serve eight-year terms. Court of Appeals judges hear cases from all over the state.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 30 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the State for five years immediately preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-4-5 (1972). The qualifying fee is $200.

Terms of Court: The Court of Appeals meets continuously throughout the year and hears arguments every month except July. By law, the Court is located in the City of Jackson as close as convenient to the State Law Library and the Supreme Court. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-4-11 (1972).

CIRCUIT COURTS

Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Mississippi's 22 circuit courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit Courts also hear appeals from County, Justice and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Workers' Compensation Commission and the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 53 Circuit Court judges. The number of Circuit Judges per district ranges from one to four. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms. Most circuit court trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, § 154. The qualifying fee is $100.

Terms of Court: Each year, the circuit court judges issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published annually by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-7-3 (1972).

CHANCERY COURTS

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court. The Chancery Courts' jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $200,000 is concurrent with county courts.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 49 Chancery Court judges. The number of chancery judges per district ranges from one to four. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, at least 26 years of age, a practicing attorney, and a citizen of the state for five years. Miss. Const. of 1890, § 154. The qualifying fee is $100.

Terms of Court: Each year, chancellors issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remain unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-5-3 (1972).

COUNTY COURTS

County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 21 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington and Yazoo.

County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

Qualifications: A qualified elector at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five years, and a citizen of the state for five years preceding the election. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-9-1 et seq. (1972). The qualifying fee is $15.

Terms of Court: County court usually begins the second Monday of each month unless a special order is entered by the court to extend the term, or, in the case of some counties with two courthouses, the law provides special terms of court for each courthouse. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-9-19 (1972).

JUSTICE COURTS

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases, and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

Qualifications: A qualified elector, a resident of the county two years next preceding election, a holder of a high school or general equivalency diploma, and completion of a course of training required by law within six months of the beginning of the term of office. Miss. Const. of 1890, Art. VI, § 171 (1975), and Art. XII, § 250. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 9-11-3 and 25-15-297 (1972). The qualifying fee is $10.

Terms of Court: Justice court judges hold regular terms of their courts, at such times as they may appoint, but no more than two and not less than one term in every month. Miss. Code Ann. § 9-11-15 (1972).

DRUG COURTS

Drug Courts are special courts which address crimes committed by persons addicted to drugs or alcohol. Drug courts seek to rehabilitate drug-using offenders through drug treatment and intense supervision with drug testing and frequent court appearances. Drug courts offer the incentive of a chance to remain out of jail and be employed, and the sanction of a jail sentence if participants fail to remain drug-free and in compliance with all program requirements. As of October 2011, 42 Drug Courts were in operation in Mississippi.

YOUTH COURTS

The Youth Courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 21 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Municipal courts have exclusive jurisdiction over city ordinance violations. Under certain conditions, some may also exercise jurisdiction in cases involving juveniles. Municipal court judges are appointed by municipal governing bodies. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-1 (1972).

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the county in which the municipality is located and an attorney at law. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-3 (1972).

Terms of Court: Municipal judges may hold court every day except Sundays and legal holidays if the business of the municipality requires. Miss. Code Ann. § 21-23-7 (1972).

Chief Justice

WILLIAM L. WALLER, JR.

Place 1

Chief Justice William L. (Bill) Waller, Jr., is a native and current resident of Jackson. After graduating from Murrah High School, he received his bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University and his law degree from the University of Mississippi in 1977. He practiced law with the firm of Waller and Waller in Jackson for more than twenty years. He served as a Municipal Judge for the City of Jackson from 1995 to 1996.

Waller was elected to the Mississippi Supreme Court in November 1996, and was re-elected in November 2004 and 2012. He served as a Presiding Justice from January 2004 until December 2008. He became Chief Justice in January 2009.

Waller has worked to bring various reforms to the legal system. He supported the adoption of mediation rules for civil litigation; served as Chairman of the Mississippi Public Defender Task Force from 2000 to 2005; and chaired the Supreme Court Rules Committee from 2001 to 2008. Waller was also the principal architect behind legislation that created the Office of Capital Post Conviction Counsel, the Office of Indigent Appeals, and the Comprehensive Electronic Court Systems Fund. In 2012, he led efforts that resulted in the passage of judicial compensation reform legislation. Waller has also promoted statewide expansion of Drug Courts, which focus on rehabilitation and save millions of tax dollars. He has written articles for the Mississippi College Law Review, the Mississippi College School of Law's Amicus publication, and The Mississippi Lawyer magazine. He speaks regularly at civic clubs, public events, and continuing education seminars.

Waller has been recognized for his service and leadership. He received the Judicial Innovation Award for 2003-2004 from the Hinds County Bar Association and the Jackson Young Lawyers Association; the Chief Justice Award in 2005 for his work as chairman of a special study committee to develop a statewide electronic filing and docket management system; the Mississippi State University Pre-Law Society's Distinguished Jurist award in 2009; and the Judicial Excellence Award for 2011-2012 from the Capital Area Bar Association and the Jackson Young Lawyers Association. The Mississippi College School of Law awarded him an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 2012. Waller serves as an adjunct faculty member at the Mississippi College School of Law.

Waller's service extends beyond the Court. Presently assigned to the Retired Reserve, he attained the rank of Brigadier General while serving as Commander of the 66th Troop Command, Mississippi Army National Guard. He is also currently a member of the Stennis Institute Advisory Board at Mississippi State University. Waller and his two sons are Eagle Scouts, and he continues to serve on the Advisory Board of the Andrew Jackson Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Waller and his wife, Charlotte, are members of First Baptist Church Jackson. They have three adult children.

Presiding Justice

JESS H. DICKINSON

Place 1

Justice Jess H. Dickinson was born in Charleston, Mississippi, in 1947. After graduation from East Tallahatchie High School in 1965, he attended Mississippi State University, receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in 1978. He received his Juris Doctor cum laude from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1982, where he served on the editorial board of the Mississippi Law Journal.

After practicing law for one year in Jackson, and 20 years in Gulfport, Justice Dickinson served as a Forrest County Circuit Court Judge, by special appointment of the Mississippi Supreme Court. His service on the Supreme Court began in January 2004.

His first year on the Court, Justice Dickinson was awarded the Chief Justice Award for his work in advancing the administration of justice. He again received the Chief Justice Award in 2010 for his work on improving access to justice for the poor in Mississippi. In 2009, the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project awarded Justice Dickinson its Pro Bono Pioneer Award.

Justice Dickinson has served on the adjunct faculty of William Carey College and Mississippi College School of Law where, in 2009, he was elected by the law students as Adjunct Professor of the Year. He served two terms on both the Ethics Committee and the Professionalism Committee of the Mississippi Bar. He also serves as the Supreme Court's liaison to organizations providing legal services to the poor, and is a charter member of the Mississippi Access to Justice Commission.

Associate Justice

MICHAEL K. RANDOLPH

District 2 (Southern)
Place 3

Justice Michael K. Randolph was appointed to the Mississippi Supreme Court by Gov. Haley Barbour on April 23, 2004, to serve the unexpired term of former Chief Justice Edwin L. Pittman. In November 2004, Justice Randolph was elected to the Supreme Court for an eight-year term beginning January 1, 2005. In 2007, he served as Chairman of the legislatively-created task force to study the Justice Court System and in 2008 served as co-chairman of the Task Force for Youth Court Rules of Procedure.

Born in 1946, Justice Randolph was decorated for heroism in Vietnam where he served as an air traffic controller with the U.S. Army 1st Infantry Division, known as the Big Red One. He was honorably discharged in 1967. During law school, he received an appointment as a Reserve officer in the United States Navy, Judge Advocate General's Corps. He is a graduate of the Naval Justice School in Newport, Rhode Island.

Justice Kitchens has been married to Mary

Tooke Kitchens, now a retired public school teacher, since 1968. They are the parents of five adult children: Suzannah Kitchens Finch, Matthew W. Kitchens, Daniel W. Kitchens, Rebecca Kitchens Thornton and John W. Kitchens. Justice and Mrs. Kitchens have 10 grandchildren.

DAVID A. CHANDLER

Place 2

Justice David A. Chandler was born in Kosciusko, Mississippi, and moved with his family to Weir just before his first year of school. He graduated from Weir High School and then attended Mississippi State University, where he earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in education. Justice Chandler earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Mississippi and his Master of Laws in the Judicial Process from the University of Virginia School of Law.

Justice Chandler spent the first twenty years of his professional career in education. For approximately ten years, he served as a teacher, counselor, school psychometrist and administrator with the Choctaw County public schools. Justice Chandler then moved to the college level, where he served as a research and curriculum specialist at Mississippi State University. In this capacity, he directed the development of curriculum material for secondary and post-secondary workforce training programs. His work was designed to provide a more skilled workforce in order to attract business and industry to Mississippi.

Following law school, Justice Chandler practiced law in Tupelo. In January 2000, his law firm opened a branch office in Choctaw County, where he served as the attorney for the Board of Supervisors, a position he held until beginning his service on the Mississippi Court of Appeals in January 2001. He also served as municipal judge for his hometown of Weir from 1999 until beginning work on the appellate court.

Justice Chandler was elected to the Mississippi Court of Appeals in November 2000, and re-elected, without opposition, in 2006. After serving as a judge on the Court of Appeals for eight years, Justice Chandler was elected to the Mississippi Supreme Court. He commenced his duties as a Supreme Court justice on January 1, 2009.

Justice Chandler has served on numerous committees including chairperson of the Court of Appeals Rules Committee and co-chairperson of the Professionalism Committee of the Mississippi Bar, as well as serving as a member of the Supreme Court Committee on Administrative and Related Matters. He presently serves as chair of the Mississippi Continuing Judicial Education Committee. He serves as adjunct professor at Mississippi College School of Law, where he teaches judicial administration, and he is a member of the Charles Clark Inns of Court. He was named the 2010 Alumnus of the Year by the Mississippi State University College of Education.

Throughout his career, Justice Chandler has authored professional articles in the field of education as well as in the legal field. In July 2007, Justice Chandler had published an article in the professional journal for Mississippi Bar members. The article addressed methods of improving professionalism among lawyers. Justice Chandler's thesis for his LLM degree consisted of a comprehensive analysis of Mississippi statutory law pertaining to acts of violence committed on school property. Since becoming a member of the appellate courts of Mississippi, Justice Chandler has authored well over 600 opinions.

Justice Chandler is a member of the Tupelo Bar Association, the Mississippi Bar, and the American Bar Association. He and his wife, Glenda, reside in Ackerman, where they attend the First United Methodist Church. He is the proud father of two sons.

Justice King and his wife, the former Patricia Smith of Greenville, have two daughters and a granddaughter. They attend the St. Matthew African Methodist Episcopal Church in Greenville.

Associate Justice

JOSIAH DENNIS COLEMAN

District 3 (Northern)
Place 3

Justice Josiah Dennis Coleman was elected to the Mississippi Supreme Court on Nov. 6, 2012 and began his term on Jan. 7, 2013.

He previously practiced law for 12 years: first in Tupelo and then in Oxford. His practice concentrated on defense litigation and appellate advocacy in the areas of insurance, product liability and professional malpractice. He is admitted to practice before all Mississippi state and federal courts, and before the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Justice Coleman is the second member of his family to serve on the Mississippi Supreme Court. Both his grandfather and his father were appellate court judges. He is the grandson of the late J.P. Coleman, who served as Mississippi Governor and on the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. J.P. Coleman also served briefly as justice of the Mississippi Supreme Court, resigning to accept appointment as state attorney general. Thomas Coleman, the younger Justice Coleman's father, was one of the original members of the Mississippi Court of Appeals when the intermediate appellate court began in 1995.

Justice Coleman grew up in Choctaw County, near Ackerman, and graduated as valedictorian from Ackerman High School. He graduated cum laude from the University of Mississippi with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history and philosophy. He earned his law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law, where he served as treasurer of the Moot Court Board and the Criminal Law Society.

He bagged groceries at the Ackerman Piggly Wiggly in high school, and worked as a dishwasher, camp counselor and life guard while pursuing his undergraduate degree. He worked as a policy research intern in the office of the Secretary of State before starting law school. He served as a summer law clerk at a Tupelo firm. After earning his law degree, he served for almost two years as a law clerk for U.S. Magistrate Judge S. Allan Alexander in Oxford.

He serves as a volunteer firefighter on the Toccopola Volunteer Fire Department in Pontotoc County. He is a member of the board of deacons at College Hill Presbyterian Church in Oxford, and a member of the board of directors of the non-profit organization The International Guest House in Oxford.

He and his wife, Ashleigh Burke Coleman, have one daughter. They live in Toccopola in an 1897 farmhouse which he restored.

EUGENE L. FAIR, JR.

District 5
Position 1

Court of Appeals Judge Eugene Love Fair Jr. of Hattiesburg was appointed by Gov. Haley Barbour on Jan. 1, 2012, and took the oath of office Jan. 3. Judge Fair filled a vacancy in District 5, Place 1, created by the retirement of Judge William H. Myers.

Judge Fair previously served for five years as a chancellor on the 10th Chancery Court. Before his election to the bench, he served by appointment as a special master in Chancery Court and as a guardian ad litem representing the interests of children in Youth Court.

He engaged in the private practice of law in Hattiesburg for 34 years. During that time, he tried cases in 57 courthouses across the state. He was admitted to practice law in all state courts, the U.S. District Courts for the Northern and Southern Districts of Mississippi, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the Supreme Court of Texas and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Neville Patterson appointed him to the Mississippi Ethics Commission in 1984. He served on the commission for 20 years, including 19 years as vice-chair. He was board attorney for the Pat Harrison Waterway District 1988-1992.

Judge Fair earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Mississippi and a law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law. During college, he was editor of The Daily Mississippian twice. He began working as a newspaper stringer at age 15, calling in sports scores and writing obituaries. He did freelance work for The Clarion-Ledger, the now defunct Jackson Daily News, the Meridian Star, the Associated Press and United Press International. He is a member of the 1966 undergraduate Hall of Fame at Ole Miss, and in law school was on the board of the Mississippi Law Journal.

After he earned his law degree in 1968, he served for four years on active duty with the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General Corps during the Vietnam War, earning the rank of Lieutenant Commander. He spent two years as chief legal officer at the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi, Texas. He was a reservist in the Jackson Naval J.A.G. Reserve Unit for five years.

He served as treasurer, secretary, vice-president and president of both the Young Lawyers Section of the Mississippi Bar and the South Central Mississippi Bar Association. He held numerous leadership positions in the Mississippi Bar. He is a two term former member of the Board of Bar Commissioners, a Fellow of the Mississippi Bar Foundation since 1981, and a Charter Life Fellow of the Young Lawyers.

He served on the Mississippi Supreme Court Committee on Technology in the Courts 1988-1990, and on the Judicial Advisory Study Committee Technology Consulting Group 1993-1994.

He is an Eagle Scout, and has remained active in Scouting activities. He is a trustee, elder and Sunday School teacher at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Hattiesburg. He is former chairman of deacons, and was church treasurer for 18 years.

He is married to Dr. Estella Galloway Fair. They have two daughters and four grandchildren.

Judge

CEOLA JAMES

District 2

Position 2

Judge Ceola James was elected to the Mississippi Court of Appeals on November 6, 2012, in a special election to fill the unexpired term of Justice Leslie King. She began her term on January 7, 2013.

Judge James is a former Ninth District Chancery Judge. She served a four-year term from 1999 through 2002. Judge James was seated as a chancellor in Washington County in a district which also includes Warren, Sharkey, Issaquena, Humphreys and Sunflower counties. Judge James served Warren County by appointment as a Special Master in Chancery Court, and as a Justice Court Judge. She served as a special City Judge for the City of Port Gibson. The Mississippi Supreme Court appointed her to hear limited cases as a spcial Chancery Judge in Scott and Rankin counties.

Judge James spent 31 years as a solo practitioner, representing clients in civil and criminal matters. She did extensive pro bono work and reduced cost representation for clients who could not afford to pay. Judge James did extensive representation as a certified guardian ad litem in Youth Court.

Judge James is a member of the Mississippi Bar and has been admitted to practice in all Mississippi State courts, the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court.

Judge James is a lifelong resident of Warren County where her family has lived for three generations. She had hard-working, loving parents who managed to send her to private Catholic school for a priod of time before her father's health began to fail. She lost both of her parents while in law school, and she learned to "pull herself up by her own boot straps." She found her own scholarships to attend law school, and graduated from the Mississippi College School of Law

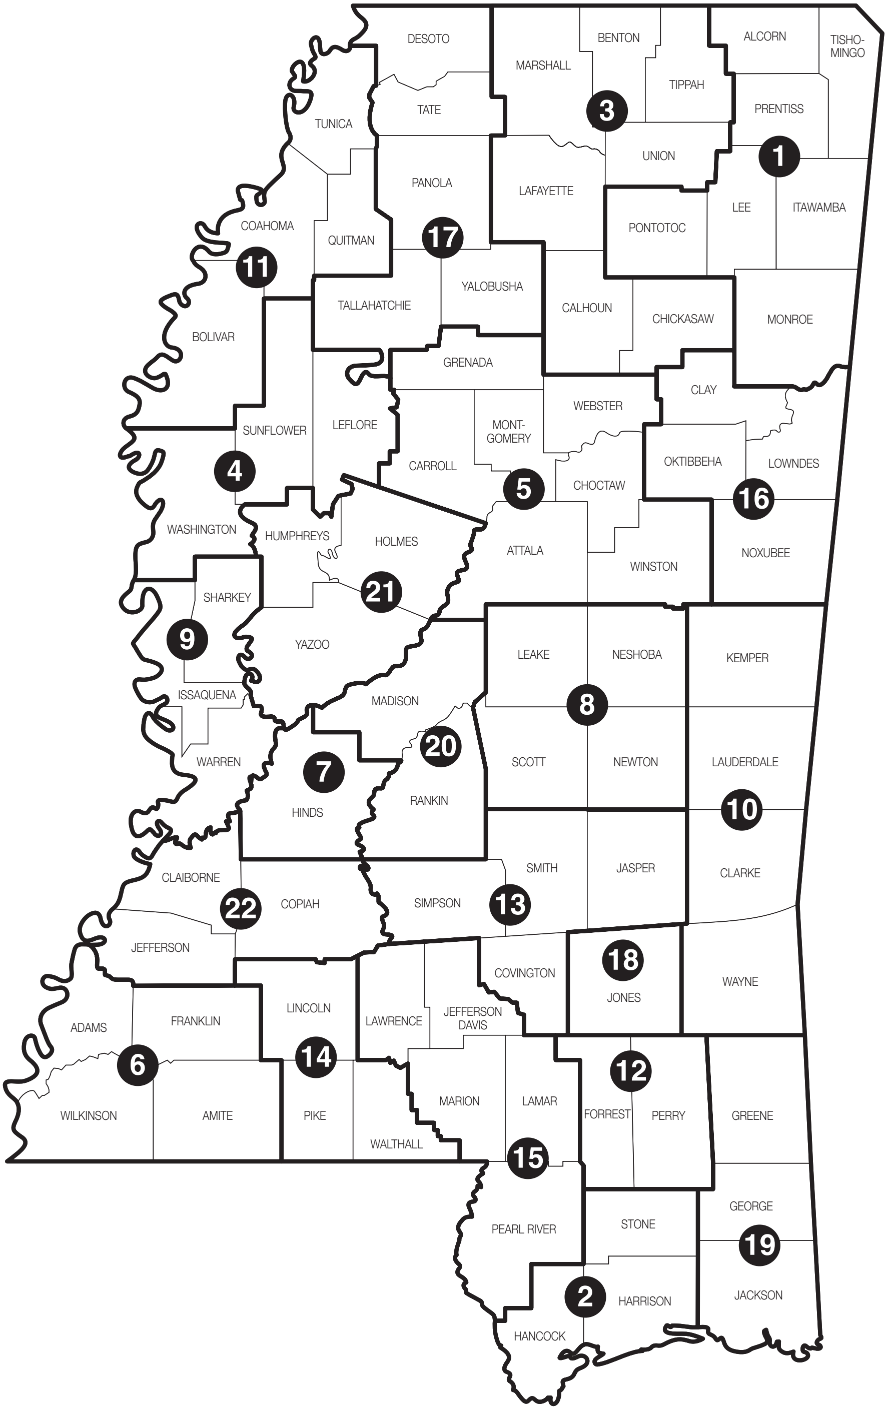
CIRCUIT COURT DISTRICTS



CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES

Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Circuit Courts hear appeals from County, Justice and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Workers' Compensation Commission and the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 53 Circuit Court judges. The number of Circuit Judges per district ranges from one to four. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

Trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact.

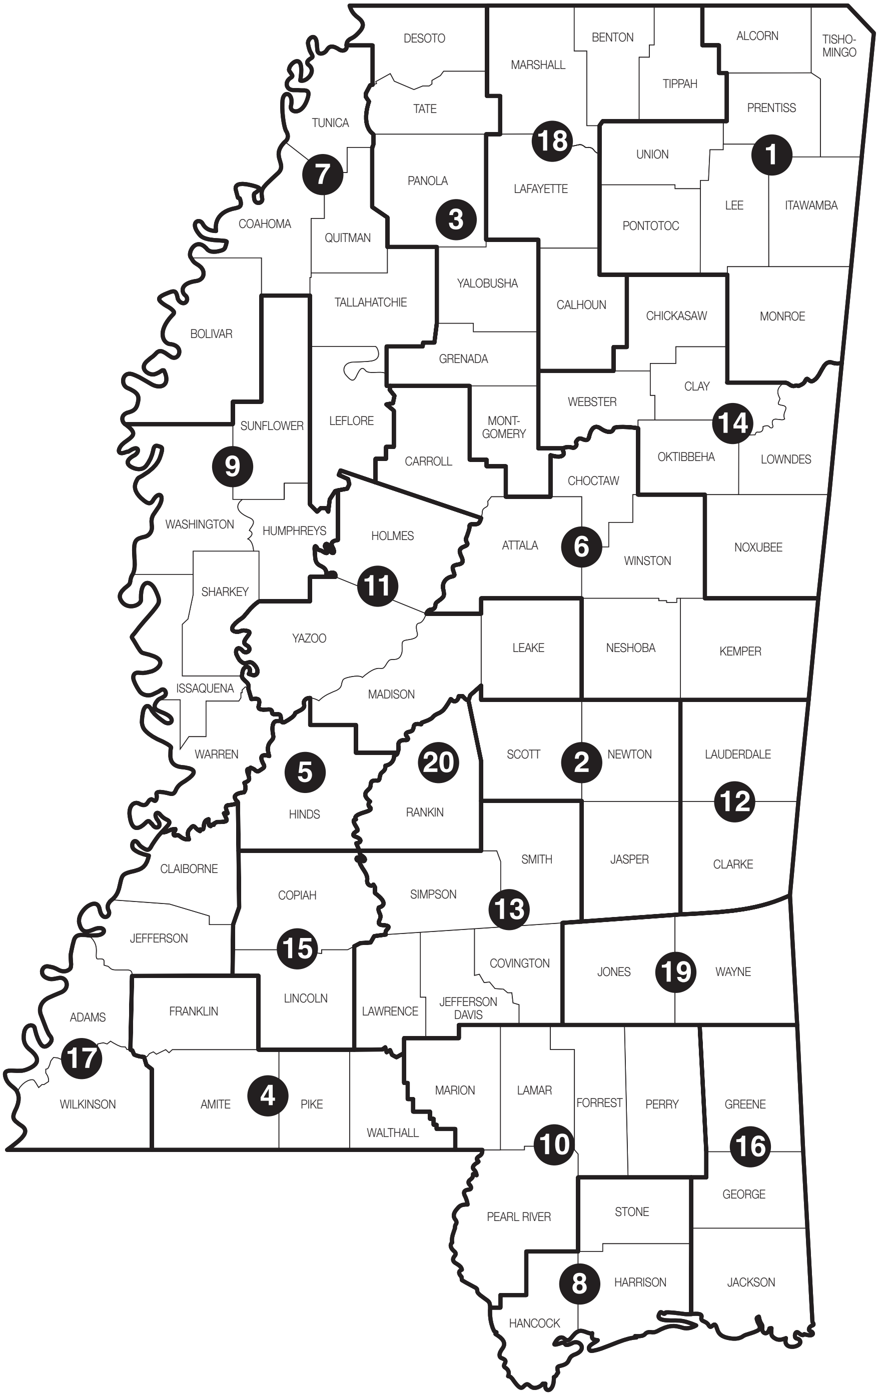
CHANCERY COURT DISTRICTS



CHANCERY COURT JUDGES

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 49 Chancery Court judges. The number of chancery judges per district ranges from one to four. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms

COUNTY COURT JUDGES

County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters, among other things. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 21 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington and Yazoo. County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

JUSTICE COURT JUDGES

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUDGES

Municipal courts have jurisdiction over misdemeanor crimes, municipal ordinances and city traffic violations. Municipal judges may conduct initial appearances in which defendants are advised of the charges being filed, as well as bond hearings and preliminary hearings.

There are 226 Municipal Courts. Most municipalities have one municipal judge, although a few jurisdictions have several. Most municipal judges are appointed by governing bodies of municipalities. Terms of office vary.

DRUG COURTS

A drug court is a special court given the responsibility to handle cases involving drug-using offenders through comprehensive supervision, drug testing, treatment services and immediate sanctions and incentives.

Drug court participants undergo long-term treatment and counseling, sanctions, incentives, and frequent court appearances. Successful completion of the treatment program results in dismissal of the charges, reduced or set aside sentences, lesser penalties, or a combination of these. Most importantly, graduating participants gain the necessary tools to rebuild their lives. Because the problem of drugs and crime is much too broad for any single agency to tackle alone, drug courts rely upon the daily communication and cooperation of judges, court personnel, probation, and treatment providers.

Drug courts vary somewhat from one jurisdiction to another in terms of structure, scope, and target populations, but they all share three primary goals: (1) to reduce recidivism, (2) to reduce substance abuse among participants, and (3) to rehabilitate participants. Achieving these goals requires a special organizational structure. Specifically, the drug court model includes the following key components:

- Incorporating drug testing into case processing.
- Creating a non-adversarial relationship between the defendant and the court.
- Identifying defendants in need of treatment and referring them to treatment as soon as possible after arrest.
- Providing access to a continuum of treatment and rehabilitation services.
- Monitoring abstinence through frequent, mandatory drug testing.
- Establishing a coordinated strategy to govern drug court responses to participants' compliance.
- Maintaining judicial interaction with each drug court participant.
- Monitoring and evaluating program goals and gauging their effectiveness.
- Continuing interdisciplinary education to promote effective drug court planning, implementation, and operations.
- Forging partnerships among drug courts, public agencies, and community-based organizations to generate local support and enhance drug court effectiveness

YOUTH COURTS

The Youth Courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 21 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

Executive Director: John B. Toney

The Mississippi Commission of Judicial Performance (Commission) was created in 1979 by the Mississippi Legislature and the voters of the State of Mississippi by constitutional amendment. It was created to enforce the standards of judicial conduct, inquire into judicial liability and conduct, protect the public from judicial misconduct and disabled judges, and protect the judiciary from unfounded allegations. All proceedings before the Commission are of a civil nature, not criminal, as the purpose of the Commission is to be rehabilitative and educational as well as disciplinary.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The government of the United States of America is a federal government of the constitutional republic of the 50 states constituting the United States of America, as well as one capitol district and several other territories. The federal government is composed of three distinct branches: legislative, executive and judicial, which powers are vested by the U.S. Constitution in the Congress, the President, and the federal courts, including the Supreme Court, respectively. The powers and duties of these branches are further defined by acts of Congress, including the creation of executive departments and courts inferior to the Supreme Court.

- Executive Branch – The executive branch of the government is responsible for enforcing the laws of the land. The president, vice president, department heads (cabinet members), and heads of independent agencies carry out this mission.
- Judicial Branch – Courts decide arguments about the meaning of laws and how they are applied. They also decide if laws violate the Constitution—an authority known as judicial review. This authority is how federal courts provide checks and balances on the legislative and executive branches.
- Legislative Branch – Article I of the Constitution establishes the legislative or law-making branch of government. It has a bi-cameral Congress—the U.S. Senate and the U.S. House of Representatives.

CONGRESS

The Congress assembles at least once every year, beginning on the first Monday of December, in the U.S. Capitol building in Washington, D.C.

Powers granted to Congress by the constitution include imposing and collecting taxes, paying the national debt, regulating international and interstate commerce, establishing military forces, sitting in tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court, and providing for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.

THE SENATE

Each state is represented by two Senators who are elected to six-year, staggered terms. Each Senator represents his or her entire state. Reserved to the Senate are the powers of trying all impeachments and reviewing all presidential appointments requiring Senate approval. The Vice President of the United States is President of the Senate, but only votes in case of a tie.

Senators must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States for nine years, and an inhabitant of the state he or she represents. Senators may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House of Representatives is composed of members chosen every second year to represent the congressional districts of his or her state. Each state's number of congressional districts is determined by population, with the total membership of the House of Representatives set at 435. Reserved to the House of Representatives is the origination of bills to raise revenue and the sole power of impeachment. The House of Representatives is led by a Speaker who is chosen by the members.

Representatives must be at least 25 years of age, citizens of the United States seven years, and inhabitants of the state they represent. They may be re-elected to consecutive terms.

U.S. Senator

THAD COCHRAN

Thad Cochran was born December 7, 1937, in Pontotoc. He is the son of William Holmes Cochran and Emma Grace Cochran, who were educators in Pontotoc, Tippah and Hinds counties.

Cochran was strongly influenced by his parents' careers in education. He and his brother, Nielson, were immersed in academic environments even at young ages. They spent summers at the University of Mississippi as their parents earned Masters degrees and also lived at Blue Mountain College where their parents were members of the faculty.

In 1946, the Cochrans moved to the Byram community of Hinds County near Jackson. There was much time devoted to sports, music, the Boy Scouts and church activities. Cochran became an Eagle Scout and helped establish a new scout troop at Spring Ridge Methodist Church. He served as its first Junior Assistant Scout Master.

At Byram High School, Cochran earned varsity letters in football, basketball, baseball and tennis. Valedictorian of his graduating class, he was also a member of the 4-H Club and Daniel Memorial Baptist Church.

In 1955, Cochran enrolled in the school of liberal arts at the University of Mississippi. He earned a B.A. degree with a major in psychology and a minor in political science. He was elected president of his social fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, was a company commander in the Navy ROTC, Vice President of the Student Body, and was selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honorary leadership fraternity. During the summers, he worked as a lifeguard at Livingston Lake in Jackson.

When Cochran graduated from Ole Miss in 1959, he was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve and assigned to duty aboard a heavy cruiser, the USS MACON, homeported in Boston. He served on this ship for 18 months becoming the ship's legal officer after graduating as an honor student from the U.S. Navy School of Justice in Newport, Rhode Island. He also became qualified as Officer of the Deck, in port and underway.

When his ship was decommissioned in January 1961, he was assigned to the staff of the Commandant of the 8th Naval District in New Orleans to complete his two-year tour of active duty in the Navy.

In 1961, Cochran enrolled in the School of Law at the University of Mississippi. While in law school, he won the Frederick Hamel Memorial Award for having the highest scholastic average in the first year class. He was selected for membership in Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity; served on the editorial board of the Mississippi Law Journal; argued before the Mississippi Supreme Court as a moot court finalist; and was elected Chairman of the Honor Council.

Before graduating from law school, Cochran was awarded a Rotary Foundation Graduate Fellowship and studied jurisprudence and international law for a year at Trinity College, University of Dublin, Ireland. During this year abroad, he spoke to numerous Rotary Clubs and other groups in Ireland on the subject of the civil rights struggle in Mississippi and the United States. He also won the Hillary Term Moot Court competition sponsored by the Dublin Law Society.

On June 6, 1964, he was married at the First Methodist Church in New Albany, to Rose Clayton, who had graduated from the University of Mississippi in 1963.

In his final year of law school at Ole Miss, he served as Article Editor of the Mississippi Law Journal and was selected for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary scholastic fraternity. Several years later when he delivered the graduation address at the law school, Dean Parham Williams observed that Thad Cochran's law school grade point average was the third highest of all students who had graduated from the Ole Miss law school during the decade of the 1960s.

During his summer vacation in law school, Cochran returned to active duty in the Navy and taught military law and naval orientation at the Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. He was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

After graduating from law school, he joined the firm of Watkins & Eager in Jackson. He was made a partner in the firm in only two and one-half years.

Cochran served as President of the Jackson Men's Y Club, member of the Board of the Jackson Rotary Club and member of the Board of Mississippi Opera, Inc. He organized the first Mississippi chapter of the American Field Service and served as charter president to sponsor foreign exchange programs for high school students.

He was Chairman of the Legal Services program of the Jackson Junior Bar, Chairman of the Mississippi Law Institute, a continuing legal education program for Mississippi lawyers, and President of the Young Lawyers Division of the Mississippi Bar Association. In 1971, Cochran was named by the Jaycees as Jackson's Young Man of the Year and as one of the three Outstanding Young Men of the Year in Mississippi.

In 1972, Cochran was elected United States Congressman for the Fourth District which included 12 counties in southwest Mississippi. He was appointed to the Public Works and Transportation Committee, which had jurisdiction over economic development, transportation and flood control.

As a member of Congress, Cochran also served on a Republican task force to study the energy crisis, and he contributed to the writing of a report that was published in book form by the House Republican Conference. He was appointed later to the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and the Select Committee on Ethics which wrote a new ethics code for members of Congress.

After winning re-election to the House in 1974, Cochran was elected by his colleagues to represent the southern states on the House Republican Policy Committee. He was re-elected to the House of Representatives again in 1976. In both of his races for re-election, he received more than 70 percent of the votes.

In 1978, Cochran was elected to the United States Senate, becoming the first Republican in more than 100 years to win a statewide election in Mississippi. He has since been re-elected five times and is currently serving his sixth term in office.

As a member of the Senate, Cochran has served as Chairman of the Senate Republican Conference; Chairman of the Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee; and Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Cochran currently serves as Ranking Member of the full Appropriations Committee.

He is the Ranking Member of two Appropriations subcommittees, the Subcommittee on Defense and the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies. He also serves as a member of the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry; and the Committee on Rules and Administration, and the Joint Committee on the Library, which oversees the activities of the Library of Congress.

Cochran's legislative record includes the sponsorship of the National Missile Defense Act of 1999, the Campaign Finance Reform Act, as well as key provisions of several farm bills. Cochran has also written legislation supporting education programs such as teacher training, vocational education, libraries, and educational television. He served as a member of the National Education Goals Panel.

Senator Cochran's leadership and assistance has contributed to the funding of various university-based research projects. Some of these include: energy, agriculture, and forestry facilities at Mississippi State University; the School of Polymers and High Performance Materials at the University of Southern Mississippi; the Natural Products Center, Water and Wetlands Center, and Food Service Management Institute at the University of Mississippi; the National Warmwater Aquaculture Research Center at Stoneville; and the Jackson Heart Study at Jackson State University and the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Cochran authored the Mississippi Wilderness Act which is the first federal legislation ever passed for the perpetual protection of lands in the State of Mississippi. He also helped establish national wildlife refuges as a member of the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission, and he authored the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program. In 1994, he was named by Ducks Unlimited as Conservationist of the Year in Mississippi. He was named Conservationist of the Year in 1996 by the North American Waterfowl Federation and received the Conservation Achievement Award from the National Wildlife Federation. He has received the Lifetime Achievement Award of The Nature Conservancy.

Cochran has helped develop, maintain, and improve the Natchez Trace Parkway, the Natchez Historical Park, the Vicksburg National Military Park and the Gulf Islands National Seashore.

As a member of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, he has worked successfully to support the Navy's shipbuilding programs and the military bases and installations in Mississippi. Senator Cochran has served on the Board of Visitors of the Air Force Academy, as Chairman of the Board at the Military Academy at West Point, and as a member of the Board of Visitors at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Cochran used his role as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee to advance legislation providing over $87 billion in supplemental federal assistance to Mississippi and other states affected by Hurricane Katrina.

During previous Congresses, Cochran served on the Senate Ethics Committee, the Judiciary Committee, the Labor and Human Resources Committee, and the Committee on Indian Affairs. Service on these committees has enabled him to be actively involved in the writing of laws affecting a wide range of issues including rural development, health care, and criminal law.

Senator Cochran has been awarded honorary degrees from Kentucky Wesleyan College, Mississippi College, Blue Mountain College, the University of Richmond and Tougaloo College. He is a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution and the Kennedy Center Board of Trustees.

Cochran is a member of Northminster Baptist Church in Jackson. He and his wife Rose have two children and three grandchildren.

ROGER WICKER

Roger F. Wicker has represented Mississippi in the United States Senate since December 2007. During his time in the Senate, Wicker has championed pro-growth policies to create jobs and has worked to reduce spending, limit federal overreach, and maintain a strong national defense.

Wicker serves as Deputy Whip and is a member of the Armed Services Committee; the Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs Committee; the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee; and the Veterans Affairs Committee. As Deputy Whip, Wicker works alongside Republican Whip Jon Kyl to promote a conservative agenda and build support for the legislative plan.

Senator Wicker has been a strong advocate for economic development initiatives to help keep Mississippians competitive in a global marketplace. He has been honored by the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) for his work on pro-growth, pro-manufacturing policies in Congress. His advocacy for programs such as the Appalachian Regional Commission and Economic Development Administration has led to hundreds of millions of dollars in private investment in predominantly rural areas.

Senator Wicker has actively supported cancer survivorship programs and efforts to fight heart disease with the American Heart Association, diabetes and childhood obesity. He has been recognized twice as a "champion" of polio eradication for his work to wipe out polio worldwide. In 2003, he was one of three federal lawmakers to be presented the American Cancer Society's Capitol Dome Award for leadership in securing bipartisan support for programs "to address the devastating impact cancer has on individuals, families and communities throughout the U.S."

Senator Wicker is the co-founder of the Senate Malaria Caucus and has worked to eliminate this preventable disease. He was recognized by the American Heart Association which presented Wicker with its 1998 National Public Service Award. He was honored for developing an initiative to fund new, state-based disease prevention strategies and information activities.

He has been instrumental in bringing more research funding to Mississippi universities for a wide range of health-related projects to fight disease and improve quality of life. Most notably, Wicker authored the Muscular Dystrophy Community Assistance, Research, and Education (MD CARE) Act of 2001, which created NIH centers of excellence to coordinate and enhance muscular dystrophy research. The Wicker Project at Children's National Medical Center is a leader in muscular dystrophy research.

Prior to his service in the Senate, Wicker was elected seven times, beginning in 1994, to represent Mississippi's First Congressional District in the House of Representatives. Before being elected to Congress, he served in the state Senate representing Lee and Pontotoc counties.

As a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, Wicker served on the leadership team as deputy whip. In 2001, he was elected to the Republican Policy Committee and was re-elected to that position in 2007.

He served on the House Appropriations Committee, a seat he received as a freshman in 1995. He was a member of the Defense Subcommittee and in 2007 was named ranking minority member of the Military Construction/VA Subcommittee. As the top Republican on the panel, his responsibilities encompassed helping fund wide-ranging activities affecting veterans including health care, construction of VA health facilities, pensions and benefits as well as military construction projects in the U.S. and around the world.

Senator Wicker served on active duty in the U.S. Air Force and then joined the Air Force Reserve. He retired from the Reserve in 2004 with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

A native of Pontotoc, the Senator is the son of former Circuit Judge Fred Wicker and the late Mrs. Wordna Wicker. He was educated in the public schools of Pontotoc and received his B.A. and law degrees from the University of Mississippi. While at Ole Miss, Wicker served as the Associated Student body President and was inducted into the Hall of Fame. Wicker is a member of the First Baptist Church of Tupelo, where he sings in the choir. He formerly served as chairman of the deacons at First Baptist Church.

Active in his community, Wicker is a member of the Community Development Foundation and the Lions Club, where he has served as vice president.

Senator Wicker is married to the former Gayle Long of Tupelo. They have three children: Margaret and son-in-law Manning McPhillips; Caroline and son-in-law Kirk Sims; and McDaniel Wicker; and two grandchildren: Caroline and Henry McPhillips.

Congressman First District

ALAN NUNNELEE

Congressman Alan Nunnelee represents the citizens of Mississippi's First Congressional District. On January 5, 2011, he first took the Oath of Office to support and defend our Constitution. He was re-elected in 2012. Nunnelee believes that the strength of America lies in its people, neighborhoods, churches and communities, not the federal government. Nunnelee is known for his conservative, pro-life, pro-family, fiscally responsible values and is a defender of the Second Amendment. Congressman Nunnelee currently serves on the House Appropriations Committee and the Agriculture, Energy and Water and Military Construction and Veterans Affairs Subcommittees.

Before joining Congress, Nunnelee represented Lee and Pontotoc counties in the Mississippi State Senate. He served as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and was a leader on several national committees addressing public health issues. He was instrumental in bringing comprehensive tort reform to Mississippi. Nunnelee has also been nationally recognized for his success in making Mississippi the safest place for unborn children. In 2001, Nunnelee passed legislation to place our national motto, "In God We Trust" on the wall of every school classroom in Mississippi without spending any tax dollars to achieve this goal.

He has been rated as a Business Champion for his support of issues relating to the free enterprise system as well as recognized by the Mississippi Lions Eye Bank for invaluable service to the blind. The Mississippi Farm Bureau named him the "Friend of Agriculture" in 2001 for his outstanding contribution to agriculture and rural Mississippi.

Nunnelee is a graduate of Mississippi State University. Prior to Congress, he was Vice President of Allied Funeral Associates, a life insurance company and a member of the Community Development Foundation's board of directors.

Nunnelee is a deacon and Sunday School teacher at Calvary Baptist. He and his wife Tori have three children: Reed who is married to Kemily, Emily who is married to Trey, and Nathan who is married to Colleen. Nunnelee and Tori also have two grandchildren, Thomas Kemp and Harper Grace Nunnelee.

Congressman Second District

BENNIE THOMPSON

Congressman Bennie G. Thompson is a firm believer in giving back to those who afforded him an opportunity to serve. His 45 years of public service are a testament to his unwavering dedication to fulfill their expectations and to be the resounding voice for the constituents of the Second District of Mississippi.

While earning his Bachelor of Science and Masters of Science degrees from Tougaloo College and Jackson State University, respectively, Thompson began to develop his grassroots political activism. He joined the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), and helped to organize voter registration drives for African-Americans in the Mississippi Delta. As a product of the Civil Rights Movement, Thompson has remained committed to ensuring that all people are allowed to exercise their fundamental rights.

After graduating from college, Thompson followed in the footsteps of his mother and worked as a schoolteacher. It was during this time that he began to pursue aggressively a career in politics.

From 1968 to 1972, Thompson served as alderman, and he went on to serve as mayor from 1973 to 1980 in Bolton. As Bolton mayor and as founding member and President of the Mississippi Association of Black Mayors, he initiated policies and provided services benefitting the underserved citizens of his hometown. Thompson made sure that resources were invested to improve the city's infrastructure, paved streets in rural areas, renovated dilapidated houses in developing neighborhoods, spearheaded the construction of a city hall and reevaluated the town's real estate to reflect accurate values.

In 1975, having firsthand knowledge of the disparity between funding, equipment, and supplies provided to historically black universities and those provided to white colleges, Thompson filed a lawsuit to increase funding at Mississippi's historically black universities. With Thompson as lead plaintiff, the Ayers case was subsequently settled for an unprecedented $503 million.

From 1980 to 1993, Thompson served as Hinds County Supervisor and was the founding member and President of the state's Association of Black Supervisors. His reputation of being a pragmatic local public servant afforded him an opportunity to be the vocal champion for his constituents.

In 1993, Thompson was elected the Democratic Congressman for Mississippi's Second District. Presently serving his ninth term as Congressman and being the longest-serving African-American elected official in the state of Mississippi, Thompson's stellar voting record is indicative of his determination to be an activist for reform. Congressman Thompson has served on the Agriculture, Budget and Small Business Committees.

In 2000, Thompson authored legislation creating the National Center for Minority Health and Health Care Disparities, which subsequently became law. He received a Presidential appointment to serve on the National Council on Health Planning and Development.

In August 2005, the State of Mississippi was devastated by the natural disasters of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. Thompson aggressively advocated for disaster relief improvements within government agencies, and provided oversight to ensure that federal funds were properly allocated for Gulf Coast recovery.

In 2006, Thompson was chosen to serve as the first Democratic Chairman of the Homeland Security Committee. As Chairman, Congressman Thompson introduced and engineered House passage of the most comprehensive homeland security package since September 11, 2001 – H.R. 1, the "9/11 Commission Recommendations Act of 2007." Thompson is now serving his third term as Chairman.

Thompson's 26 years of experience as a volunteer firefighter motivates him to aggressively advocate on behalf of our law enforcement and first responders. He believes that they should receive the necessary resources and tools to effectively respond to any and all emergencies.

Thompson is a lifelong member of the Asbury United Methodist Church in Bolton, Mississippi. He has been married to his college sweetheart, London Johnson of Mound Bayou, for 44 years. The couple has one daughter BendaLonne, one granddaughter Jeanna, and one grandson Thomas Gordon.

Thompson is an avid outdoorsman. He also enjoys gardening, reading, and listening to blues music.

Congressman Third District

GREGG HARPER

Gregg Harper was re-elected November 2012 to serve his third term in the U.S. House of Representatives, after having been first elected to Congress in November 2008. He has lived in Mississippi's Third Congressional District since 1972 and currently resides in Pearl with his wife of 33 years, Sidney, and their two children, Livingston and Maggie. The Harpers are active members of Crossgates Baptist Church in Brandon where Harper serves as a deacon.

Harper serves on the House Committee on Energy and Commerce and is a member of three subcommittees: Environment and the Economy; Commerce, Manufacturing and Trade and Oversight and Investigation. Additionally, he has been appointed by Speaker John Boehner to serve his second term on the Committee on House Administration, where he serves as chairman of the Subcommittee on Elections, and to the Committee on Ethics. For the past two terms in Congress, his peers have elected him as their class's representative on the Republican Steering Committee. He also serves as chair of the Joint Committee of the Library of Congress.

Prior to his swearing-in, Harper practiced law for 27 years, including serving as the prosecuting attorney for the cities of Brandon and Richland, and also served on the Mississippi Oil and Gas Board. Harper is active in his community as a member of both the Pearl and Rankin County Chambers of Commerce. A strong advocate for our Second Amendment rights, he is a Life Member of the National Rifle Association.

The son of a former petroleum engineer and a mom who worked two days a week until she was 88 years old, Harper learned at a young age the value of hard work and the importance of a solid education. Harper and his wife are both graduates of Mississippi College, where he majored in chemistry and then earned his law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1981.

Congressman Fourth District

STEVEN PALAZZO

Congressman Steven M. Palazzo represents the Fourth Congressional District of Mississippi and some of the finest people in the country. Like them, Palazzo believes in limited government, a strong defense, and the need for common-sense solutions to today's challenges.

Congressman Palazzo was sworn into office on January 5, 2011, and serves on the House Armed Services and Science, Space and Technology committees.

Born in Gulfport, Palazzo attended Saint John's High School before earning his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in accounting from the University of Southern Mississippi. During college, Palazzo met his wife Lisa and they are the proud parents of three children. The Palazzo family attends St. James Catholic Church.

In 1988, Palazzo enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserves. As a member of 3rd Force Reconnaissance, he celebrated his 21st birthday in the deserts of the Middle East while serving in the Persian Gulf War. After finishing his tour in the Marine Corps, he enlisted in the Mississippi Army National Guard, where he still serves.

Palazzo and his wife started a small business in 2001, giving him a unique perspective on what it means to create jobs and manage a budget. Over time, they have been able to grow their CPA firm into a successful agency that specializes in helping Americans living abroad with their income taxes.

In 2006, Palazzo was elected in a special election to the Mississippi House of Representatives. A year later, he was elected to a full term. During his time in the state legislature, Palazzo utilized his background in business to push through a tax cut for Mississippians and authored a resolution reaffirming the 10th Amendment, which properly defines a limited role for the federal government by reserving power for the states.

UNITED STATES FLAG ETIQUETTE

The following flag laws and regulations are contained in the Public Law as amended July 7, 1976, by the 94th Congress of the United States. They set forth the existing rules, customs, and etiquette pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Section 1

The following codification of existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America shall be and is hereby established for the use of such civilians or civilian groups or organizations as may not be required to conform with regulations promulgated by one or more executive departments of the Government of the United States.

The flag of the United States, for purposes of this chapter, shall be defined according to Title 4, United States Code, Chapter 1, §§ 1 and 2, and Executive Order 10834 issued pursuant thereto.

Section 2

(a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed twenty-four hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered cautiously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; Memorial Day (half-staff until noon), the last Monday in May; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, second Monday in October; Navy Day, October 27; Veterans Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (date of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be on the marching right, that is, the flag's own right; or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the United States flag's right.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a windowsill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States of America should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day.

On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff. By order of the President, the flag shall be flown at half-staff upon the death of principal figures of the United States Government and the Governor of a State, territory or possession, as a mark of respect to their memory. In the event of the death of other officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag is to be displayed at half-staff according to presidential instructions or orders, or in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with the law. In the event of the death of a present or former official of the government of any State, territory or possession of the United States, the Governor of that State, territory or possession may proclaim that the National flag shall be flown at half-staff. The flag shall be flown at half-staff thirty days from the death of the President or a former President; ten days from the death of a Vice President, the Chief Justice or a retired Chief Justice of the United States, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives: from the day of death until interment of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, a Secretary of an executive or military department, a former Vice President, or the Governor of a State, territory or possession; and on the day of death and the following day for a Member of Congress. As used in this subsection:

1. the term "half-staff" means the position of the flag when it is one half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff;
2. the term "executive or military department" means any agency listed under sections 101 and 102 of Title 5, United States Code; and,

3. the term “Member of Congress” means a Senator, a Representative, a Delegate, or the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered in the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

(o) When the flag is suspended across a corridor or lobby in a building with only one main entrance, it should be suspended vertically with the union of the flag to the observer’s left upon entering. If the building has more than one main entrance, the flag should be suspended vertically near the center of the corridor or lobby with the union to the north, when entrances are to the east and west, or to the east when entrances are to the north and south. If there are entrances in more than two directions, the union should be to the east.

That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America, the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as wearing apparel, bedding, or drapery. It should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker’s desk, draping the front of the platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in such manner as to permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard.

Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) No part of the flag should ever be used as a costume or athletic uniform. However, a flag patch may be affixed to the uniform of military personnel, firemen, policemen, and members of patriotic organizations. The flag represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing. Therefore, the lapel flag pin being a replica, should be worn on the left lapel near the heart.

(k) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

During rendition of the national anthem when the flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform shall stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should render the military salute at the first note of the anthem and retain this position until the last note. When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag:

> "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.

Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and, any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: provided that nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the headquarters of the United Nations.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Organization of Mississippi into county governments began with its establishment as a territory of the United States in 1798 as well as predating its admittance to the Union on December 10, 1817, as the 20th state in the United States.

Mississippi's earliest counties include: Adams (organized in 1798), Amite (1809), Claiborne (1802), Franklin (1809), Greene (1811), Hancock (1812), Jackson (1812), Jefferson (1799 – as "Pickering;" named "Jefferson" in 1802), Lawrence (1814), Marion (1811), Pike (1815), Warren (1809), Washington (1800), Wayne (1809), and Wilkinson (1802).

The last county formed within the State's boundaries was Stone County, established in 1916. County boundaries were changed over time to accommodate the formation of new counties.

COUNTYWIDE OFFICES

BOARD ATTORNEY

Qualifications: An attorney qualified to practice law in Mississippi.

Duties: The Board Attorney is not an elected office. This person represents the county's Board of Supervisors by their appointment.

CHANCERY CLERK

Qualifications: These officers must be qualified electors of the county in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $15 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The Chancery Clerk is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The Chancery Clerk is the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and of the Chancery Court. The Clerk is responsible for maintaining the records of both the Board and the Court.

CIRCUIT CLERK

Qualifications: These officers must be qualified electors of the county in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $15.

Duties: The Circuit Clerk is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The Clerk is the chief officer of the Circuit Court and chief elections officer of the county. The Clerk maintains the voter rolls and assists the Election Commissioners in purging the voter rolls, and assists election officials in conducting primary and general elections.

TAX ASSESSOR AND/OR COLLECTOR

Qualifications: These officers must be qualified electors of the county in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $15 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The Tax Assessor and/or Collector may serve in both capacities in all counties. This official is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The Assessor's role is to maintain the personal, real, and ad valorem tax rolls of the county. The Collector is responsible for keeping the records of tax payments and depositing the money in the county treasury.

CORONER

Qualifications: The Coroner must be a qualified elector, at least 21 years of age, of the county in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $10 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The Coroner is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election. The Coroner is the chief county medical examiner and/or county medical examiner investigator. This official is responsible for issuing declarations of death and performing or reporting results of autopsies in cases requiring such action.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Qualifications: The County Prosecuting Attorney must be a qualified elector and a regular licensed and practicing attorney. The qualifying fee is $15 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The County Prosecuting Attorney represents the state in all investigations for felony in Justice Court and County Court and in all criminal cases appealed to the Circuit Court from County Court. The county prosecutor may assist the district attorney, present matters to the county grand jury, and in some youth court proceedings. The county attorney is elected to a four-year term and may run for re-election.

COUNTY SURVEYOR

Qualifications: The County Surveyor must be a registered land surveyor and a qualified elector of the county in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $10 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The County Surveyor executes all orders of survey directed to him by any court, all surveys of land within his county at the request of the owners or proprietors, and to survey, resurvey, measure, and divide land as requested by the county board of supervisors.

SHERIFF

Qualifications: The Sheriff must not be a defaulter to the State or any county or municipality or to the United States and a qualified elector. The qualifying fee is $15 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: The Sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the county and is elected to a four-year term. He may run for re-election. The Sheriff is the chief officer of the Chancery and Circuit Courts and maintains the county law library. The Sheriff is in charge of the county courthouse, jail, and protection of prisoners.

TYPES OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Mississippi has five different types of school districts:

1. Consolidated School Districts – lie wholly within one county, but do not include municipal separate and county;
2. Line Consolidated School Districts – embrace territory in two or more counties, but do not include municipal separate districts;
3. Municipal Separate School Districts – encompass the boundary of a municipality, and may have added territory;
4. Special Municipal Separate School Districts – municipal separate districts which have been reconstituted or reorganized with added territory exclusive of any added territory which was part of the municipal separate school district before reorganization;
5. County School Districts – lie wholly within a county and are not constituted as either form of consolidated or municipal district. Superintendents of Education in all districts with the exception of county districts are appointed. County Superintendents of Education are elected with the exception of Hinds County.

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

Qualifications: A Superintendent of Education must be a qualified elector, the holder of a valid Class AA Administrator's certificate issued by the State Department of Education, and not less than four years of classroom and/or administrative experience.

Duties: The Miss. Code Ann. (1972) provides for a County Superintendent of Education to be in each county. The Superintendent is elected to a four-year term and may seek re-election. The Superintendent of Education is the chief administrative officer of the school district. The Superintendent serves as the executive secretary of the county board of education, but has no vote in the proceedings before the board and no voice in fixing its policies. The Superintendent is the director of all schools in the county outside the municipal separate school districts.

COUNTY DISTRICT OFFICES

CONSTABLE

Qualifications: Constables must be qualified electors in the county and district in which elections are sought. The qualifying fee is $10 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: A County Constable shall keep and preserve the peace within his county by aiding and assisting in executing the criminal laws of the state for the Justice Courts of his district. Constables shall obey all lawful orders and execute all judgments for Justice Courts within this district.

JUSTICE COURT CLERK

Qualifications: The board of supervisors of each county shall appoint one (1) person to serve as Clerk of the Justice Court system.

Duties: The Clerk shall file and record actions and pleadings, acknowledge affidavits, issue warrants in criminal cases, certify and issue copies of records, documents, and pleadings filed in the Justice Court, collect any fines or costs required by the Justice Court, and to issue all processes necessary for the operation of the Justice Court.

JUSTICE COURT JUDGE

Qualifications: A Justice Court Judge must be a qualified elector, a resident of the county for two (2) years preceding the day of election, a high school graduate, and complete a course of training required by law within six (6) months of the beginning of the term of office. The qualifying fee is $10 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: Justice Court Judges shall have civil and criminal jurisdiction of all actions where the principal of the debt, amount of the demand, or the value of the property sought to be recovered shall not exceed $3,500.

SUPERVISOR

Qualifications: County Supervisors must be qualified electors of the county and a resident in the district in which election is sought. The qualifying fee is $15 and is payable to the appropriate county executive committee via the Circuit Clerk.

Duties: Supervisors shall have the power to adopt, modify, alter, or repeal orders, resolutions, or ordinances in their respective county and district not inconsistent with law. In general, Supervisors have jurisdiction over roads, ferries, bridges, tax levies, courthouses, jails, county-owned real property, appropriation of funds, contractual powers of municipality as well as other powers expressly authorized by law.

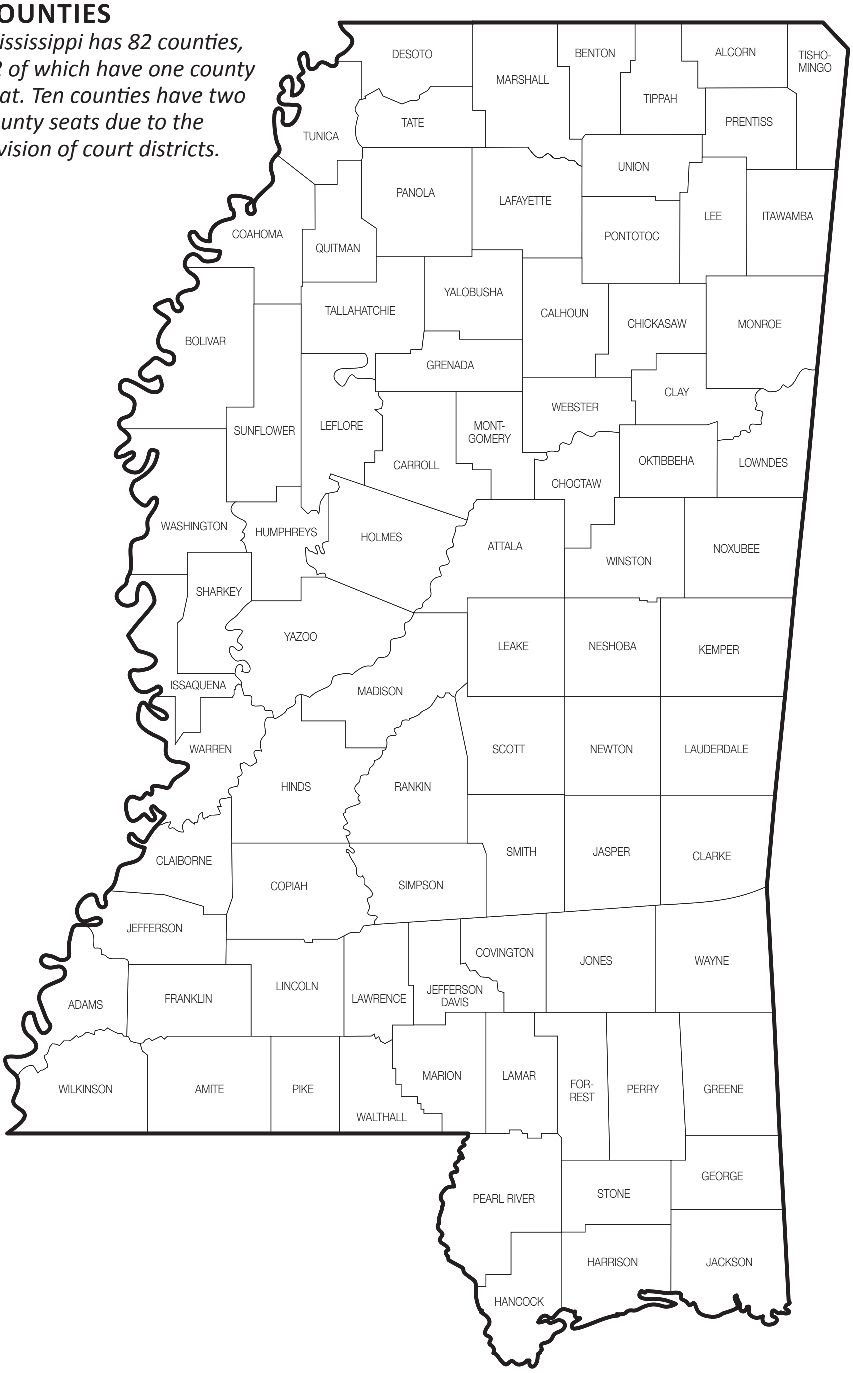
ELECTION COMMISSIONERS

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the supervisor district in which election is sought. No fee required. Number of signatures required: 50.

Duties: An Election Commissioner's general duties include conducting elections, certifying election results, and purging voter rolls.

COUNTIES

Mississippi has 82 counties, 72 of which have one county seat. Ten counties have two county seats due to the division of court districts.



Natchez Spring Pilgrimage is held in March/April each spring in the Natchez Historic District.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

Municipal Government, as outlined in Miss. Code Ann. Title 21 et seq., may be structured under one of four organizational options: Commission, Council, Mayor Council and Council-Manager. State law creates three classifications for municipalities: cities, towns and villages based on population size.

Sources: Information for this section was compiled by written and telephone surveys by the Secretary of State's Office, membership information from the Mississippi Municipal League, documents on file at the Secretary of State's Office, the Mississippi Code, and the 2010 Census. It reflects data current as of May 1, 2013. Most Mississippi municipalities will hold general elections for city/town officials in June 2013. New municipal officials will be included in the online version of the Blue Book posted on the Secretary of State's website.

MUNICIPALITIES

Mississippi law classifies municipalities according to population size. Municipalities with populations of more than 2,000 are classified as cities. Places containing between 301 and 2,000 persons are considered towns. Municipalities between 100 and 300 persons are called villages. The State no longer provides for creation of new "hamlet" entities. Municipalities change classification according to the results of each decennial U.S. Census.

The city of Diamondhead in Hancock County, incorporated January 30, 2012, is Mississippi's newest municipality. The city of Natchez is the oldest municipality in the State, incorporating March 10, 1803. Jackson, the State Capital, is the largest city with a 2010 U.S. Census population of 173,514.

Areas may incorporate to become a city, town or village by presenting to the Chancery Court a petition signed by two-thirds of the qualified voters who reside in the proposed municipality. The petition must describe the boundaries of the city, designate a name, identify the number of inhabitants, calculate the assessed value of real property within those city limits, state the reasons for incorporation, identify the services to be offered and provide a list of interim city officials. Once the Chancery Court approves the incorporation application, the Secretary of State then issues a charter for the new city. The charter is the city's basic law or constitution.

The major function of Municipal Government is to provide services for its citizens such as maintaining roads and bridges, providing law and fire protection and furnishing health and sanitation services.

In Mississippi, State law establishes four types of municipal governments, as described in Miss. Code Ann. Title 21 et seq. (1972). In current practice, municipal government takes three basic forms organizing as either a mayor-council government, a commission government or a council-manager government.

Mayor-council governments – Voters elect a mayor and a city council, usually referred to as the board of aldermen. The number of aldermen varies from five to seven depending on the population of the city. Aldermen are elected from geographic districts called wards.

Depending on the powers granted the mayor, mayor-council governments are described as either a weak mayor type or a strong mayor type. The weak mayor-council form is the most widely adopted in Mississippi. Voters elect the mayor and aldermen who together decide whether other officials such as the city clerk or tax collector are elected or appointed. The mayor shares administrative powers with the aldermen including budget preparation. In the strong mayor-council form, the mayor has the power to hire and fire city employees and has a larger role in budget preparation. Under both forms, the mayor presides over council meetings and has veto power over council actions.

Commission governments – Voters elect a mayor and at least two commissions. The mayor presides over commission meetings but has no veter power. The mayor is the official representative of the city and administers major municipal departments while individual commissioners head other specific departments. The commissioners are elected from different wards and the mayor is elected at-large. (Jackson changed from a commission to a strong mayor-council form of government in 1985.)

Council-manager governments – Voters elect a mayor and council which, in turn, hire a city manager. The mayor presides over council meetings and represents the city. The council is the policy-making body for the municipality while the managers handles the day-to-day operations including the hiring/firing of city employees, budget preparation and fiscal management. The city manager attends council meetings but does not have a vote.

AGENCIES, BOARDS & COMMISSIONS

The Secretary of State's Office is assigned the responsibility to maintain a record of all state agencies, boards and commissions including their appointive memberships. Additionally, the Secretary notifies the appointing elected officials of approaching vacancies on various boards and commissions to facilitate the appointment process. Each year, the Secretary of State submits a report to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House of Representatives and members of the state Legislature on the composition of all state agencies, board and commissions.

To keep Mississippi taxpayers and residents more informed of state government operations, a complete listing of all agencies, board and commissions and the individuals appointed to serve on those bodies is updating daily and available for viewing on the Secretary of State's website: www.sos.ms.gov. A full board listing and a summary list of boards and commissions are available . The website has a searchable database by appointees' names, appointing authority and vacancies.

Mississippi has 151 public school districts serving almost 500,000 students and employing more than 32,000 teachers.

The Mississippi Department of Education, which operates under the direction and supervision of the State Superintendent of Education, implements a systemwide plan of performance, policy and direction for public education in Mississippi. The Mississippi Board of Education, in conjunction with the State Superintendent of Education, adopts and maintains a curriculum and a course of study to be used in public schools that is designed to prepare Mississippi's students to become productive citizens, parents, employees and leaders. The Board also regulates all matters arising in the practical administration of the school system not otherwise provided for and regulates issues such as curriculum, teacher standards and certification, student testing, accountability and school accreditation.

The Board's vision is to create a world-class education system to give students the knowledge and skills to allow them to be successful in college and the workforce and flourish as parents and citizens. To that end, the Board has set three goals: to mobilize resources and supports to help ensure that all students exit the 3rd grade reading on grade level by 2020; to reduce the dropout rate to 13% by 2013; and to reach the national average on national assessments by 2013.

There are five basic strategies for accomplishing these goals: 1) implement ongoing, comprehensive reform in the areas of instruction, curriculum, assessment design and accountability systems for all grade levels from early education through graduation; 2) increase the quantity and quality of teachers; 3) increase the quantity and quality of administrators; 4) create a culture in Mississippi that understands the value of education; and 5) redesign education for the 21st century workforce in Mississippi.

In addition to traditional classroom instruction, Mississippi also offers the Mississippi Virtual Public School Program, a free web-based educational program providing Mississippi students with access to a wider range of course work. Technology is used to deliver instruction to students via the Internet in a virtual or remote setting.

Mississippi also operates four programs open to students statewide: the Mississippi School for the Deaf, the Mississippi School for the Blind, the Mississippi School for Mathematics and Science, and the Mississippi Schools of the Arts.

The Department has undertaken a systematic process in the work of dropout prevention and in the development of a strategic dropout prevention plan. The State Dropout Prevention Plan seeks to accomplish three overarching goals: 1) to increase the graduation rate to 85% by 2018-2019; 2) to reduce the state dropout rate by 50% by 2012-2013; and 3) to reduce the statewide truancy rate by 50% by 2012-2013.

DR. CAREY WRIGHT

State Superintendent of Education

Dr. Carey Wright, founder and CEO of Wright Approach Consulting in Maryland and a 36-year veteran administrator and teacher, was named in September as Mississippi's first permanent female State Superintendent of Education. Her appointment is effective Nov. 1, 2013.

Wright was previously chief academic officer for the District of Columbia public school district. There, she supervised a $48 million budget and chaired the Secondary School Transformation Steering Committee, Academic Plan Development and Implementation Committee and the Principals' Professional Development Team. She also served as deputy chief of the Office of Teaching and Learning for the pre-kindergarten through Grade 12 program, including management of the offices of Curriculum and Instruction, Head Start/ Early Childhood Education, Secondary School Transformation, Inclusive Academic Programs, Athletics, Bilingual Education and Instructional Technology.

Wright has spent the majority of her professional career in Maryland, which ranked first in the nation for five consecutive years by the 2013 Quality Counts report on educational quality. She served as the associate superintendent for special education and student services in Montgomery County Public Schools before going to the District of Columbia in 2009.

She also served as adjunct professor at Johns Hopkins University and Towson State University. Wright earned her bachelor's, master of education and doctor of education degrees from the University of Maryland in College Park.

MSMS is a public, residential, co-educational high school for academically talented juniors and seniors. Created by the Mississippi Legislature on July 1, 1987, MSMS is located on the campus of the Mississippi University for Women in Columbus and is governed by the State Board of Education. The academic program is designed to challenge each student based upon their individual capabilities, backgrounds and interests. Emphasis is placed on mathematics, science and technology instruction. The mission of the school is to "enhance the future of Mississippi by providing innovative learning experiences in a residential environment to meet individual needs of gifted and talented students and by providing quality educational leadership and aggressive outreach programs."

Admission is open to all Mississippi 10th-grade academically talented students. Applications should have a record of school performance that is above average in most subjects and must demonstrate clear evidence of interest in mathematics and/or science and be noted for intellectual curiosity.

MSMS is a state-supported school and charges no tuition. A $500-per-semester room and board fee was imposed in 2008.

The Mississippi School of the Arts, located on the Whitworth College campus in Brookhaven, is a residential school providing advanced programs of study in music, theatre, visual arts, dance, literary arts and media arts for artistically gifted 11th and 12th grade students from public school districts across Mississippi. Curriculum at MSA focuses on the arts and humanities. The school's mission is to provide a challenging arts education for artistically gift Mississippi students in a residential learning environment.

MSA was established in 1999 by the Mississippi Legislature as a residential facility in partnership with the Brookhaven School District.

Dr. Sandra G. Edwards – Superintendent
Bradley Porche – Academic Principal

Established in 1854, the Mississippi School for the Deaf is the state's official school for all children in Mississippi who are deaf or hard of hearing. From the earliest detection of a hearing problem, the schools is prepared to provide children with the communication skills and confidence they need to succeed.

Located in Jackson, the school is a comprehensive center providing education, resources and services for deaf and hard-of-hearing children, their families and educational partners. Empowered with a positive deaf identity, students will possess the confidence, discipline, leadership and productivity to become contributing citizens in their communities.

The Residence Education Program at the Mississippi School for the deaf provides age-appropriate recreational and educational activities for students to help improve their independent living skills.

Dr. Rosie Thompson Pridgen – Superintendent

The mission of Mississippi School for the Blind (MSB) is to promote the development of each visually impaired child's or youth's maximum potential by providing specialized services, materials, and technology. This mission has remained constant since MSB was founded in 1848 by an act of the Mississippi Legislature. It is accomplished through the collaborative efforts of the Mississippi Department of Education, MSB's staff, students, parents, alumni, and supporters throughout the state. MSB serves any eligible student without regard to the child's economic status, religious affiliation, ethnic background, or sex.

MISSISSIPPI COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

Mississippi's 15 community and junior colleges provide the opportunity for an excellent education at a low cost for hundreds of thousands of state residents. The colleges offer a wide spectrum of subject areas including university-track academic classes, career and technical skills, workforce education directed toward specific jobs as well as adult basic education and GED preparation. Much of the instructional program is also available via the Mississippi Virtual Community College, which offers more than 2500 courses taught by approximately 1,330 instructors from the colleges.

Mississippi's public community and junior college system began in 1924 when the Legislature authorized agricultural high schools and certain municipal school districts to include the freshman and/or sophomore years of college work. Four years later, these schools were directed to establish junior colleges and other school districts; counties were also allowed to unite to establish junior colleges of their own.

By 1931, 11 such institutions had been formed in connection with agricultural high schools. The combined enrollment was 1,619 students. By 1950, four additional junior colleges were established, and the 15 districts boasted a combined enrollment of 7,984. In 1987, the colleges were allowed to change their names to community college as a more appropriate description of their relationships with their districts.

During the 1940s, vocational and trade programs were upgraded and expanded to accommodate World War II efforts and the re-training of veterans. Nursing education, vocational, and technical education were added as missions during the 1950s and 1960s. Public community colleges are the delivery systems for postsecondary vocational-technical education in Mississippi. Approximately 550 approved courses afford a choice of more than 110 unduplicated programs. Miss. Code Ann. § 37-4-1 (1972) sets the mission of community and junior colleges to provide educational services for the people of the state through:

- Academic courses and degrees for transfer to universities and senior colleges
- Academic, technical, and vocational programs for career goals
- Continuing education opportunities
- Civic, economic, and cultural growth leadership
- Organization and Governance

The State Board for Community and Junior Colleges is given the responsibility of administering state-funded industrial training, adult post secondary short-term training, and state workforce education programs. The Board is designated to be the primary support agency to the workforce development centers across the state.

The public community/junior college districts are political subdivisions of local rather than state government. Each district is governed by local boards of trustees which are comprised of from two to six members from each county in the district. The county superintendent of education may serve as one member with other members appointed by the boards of supervisors of the counties. Trustees serve five-year terms. The State Board of Community and Junior Colleges was established as an independent state-level coordinating agency for the system, replacing the Junior College Commission. The State board is comprised of ten members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Members serve six-year staggered terms. The Board administers state laws and appropriations for the system, sets standards for operation, and approves new programs and attendance centers for the colleges.

DR. ERIC CLARK

Executive Director, Mississippi Community College Board

Dr. Eric Clark began serving as Executive Director of the Mississippi Community College Board in January 2008. He previously served for 12 years as the Mississippi Secretary of State and 16 years as a member of the Mississippi Legislature.

He attended Jones county Junior College and received a bachelor's degree from Millsaps College, a master's degree from the University of Mississippi and a doctorate in history from Mississippi State University. Dr. Clark taught history and government at Jones County Junior College, Mississippi College and Belhaven University.

Clark has been recognized with the American Family Association's "God and Country" Award for authoring the law that outlawed possession of child pornography in Mississippi. He was also given the Mississippi Wildlife Federation's conservation Legislator of the Year and twice awarded the Mississippi Nature Conservancy's Public Service Award for his efforts to preserve natural lands on the Gulf Coast. He is a Certified Public Manager.

He currently serves on the boards of Jobs for Mississippi Graduates, the State Workforce Investment Board, the Mississippi Technology Alliance, the Mississippi Chapter of the Nature Conservancy and Mississippi Public Broadcasting.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

board@ihl.state.ms.us

The Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning provides management and control of Mississippi's system of eight universities.

Created in 1943 by a Constitutional amendment (Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Article 9, § 213-A), the Board consists of 12 members. An amendment to this section of the Constitution was passed in 2003. It requires, effective after January 1, 2004, that board members be appointed from each of the three Mississippi Supreme Court Districts until there are four members from each district on the board. The terms of office for the board members are then reduced from 12 years to nine years. The terms are staggered so that all members appointed after 2012 will have terms of nine years.

The position of Commissioner of Higher Education was created by the Legislature in 1988 to replace the former Executive Secretary and Director of the Board position. The Commissioner is responsible for the day-to-day functions of the Board. The Commissioner serves as the Board's chief executive and administers its policies and decisions. In addition, the Commissioner directs a professional staff with expertise in academic programs fiscal matters, communications, technology, research and planning, student financial aid, and physical facilities.

By statute, the IHL Board of Trustees holds two regular slated meetings annually, one in June and the other in January, and as many special meetings as may be necessary on call of the president or on call of five members. The Board distributes a calendar of Board meetings, which has a meeting scheduled each month except December, when the Board is subject to call.

The IHL Board oversees degree-credit courses, research and public service activities and programs at the eight public universities, the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Center, Mississippi Agricultural, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine, 10 degree granting off-campus instructional programs and various other locations throughout the state. Available programs range from a variety of undergraduate disciplines to most professional fields. All eight universities offer master's level programs; six have programs at the education specialist level and five offer doctoral-level programs.

In the fall term of 2011-2012, Mississippi's eight universities showed 80,516 students pursuing academic degree credit in the system. Of these 57,351 were full-time undergraduate students and 12,560 were full-time graduate students. State residents dominate enrollment with 61,917 students originating from Mississippi and 18,599 students from out-of-state.

Approximately 80 percent of all Mississippi college students receive some form of financial aid for a total of $898 million in aid. The Board oversees an annual budget of more than $2.4 billion.

There are 1,615 buildings on Mississippi's public university campuses including almost 31.3 million square feet.

DR. HANK BOUNDS

Commissioner of Higher Education

hbounds@ihl.state.ms.us

Dr. Hank M. Bounds was appointed by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning as Mississippi's sixth Commissioner of Higher Education on July 27, 2009.

As Commissioner, Dr. Bounds oversees the state's public four-year university system, which includes the State Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL), four research institutions and four regional institutions. Mississippi's public universities enroll more than 80,000 students and award more than 15,000 degrees each year.

Bounds has worked hard to ensure that more students are able to reach the finish line of obtaining their degrees. He served on the Graduation Rate Task Force, which was comprised of 19 business, education and state leaders, and continues to serve on the Education Achievement Council, the permanent organization that grew out of the Task Force. The Council works to establish education achievement goals for the state and monitor on the state's progress toward these goals.

These goals are in sync with the recommendations of Blueprint 2011, which Dr. Bounds chairs. Blueprint 2011, a project to update the existing Blueprint plan and explore new areas of opportunity, includes among its recommendations to increase the educational achievement level of Mississippians and to support the Education Achievement Council in its efforts to increase the number of associates and bachelor's degree holders.

Toward these goals, Bounds has also provided leadership in the development and implementation of major-specific articulation agreements between all eight public universities and 15 public community colleges for students majoring in elementary education, business and physical education. Other majors will follow and will help thousands of community college students enjoy a seamless transition to the university of their choice and reduce the time necessary to obtain a bachelor's degree.

Dr. Bounds served as chair of the Center for Education Innovation, which is funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and focuses on the improving learning opportunities for Mississippi's children. The Center works as an agent for sustainable change in communities where poverty, low educational attainment and a lack of infrastructure intersect.

Dr. Bounds, a lifelong educator, previously served four years as State Superintendent of Education. As the chief executive officer of Mississippi's public K-12 school system, Dr. Bounds launched several groundbreaking initiatives including On the Bus, a statewide dropout prevention campaign that garnered national attention.

Dr. Bounds also spearheaded an effort to design a more rigorous state curriculum and assessment system to meet national standards, and implemented High School Redesign, a plan to rework Mississippi high schools to effectively prepare students to compete in the 21st Century world.

In 2009, Dr. Bounds worked with state leaders in both legislative chambers to pass the Children First Act, legislation crucial to the turnaround of Mississippi's underperforming schools.

Before becoming the State Superintendent in August 2005, Dr. Bounds served as superintendent of the Pascagoula School District. He was principal of two high schools and one K-12 school. He holds both a Bachelor of Science in Sports Administration and Secondary Education and a Master of Education in Educational Administration from the University of Southern Mississippi, and a Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Leadership from the University of Mississippi.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

Miss. Code Ann. 37-101-1 (1972)
Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Article 8 213-A, as amended

Consists of 12 trustees appointed by the Governor.

The Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning is responsible for the management and control of the universities and units comprising the IHL system. The Board also is responsible for demonstrating accountability to the people of Mississippi and effectively communicating the accomplishments, need and value of the system of universities to the public. By strengthening and maintaining a viable comprehensive planning, management and evaluation process, the Board and the IHL system facilitate effective decision making, resource allocation and utilization, fiscal accountability and program review and evaluation.

Alcorn State University, the oldest predominantly black Land-Grant university in the United States, had its beginning in 1830 as Oakland College for the education of white male students. The Presbyterian school closed at the beginning of the Civil War. Upon failing to reopen after the war, the college was sold to the State for the education of her African-American citizens. After Congress passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862, the Mississippi Legislature in 1871 used funds generated through the Morrill Land-Grant Act to establish Alcorn University for the education of African-American youth, and it became known as Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College in 1878.

In 1974, it was renamed Alcorn State University by the Legislature. Alcorn State University is a co-educational, land-grant, liberal arts, science and teacher education public institution offering programs leading to associate, baccalaureate, master's, and educational specialist's degrees.

Dr. Alfred Rankins, Jr.

President
president@alcorn.edu

Dr. Alfred Rankins, Jr. is the former acting president of Mississippi Valley State University and associate commissioner for academic and student affairs for the Mississippi Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning. As the IHL system's chief academic officer, Dr. Rankins had administrative oversight for the Academic Affairs, America Reads Mississippi, College Knowledge, Gear Up Mississippi, Nursing Education, P-20 Initiatives, Strategic Data Management and Student Affairs units. As head of IHL's Division of Academic and Student Affairs, Dr. Rankins advises the IHL Board of Trustees and Commissioner of Higher Education on all matters pertaining to academic programs, policy and planning; student access, readiness and success; and faculty affairs.

Prior to his appointment at IHL, Dr. Rankins served on the faculty at Mississippi State University where he was chair of the President's Commission on the Status of Minorities, vice-chair of the Division of Agriculture, Forestry and Veterinary Medicine Faculty Senate, and president of the Council on Minority Affairs. Additionally, Dr. Rankins served on the Athletic Council, Title IX Gender Oversight Committee, Associate Dean's Council and the Center for Teaching and Learning Faculty Advisory Committee.

A native of Greenville, Dr. Rankins received a bachelor of science from Alcorn State University and both master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees from Mississippi State University. Dr. Rankins also currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television and the University Press of Mississippi. He also serves on the Mississippi Commission for College Accreditation and as Secretary-Treasurer for the Mississippi Association of Colleges.

Delta State University was created as Delta State Teachers College by an act of the Mississippi Legislature in 1924. The institution opened for its first regular session on September 15, 1925, with a faculty and staff of 11 members and an enrollment of 97 students. To match the institution's growth in enrollment and academic offerings, the name was changed to Delta State College in 1955 and to Delta State University in 1974. Graduate work was first offered in 1965 when the Master of Education degree was approved. The University began offering the Educational Specialist degree in 1972 and the Doctor of Education degree in 1981.

The University provides a comprehensive undergraduate curriculum, offering 13 baccalaureate degrees in 38 majors. It also provides programs of study for nine master's degrees, the Educational Specialist degree, and the Doctor of Education degree. The Mississippi Delta, a 20-county, northwestern region which is rich in various ethnic and cultural groups, provides approximately 80% of the University's enrollment.

Founded as Natchez Seminary in 1877 by the American Baptist Home Mission Society to serve the great Mississippi Valley between Memphis and the Gulf Coast, Jackson State University was established at Natchez. The school opened on October 23, 1877, with 20 students, and it operated as a private church school for 63 years. In 1882, the Society moved the school to Jackson. In 1894, the University was moved from its original site in north Jackson to a new tract of land in the southwest section of the city. The state assumed support of the college in 1940, assigning to it the mission of training teachers. Between 1953 and 1956, the curriculum was expanded to include a graduate program and bachelor's programs in the arts and sciences. The name was changed to Jackson State College in 1956 and to Jackson State University in 1974. In 1979, Jackson State was officially designated the Urban University of the State of Mississippi. As the urban university, emphasis is placed on providing public service programs designed to enhance the quality of life and to seek solutions to urban problems in the physical, social, intellectual, and economic environments.

Mississippi State University began as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the State of Mississippi, one of the national Land-Grant Colleges established after Congress had passed the Morrill Act in 1862. It was created by the Mississippi Legislature on February 28, 1878, to fulfill the mission of offering training in "agriculture, horticulture and the mechanical arts without excluding other scientific and classical studies, including military tactics." The college received its first students in the fall of 1880. In 1887, Congress passed the Hatch Act, which provided for the establishment of the Agricultural Experiment Station. Two other pieces of federal legislation provided funds for extending the mission of the College. In 1914, the Smith-Lever Act called for "instruction in practical agriculture and home economics to persons not attendant or resident," thus creating the state-wide effort which led to Extension offices in every county in the State; and, in 1917, the Smith-Hughes Act provided for the training of teachers in vocational education. In 1926 the College received its first accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. In 1932 it was renamed Mississippi State College. In 1958 the Legislature renamed it Mississippi State University.

Dr. Mark E. Keenum

President
president@msstate.edu

Dr. Mark Everett Keenum became Mississippi State's 19th president Jan. 5, 2009, following a distinguished public service career.

After completing his bachelor's and master's degrees in agricultural economics at Mississippi State, Dr. Keenum joined the university faculty in 1984 as a marketing specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. Two years later, he accepted a position as a research associate with the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station at MSU. He continued his education at the university, in 1988 receiving a doctorate in agricultural economics, and he joined the faculty of that department as assistant professor/economist.

In 1989, Dr. Keenum joined the Washington, D.C., staff of U.S. Senator Thad Cochran as Legislative Assistant for Agriculture and Natural Resources. As Sen. Cochran's adviser on agricultural affairs, he worked on numerous issues important to U.S. agriculture, including the 1990, 1996, and 2002 Farm Bills. From 1996-2006, he served as Chief of Staff for Sen. Cochran. In this role, Dr. Keenum was the chief adviser to the senator on political, legislative and appropriations issues. He also was responsible for managing all administrative and legislative functions of Sen. Cochran's Washington, D.C., office and three Mississippi offices, including direct oversight of the U.S. Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry and the U.S. Senate Committee on Appropriations.

Prior to being named president of Mississippi State in November 2008, Dr. Keenum served as Under Secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture for two years, where he provided leadership and oversight for the Farm Service Agency, the Risk Management Agency and the Foreign Agricultural Service.

Established in 1884, Mississippi University for Women became the first public college for women in America. Originally known as the Industrial Institute and College, the institution was created by an act of the Mississippi Legislature on March 12, 1884, for the dual purposes of providing a liberal arts education and preparing women for employment. The first session began October 22, 1885, with an enrollment of approximately 250 students on a campus formerly occupied by the Columbus Female Institute, a private college founded in 1847.

The name of the institution changed to Mississippi State College for Women in 1920 to reflect an emphasis on collegiate rather than vocational education. The name changed again in 1974 to Mississippi University for Women to reflect better the nature of the academic programs, including graduate studies.

In 1982 the United States Supreme Court ordered the university to admit a male student to the nursing program. Following this historic decision, the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning ordered the university to change its policies to allow the admission of qualified males into all university programs. In 1988 the Board of Trustees reaffirmed the mission of MUW as an institution of quality academic programs for all qualified students with emphasis on distinctive opportunities for women.

Dr. Jim Borsig

President

James B. Borsig, Ph.D. previously served as Associate Commissioner for External Relations and Public Policy for the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning. In this role, he was responsible for external and government relations, communications and staff support for the university system's research enterprise, public policy and economic research.

Other higher education experience includes serving as Assistant Commissioner or Government Relations for the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning, as Executive Assistant to the President of the University of Southern Mississippi, and as Research and Development Coordinator for the John C. Stennis Institute of Government. Since 2007 he has been a visiting professor in the Department of Urban and Regional Planning at Jackson State University.

A native of Jackson, Dr. Borsig has held senior leadership positions in municipal government, not-for-profits and higher education. He has served as Executive Director of the Mississippi Municipal League and as Director of the Center for Member Programs at the National League of Cities.

Dr. Borsig holds a bachelor's degree in political science and American Studies and a master's degree in political science with a concentration in public administration, both from the University of Southern Mississippi. He earned his doctorate in public policy and administration from Mississippi State University.

He has conducted research and authored or co-authored papers on a wide variety of topics involving local government and higher education. Some of these include Strategic Initiative on Increasing Baccalaureate Degree Completion in Mississippi, Making Opportunity Affordable and the Graduation Rate Task Force Report.

Throughout his career, Dr. Borsig has been involved in numerous public and community service activities. Some of these include serving on the Board of Directors for the Mississippi Main Street Association and the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government Advisory Council and the Advisory Board for the Roger Wicker Center at Mississippi University for Women. He served on the Economic Competitiveness Committee and the Advisory Council for the Blueprint 2011 initiative.

Dr. Borsig holds memberships in a number of academic and professional memberships, including the American Planning Association, the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA), the Mississippi Economic Development Council, the University of Southern Mississippi chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa and the Mississippi State University chapter of Pi Alpha Alpha.

An Eagle Scout, Dr. Borsig received the National Distinguished Service Award, Order of the Arrow, from Boy Scouts of America and was named the Alpha Tau Omega Alumni of the Year by the University of Southern Mississippi chapter. He received the Presidential Citation from the Mississippi ASPA Chapter and was also named the Local Public Administrator of the Year by the same organization.

Mississippi Valley State University was created by the Mississippi Legislature as Mississippi Vocational College in 1946. The expressed purpose of the institution was to train teachers for rural and elementary schools and to provide vocational training. The first academic session started in the summer of 1950 with an enrollment of 305 in-service teachers. The first full academic year, 1950-51, began with 14 regular students and seven faculty members.

Under its original name and purpose, the institution provided a higher education opportunity for many first-generation college students. In order to reflect the broadening scope and offerings of the institution, its name was changed to Mississippi Valley State College in 1964. Under this transition, the institution became more general purpose in nature while retaining its commitment to provide special higher education opportunities.

The name of the institution was changed to Mississippi Valley State University in 1974. Graduate programs were begun in 1976.

While at Davidson, he also minored in Education and passed the National Teachers Exam. He was subsequently licensed and certified to teach Social Studies and Math in N.C. and Georgia. Dr. Bynum went on to earn his masters and Ph.D. in Sociology from Duke University while serving as a Duke Endowment Fellow. Dr. Bynum was also a member of the inaugural class of the NAFEO-Kellogg Leadership Fellows Program, a year-long program specifically designed to train the next generation of presidents/chancellors for minority serving institutions.

Prior to Morehouse, Dr. Bynum served as the Vice President for Student Affairs & Enrollment Management (2000-2009) at The Lincoln University. He was also Associate Vice President and Dean of Students at Clark Atlanta University. He served as the Covington Distinguished Professor of Sociology at Davidson and at Morehouse he was an adjunct professor in the Leadership Studies program and Sociology department.

Dr. Bynum's other professional experience includes research and teaching positions at the Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech), Duke University and Durham and Edgecombe Community Colleges. He started his educational career as a teacher, football and wrestling coach in the Rocky Mount (N.C.) City School System (1984-87) and the Dekalb County (GA) School System (1987-88)

The University of Mississippi, one of the oldest public institutions of higher education in the South, opened its doors to 80 students in 1848 and now enrolls more than 17,300 students on four campuses, including the Medical Center in Jackson. Ole Miss is a classical liberal arts institution that also offers a selection of quality professional programs.

The main campus in Oxford, home of the late Nobel Prize-winning author William Faulkner, continues to be an incubator for writers and literary scholars. The Center for the Study of Southern Culture and the William Winter Institute for Racial Reconciliation are located on the Oxford campus, as are 30 other institutes and research centers. More than $100 million in research is conducted annually on the Oxford and Jackson campuses, where world-class studies in pharmacy, physical acoustics and cardiovascular disease take place. The 1.2 million-volume library on the main campus houses the most extensive blues archive in the nation, Faulkner's papers and the national library of the accountancy profession. Ranked among the nation's top 50 public research universities by the Lombardi Program on Measuring University Performance, the university emphasizes strong classroom teaching supported by excellent library, laboratory and technical facilities. UM's Sally McDonnell Barksdale Honors College has been ranked among the top three such programs in the nation.

Dr. Daniel W. Jones

President

chancellor@olemiss.edu

Daniel W. Jones, M.D. is the 16th Chancellor of the University of Mississippi. Prior to his appointment on July 1, 2009, Dr. Jones was Vice Chancellor for Health Affairs, Dean of the School of Medicine and Herbert G. Langford Professor of Medicine at the University of Mississippi's Medical Center in Jackson. He served as the institution's chief executive officer for six years overseeing the five schools and the health system.

Dr. Jones was the 2007-2008 national president of the American Heart Association and served on the National Board of Directors for several years.

A native Mississippian, he graduated from Mississippi College in 1971, earned his M.D. in 1975 at the University of Mississippi Medical Center and completed his residency in internal medicine there in 1978. He had a private practice in Laurel. In 1985, he went to Korea as a medical missionary.

The University of Southern Mississippi is a national public university that is engaging and empowering individuals to transform lives and communities. Our values are to lead with academic excellence, conduct innovative research, provide cultural enrichment, conduct economic development, create healthier communities, contribute to global communities and educate the whole student.

Founded in 1910, Southern Miss is the only SREB-Level 1 designated university in the state graduating the most PhDs in-state. A dual-campus, Southern Miss boasts world-class research and teaching sites along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It receives more than $102 million in research dollars; has signature academic programs including polymer science and engineering, the Center for Writers, the four art disciplines, nursing and education; and has the sixth oldest Honors College in the nation. With academic excellence and, in a tradition of leadership for student development, Southern Miss is educating a 21st century work force providing intellectual capital, cultural enrichment and innovation to Mississippi and the world.

Dr. Rodney D. Bennett

President

president@usm.edu

Dr. Rodney D. Bennett took office as the 10th President of The University of Southern Mississippi on April 1, 2013. Dr. Bennett came to Southern Miss from the University of Georgia, where he served as Vice President for Student Affairs.

Dr. Bennett's selection as President made history, as he became the first African-American president of a predominantly white higher education institution in the state of Mississippi.

Bennett, 46, previously served as Vice President for Student Affairs at the University of Georgia. In that position, Dr. Bennett was actively involved in all facets of student life, from improving facilities to creating service learning opportunities and celebrating the spirit of diversity on campus. He helped raise funds to enhance student life on campus and improved communications with faculty, staff, students and parents on the Athens campus and three UGA extended campuses.

Dr. Bennett served as Chair of the UGA Athletic Association NCAA Recertification process, including the institutional self-study. In addition, he was a member of the on-site committee for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, reviewing compliance areas related to student life and student affairs.

Dr. Bennett holds a Doctor of Education Degree in Educational Administration from Tennessee State University in Nashville, a Specialist in Education Degree and a Master of Education Degree in Educational Administration from Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mass Communication from Middle Tennessee State.

MISSISSIPPI MILITARY DEPARTMENT

The Mississippi Military Department is part of the Mississippi executive branch, and is a State agency. The Adjutant General of Mississippi (TAG) serves as the executive director and is only subordinate to the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor of Mississippi, in matters relating to the department and the state militia forces. As such, the Adjutant General is a political appointee and serves at the will and pleasure of the Governor, and his term of office expires with the term of the Governor.

The Mississippi Code of 1972, Title 33, Chapter 3, titled “Military Affairs,” details the duties and responsibilities of the Adjutant General of Mississippi, as well as the Assistant Adjutant Generals, Army and Air.

The Adjutant General of Mississippi, via the Mississippi Military Department, is expressly authorized to “issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary in order that the organization, training and discipline of the components of the militia of this state will at all times conform to the applicable requirements of the United States government relating thereto. Orders, rules and regulations issued hereunder shall have full force and effect as part of the military code of this state.”

Mississippi’s militia forces formally break down into three broad classes: The Mississippi National Guard (MSNG), the Mississippi State Guard (MSG), and the unorganized militia. The Mississippi National Guard and the Mississippi State Guard are considered organized militia. The Mississippi National Guard is the most recognizable military force within our state borders.

The Mississippi National Guard, consisting of the Army and Air National Guard, is primarily a federally-funded and equipped militia force serving a dual-mission: service to the state in times of emergency as declared by the Governor; service to the nation in times of national crisis or war, typically as declared by Presidential executive order (Hurricane Katrina, Korea), Congressional Declaration of War (World War II), or Congressional Authorization of the Use of Military Force (Vietnam, Afghanistan). The Army and Air National Guard are both components of the United States Military Reserve system.

The Mississippi State Guard is most closely aligned with the traditional concept of state militia: members are volunteers, self-equipped (armed only under special circumstances, as defined in law), can only operate within the borders of the state, and are unpaid unless activated to assist or backfill the Mississippi National Guard.

The Guard has a long history of service in “homeland defense.” The Mississippi Emergency Service Medal has been authorized for more than 49 different operations, including: 14 hurricanes; seven floods; five tornados; and numerous civil disturbances ranging from the textile strike in 1934 to civil strive in the 1960s.

In 1927, Mississippi Guardsmen patrolled 70 miles along the flooded Mississippi River Delta, rescuing, evacuating and providing encampments for more than 30,000 refugees.

From September 30 to October 9, 1962, President John F. Kennedy federalized the entire Mississippi National Guard in connection with the integration of the University of Mississippi.

In October 1962, a major portion of the Mississippi Guard also responded to a major chlorine spill at Natchez.

The state and federal missions collided for the first time 42 years later: Operation Iraqi Freedom and Hurricane Katrina. With more than 3,000 Soldiers and Airmen overseas, the Mississippi National Guard led a historic response in 2005 to the worst natural disaster to hit the United States.

As threats to and within our state change, so does the Guard. The Mississippi National Guard’s 47th Civil Support Team was certified in October 2006. This full-time unit’s sole mission is to respond to weapons of mass destruction threats within the state. They are fully equipped, fully funded, and serve under the control of the governor.

Emergency service at home is, by no means, an easy mission. By nature, it invokes emotional involvement, it requires separation from loved ones, and it demands the same professionalism and courage required by the federal mission.

The Mississippi National Guard has served in the Creek War, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, World Wars One and Two, Korea, Operation Desert Storm, Haiti, Bosnia-Kosovo, Somalia, Operation Noble Eagle, Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and Operation New Dawn.

The Mississippi Dragoons, under Maj. Thomas Hinds, demonstrated the fighting spirit and resolve of the Mississippi Militia during the War of 1812.

The 1st Mississippi Regiment of Infantry, the “Mississippi Rifles” under the command of a young colonel named Jefferson Davis, turned the tide at the Battle of Buena Vista during the Mexican War. Colonel Davis’s command “STAND FAST MISSISSIPPIANS” remains the motto of the Mississippi Army National Guard’s oldest unit, and the Army’s sixth oldest active regiment, the 1st Battalion, 155th Infantry.

In less than 30 minutes at the Battle of Shiloh during the Civil War, the 6th Mississippi Infantry lost 300 of 425 men, the fourth highest loss suffered by a southern regiment in a single battle.

In July 1917, the entire Mississippi National Guard was called into service for World War I. Included in the call-up were two regiments of infantry, one regiment of field artillery, nine troops of cavalry, and one company of engineers. The first African-American registrants were also drafted for training.

Mississippi’s oldest Air National Guard unit, the 186th Air Refueling Wing in Meridian, was activated at Key Field on September 27, 1939, as the 153rd Observation Squadron. Less than 13 months later, it was ordered into active service.

The Guard was activated again for war on November 25, 1940, and served with honor on battlefields throughout Europe and the Pacific. The 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division was again called on to serve in the Korean Conflict. Almost 95 percent of the Mississippi National Guard units were mobilized.

In July 1953, the Mississippi Air National Guard's 172nd Airlift Wing was formed at Hawkins Field in Jackson. It is recognized as the first Air National Guard unit in the nation to use night photo reconnaissance, the first ANG unit to have an aeromedical evacuation mission, and the first Mississippi National Guard unit to enlist females.

During Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm, Mississippi was the largest National Guard contributor to the war effort. Over 6,500 Mississippi National Guard members, representing 70 units and 57 communities, served on active duty during the Persian Gulf Crisis, with more than 1,300 deployed to Saudi Arabia.

In support of Operations Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan), Iraqi Freedom, and New Dawn, the Mississippi National Guard has mobilized over 10,000 service members, with every deployable unit participating.

From protecting the skies over Washington D.C. with the 1st Battalion, 204th Air Defense Artillery; to patrolling the streets and conducting historic elections with the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team in Iraq; to hunting the Taliban in Afghanistan with the 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group; to conducting theater-level logistics for all of Southwest Asia with the 184th Sustainment Command; and to conducting combat aeromedical evacuation missions with the 172nd Airlift Wing, the Mississippi National Guard continues her faithful service the citizens of Mississippi and the United States of America.

SPECIAL FORCES

DET 1-2/20th Special Forces Group (Airborne)

The soldiers who make up the 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group (Airborne) of the Army National Guard are unique professionals with an unconventional method for waging war and an innovative approach to serving their state and country.

Known as the "quiet professionals," these Special Forces soldiers radiate an aura of competence and reserve. After being tested in every type of hazardous environment and through dangerous, unconventional, direct action and counter-terrorist missions around the world, the quiet men of the Special Forces have no need to broadcast their deeds, their record speaks for itself.

MISSISSIPPI STATE GUARD

The mission of the Mississippi State Guard is to establish and maintain an all-volunteer formal military organization as the state's reserve to the Mississippi National Guard (MSNG). The State Guard is to assist the Mississippi National Guard with in-state missions, as directed by the Governor and the Adjutant General of Mississippi. The State Guard is tasked with assuming the mission of the Mississippi National Guard should they be fully mobilized outside the state. The State Guard is similarly tasked with securing armories, providing assistance to Guard families, and assuming other duties until the full mobilization ceases. State Guard personnel may, at the request of the Adjutant General of Mississippi, be trained in the protection of life and property of the citizens of Mississippi due to natural disasters.

The U.S. Constitution, U.S. Code, Title 32, Section 109, authorized the states to organize a State Defense Force (SDF) as provided by its laws. The Mississippi Code of 1972, Chapter 5, paragraph 33-5-1 thru 33-5-53 authorizes the establishment of the Mississippi State Guard.

The State Defense Force concept came into prominence when the National Guard was called up to serve in World War II.

The State Guard was most recently called to duty to assist with relief efforts associated with Operation Secure Magnolia – Hurricane Katrina (2005) & Operation Secure Magnolia – Hurricane Gustav (2008).

Changing of the Guard, 184th Expeditionary Sustainment Command

MAJOR GEN. AUGUSTUS L. COLLINS

Major General Augustus L. "Leon" Collins is the Adjutant General of Mississippi and serves as the Commanding General of both the Mississippi Army and Air National Guard. He is responsible for providing the State of Mississippi and the United States of America with a ready force of more than 12,275 Citizen Soldiers and Airmen, equipped and trained to respond to any contingency, natural or man-made. General Collins directs the Mississippi Military Department and oversees the development and coordination of all policies, plans, and programs of the Mississippi National Guard in concert with the Governor and legislature of the State.

General Collins began his career when he enlisted in the Mississippi Army National Guard's Company B, 1st Battalion, 198th Armor Regiment in March 1977. He was commissioned in July 1980 upon completion of Officer Candidate School. He has served in various command and staff positions in units at every level to include Company, Battalion, Regiment, Brigade, and the Adjutant General's primary staff in both a traditional and Active Guard Reserve status.

General Collins served on active duty in Operation Desert Shield/Storm, as well as commanding the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team during combat operations in Operation Iraqi Freedom from 2004-2006. Collins was promoted to Brigadier General on May 10, 2005 while in Iraq, making him the first African American to attain the rank of general officer in the history of the Mississippi National Guard.

Following his deployment to Iraq, Collins was assigned as Director of Mobilization, United States Army Forces Command, Fort McPherson, GA. He held the post from February 2006 until he retired in October 2007.

Upon his retirement from the military, he was appointed by Governor Haley Barbour to serve as one of the three Commissioners for the Mississippi Worker's Compensation Commission. He held the post until July 2010 when he accepted a position with MINACT Incorporated where he served as the Executive Vice President for Strategic Planning.

When Governor Phil Bryant took office in January 2012, he appointed Collins the Adjutant General of Mississippi. He was promoted to the rank of Major General on March 14, 2012.

Collins is a 2007 inductee into the University of Mississippi Alumni Hall of Fame. He was the 2006 Mississippi Trailblazer of the Year. He is a 2006 inductee into the Mississippi Military Academy Officer Candidate School Hall of Fame. He has twice been awarded the National Guard Bureau's Minuteman Award. He was awarded the Distinguished Citizen Award by Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Inc. in 2009. He was also the 2012 recipient of the Sam Haskell Spirit of America Award presented by the Mississippi Trailblazers.

His many military awards and decorations: the Legion of Merit, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Army Achievement Medal, the Military Outstanding Volunteer Service Medal, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the Mississippi Magnolia Cross, the Order of Saint George Medallion for excellence in Armor and the Combat Action Badge.

Collins currently serves on the Board of Directors of Friends of Mississippi Veterans and the Board of Directors for MINACT Inc. He previously served on the Mississippi Commission on Judicial Performance and the Governor's Commission for Physical Fitness and Sports. He is a member of the Beta Gamma Boule of Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity and was inducted into the National Collegiate Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

Collins is a member of New Hope Baptist Church in Jackson, where he serves on the Deacon Board.

Collins received an Associate of Arts degree from Northeast Mississippi Junior College, a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Mississippi, a Master of Business Administration degree from Jackson State University, a Master of Strategic Studies from the United States Army War College and has completed the General and Flag Officer Homeland Security Program at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government.

Collins is married to the former Debra Fitzgerald. They have two sons, William and Benjamin.

ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL
Brigadier Gen. Mitchell L. Brown

Brigadier General Mitchell L. Brown was appointed Assistant Adjutant General – Army, in January 2012. As the Assistant Adjutant General, he guides the formulation, development and implementation of all programs and policies affecting the Mississippi Army National Guard and its nearly 10,000 citizen soldiers.

As an Enlisted Soldier, he served in Europe with the 1st Battalion, 68th Armor, in Vietnam with Company P, 75th Infantry (Ranger), and with the 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group, Mississippi Army National Guard. General Brown was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, Infantry, on April 12, 1977, through the Infantry Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia. He has served in command and staff positions at every level, including Commander, 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group, Chief of Staff, State Area Command, Mississippi Army National Guard, and most recently as Director, Joint Staff, Joint Force Headquarters, Mississippi National Guard.

ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL AIR NATIONAL GUARD
Major General Catherine S. Lutz

Major General Catherine S. Lutz is the Assistant Adjutant General for Air, Mississippi Air National Guard, also serving as commander, Mississippi Air National Guard. General Lutz is responsible to the Adjutant General for directing Air National Guard operations and establishing policy to ensure mission readiness of two airlift wings, combat readiness training center, air support operations squadron, air control squadron and civil engineer squadron.

General Lutz was commissioned in the Mississippi Air National Guard in 1982 as a Flight Nurse; and in 1987 she was re-commissioned as a Medical Service Corps Officer. As a member of the Air National Guard, General Lutz commanded three units: an Air Expeditionary medical unit in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, an aeromedical evacuation squadron and a medical squadron. In 2004, she transferred to the Air Force Reserve Individual Mobilization Augmentee program after serving over 21 years in the Mississippi Air National Guard. During her Air Force Reserve tour she served as the Health Services Administrator to the 81st Medical Group at Keesler Air Force Base. In October 2005 she returned to the Air National Guard as Special Assistant to the Mississippi Adjutant General. In March 2006, she was assigned as the Air National Guard Assistant to the 59th Medical Wing at Lackland Air Force Base. On December 1, 2008, she served as the Air National Guard Assistant to the Chief Nurse of the Air Force at Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, District of Columbia. General Lutz was appointed to her current position in December 2011.

STATE COMMAND SERGEANT MAJOR
Sergeant Major George M. Miller

Command Sergeant Major George M. Miller was appointed as the 6th State Command Sergeant Major for the Mississippi Army National Guard (MSARNG) on December 3, 2010. As the State Command Sergeant Major, Miller serves as the Senior Enlist Advisor to the Assistant Adjutant General, Army, and to the Adjutant General of Mississippi regarding all enlisted-related matters, particularly in areas affecting soldier training and quality of life. He also travels with the Adjutant General visiting Mississippi Guardsmen deployed around the world, including Afghanistan and Iraq.

Command Sergeant Major George M. Miller began his military career on November 7, 1976 where he enlisted in the Mississippi Army National Guard, 123rd Medical Company, in Tupelo, Mississippi. He attended Basic Training at Fort Knox, Kentucky and Advance Individual Training at Fort Rucker, Alabama. During his military career he served with the 123rd Medical Company, 323rd Aviation Company, 1-185th Aviation Battalion (Air Assault), 185th Theater Aviation Brigade, and 66th Troop Command.

Command Sergeant Major Miller served as the Command Sergeant Major for the 1-185th Aviation Battalion (Air Assault), 185th Theater Aviation Brigade, and 66th Troop Command. He deployed in 2007-2008 with the 1-185th Aviation Battalion (Air Assault) to Camp Bondsteel, Kosovo as the Multi- National Task Force East Aviation Command Sergeant Major.

Command Sergeant Major Miller attended Saltillo High School and continued his education at Itawamba Community College. He completed his civilian education at the King School of Aeronautics in Nashville, Tennessee. Command Sergeant Major Miller is a 1997 graduate of the United States Army Sergeants Major Academy. Command Sergeant Major Miller was employed at the Army Aviation Support Facility for the past 28 years as an Aircraft Technical Inspector.

COMMAND CHIEF
Master Sergeant Ricky L. Myers

Chief Master Sergeant Ricky L. Myers is the 10th Command Chief Master Sergeant for the Mississippi Air National Guard assigned to the Joint Force Headquarters, Mississippi Air National Guard, Jackson. Chief Myers is responsible for reviewing promotion, retention, and assignment policy affecting over 2,300 enlisted personnel; conducting counseling and interviewing sessions through a visitation program to 29 units; and identifying issues and recommending action directly to commanders. He is a liaison between the enlisted personnel, the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General for Air/Commander, Mississippi Air National Guard.

Myers began his military career by enlisting in the Mississippi Air National Guard on July 6, 1971, and has served in variety of positions throughout his career. After completing Basic Military Training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas, he attended the Personnel Specialist Course at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi. He accepted an Air Technician position as a Personnel Specialist with the 186th Tactical Reconnaissance Group in November 1971. From June 1973 to October 1987, he served in numerous positions for the 186th, including: Career Control Technician, NCOIC of the Quality Force Section, Base Career Advisor, NCOIC of Personnel Utilization, and NCOIC of Customer Assistance. From April 1989 to January 2005, he served as the Military Personnel Flight Superintendent, 186th Air Refueling Wing. In January 2005, he was selected to serve as the Personnel Manager, Joint Force Headquarters, Mississippi Air National Guard.

Chief Myers resumed responsibility as the State Command Chief Master Sergeant for the Mississippi Air National Guard on May 1, 2010.

COMMAND CHIEF
Chief Warrant Officer 5
Howard E. "Gene" Touchstone, Jr.

Chief Warrant Officer 5 Howard E. "Gene" Touchstone, Jr., was appointed as the 5th Command Chief Warrant Officer (CCWO) of the Mississippi Army National Guard on March 1, 2009. He serves as the Adjutant General's personal adviser on all Warrant Officer-related matters, particularly in areas affecting professional career management; recruiting, training, assignments and mentoring. His primary mission is to coordinate with the state military personnel office, the recruiting and retention office and subordinate commanders to implement a comprehensive Warrant Officer Recruiting Program. In addition, he establishes and maintains Warrant Officer mentorship and counselor programs within the state.

CW5 Touchstone is a 1970 graduate of Richton High School. He began his military career when he enlisted in the Mississippi Army National Guard on March 3, 1971. He completed basic training and Light Wheel Vehicle Driver (64C) advanced individual training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. On October 8, 1975, he transferred to the Texas Army National Guard as an Administrative Specialist in Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 141st Infantry Battalion, Corpus Christi, Texas. He was discharged from the Texas Army National Guard on March 2, 1977.

MILITARY INSTALLATIONS

CAMP MCCAIN TRAINING CENTER, Grenada

Camp McCain is a Mississippi National Guard training site covering 13,000 acres. Training at the facility includes tank maneuvers, artillery training and general training for National Guard troops.

In 1942, the United States Army opened the major training facility on a 42,000-acre site in Grenada County. The facility was named Camp McCain in honor of a famous family of military men from neighboring Carroll County, including Carroll county native Major General Henry P. McCain. Troops for the Army's 87th and 94th divisions trained at Camp McCain before being sent into combat in Europe. At the peak of its expansion, Camp McCain served as many as 50,000 troops.

The US Forest Service permitted 5,874 acres to the Army in December 1942 to be utilized as the Oxford Bombing Range to provide the Army Air Forces with a site for testing bomb dropping mechanisms. In August 1943, the USFS permitted 30,617 acres (including the bombing range area) to the Army for use as a maneuver area for bivouac and maneuver purposes. The maneuver area remained active until 1947. Currently, most of the site is forest land within the Holly Springs National Forest.

Camp McCain also served as a prisoner of war camp for captured German soldiers, housing 7,700. The Camp closed on October 15, 1944, and all but 3,000 acres of the site was sold. The camp was deactivated after the war and most of the buildings were dismantled and some sold to municipalities and colleges.

Camp McCain today functions as an important Army National Guard training site, but with only one-tenth of its original area and capacity. In 1947, the Mississippi National Guard prevailed upon the U.S. Government to retain part of the camp for small arms training. The rifle ranges and 3000 acres were retained under state control, and the rest sold.

The Camp McCain Logistics division provides housing, subsistence, general supply, fuel and ammunition. Camp McCain has facilities for over 1200 troops, including over 120 maid service beds, five dining facilities, classrooms, and administrative/supply areas. The Ration Breakdown Activity provides A-rations, operational rations, and ice. Camp McCain provides janitorial, kitchen and general supply for customer units. The Retail Fuel Point supplies JP-8. The Ammo Transfer Activity supports any and all ammunition that can be fired on Camp McCain.

The House of Representatives passed a defense appropriations bill in November 2001 which included $6 million for the Mississippi Army National Guard for improvements to Camp McCain. The Fiscal Year 2002 Defense Appropriations Act contains $3.8 million for the National Guard to upgrade Camp McCain Road and Greensboro Road. Another $2.2 million will be provided for construction projects on the base. The work will include construction of a weapons cleaning facility, vehicle maintenance building, infantry live-fire range improvements, and work on roads leading to training areas.

Camp McCain has worked for 10 years on natural resource management. One of the main concerns at the facility was erosion control on tank and artillery training sites and roadside erosion. Scientists recommended and implemented erosion control practices, such as seeding and fertilization, on roadsides and training sites. Both techniques worked to increase plant cover, enhance wildlife foods and provide wildlife habitat. Through the diligent work of scientists and military personnel, 26 protected state and federally listed plants and animals, game species and more than 100 species of nongame birds now have a more suitable habitat.

CAMP SHELBY JOINT FORCES TRAINING CENTER, Hattiesburg

The largest state-owned training site in the nation, Camp Shelby's wartime mission is to serve as a major, independent mobilization station of the United States Army Forces Command.

Established in 1917 and covering 136,000 acres, the Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center is the annual training location for National Guard and Reserve units located in Mississippi, Alabama, and Tennessee. However, units from across the country also use its assets to support a variety of missions, hosting as many as 100,000 personnel each year.

The Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center was established during World War I and has served almost continuously since then as a training site.

The post was named in honor of Isaac Shelby, Indian fighter, Revolutionary War hero and 1st Governor of Kentucky, by the first troops to train here, the 38th Division.

The famous Japanese-American 442nd Regimental Combat Team and the 100th Battalion trained here in preparation for World War II. Women's Army Corps (WAC) units also trained at Camp Shelby. The post contained a large convalescent hospital and had a prisoner of war camp which housed soldiers of the famous German Afrika Corps.

During the Korean War, Camp Shelby was established as an emergency railhead facility. In the summer of 1954, non-divisional National Guard units trained at Camp Shelby. In 1956, it was designated a permanent training site by Continental Army. Over 5,000 troops were processed through Camp Shelby during Desert Storm operations.

COLUMBUS AIR FORCE BASE, Columbus

Established in 1941 as the Air Corps Advanced Flying School, Columbus AFB is now home to the 14th Flying Training Wing (14 FTW) assigned to the Air Education and Training Command Nineteenth Air Force. The 14 FTW's mission is to provide specialized undergraduate pilot training for U.S. Air Force and allied officers.

The commander of the 14 FTW is Col. Barre Seguin. The Command Chief Master Sergeant is Chief Master Sergeant Zefrem Smith.

The base closed after the WWII and remained inactive until 1951, when it was reopened as a contract flying school to train pilots during the Korean War.

About half the pilots in the Air Force today went through basic and primary flight training at Columbus AFB. Columbus AFB is home to the busiest military air traffic control facility in the world.

Six months before the Pearl Harbor attack, the War Department announced a pilot training base would be established in Columbus. On August 12, 1941, Columbus officials leased the tract of land to the United States for $1 per year. Columbus was initially assigned to the AAF Southeast Training Center with the Army Air Force Pilot School (Advanced Twin-Engine) activated (phase 3 pilot training). The school's mission was to train cadets to fly transports and bombers.

During World War II, the training load gradually increased until Columbus was graduating 195 pilots per month. A total of 7,766 students came to Columbus for pilot training during the war.

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE, Biloxi

Keesler Air Force Base is a United States Air Force base located in Biloxi. Established in 1941 as Keesler Army Airfield, the base is named in honor of aviator 2nd Lt. Samuel Reeves Keesler, Jr., a Mississippi native killed in France during World War I.

The base is home of Headquarters, Second Air Force (2 AF) and the 81st Training Wing (81 TW) of the Air Education and Training Command (AETC).

On average, Keesler has 4,700 students on base at a time. Much of the training they receive is in the field of electronics, such as wideband maintenance, ground radio, information technology, avionics, cryptography.

The 81st Training Wing also trains personnel in the field of meteorology, to include observing, weather analysis and forecasting, radar operations, air traffic control, Aviation Resource Management (ARMS), and tropical cyclone forecasting.

The 81st Medical Group is also located at the base and operates the second largest medical center in the Air Force.

Keesler AFB is one of the largest technical training wings in AETC, with four training squadrons located in the training building complex known as "the triangle," the 334th, 335th, 336th, and the 338th.

The Tuskegee Airmen were trained at Keesler. In fact, more than 7,000 African-American soldiers were stationed at Keesler Field by the autumn of 1943. These soldiers included pre-aviation cadets, radio operators, aviation technicians, bombardiers, and aviation mechanics.

In early 1956, Keesler entered the missile age by opening a ground support training program for the Atlas missile. In 1958, all control tower operator, radio maintenance, and general radio operator courses came under Keesler's already broad technical training roof.

During the early 1960s, Keesler lost many of its airborne training courses, but Keesler still remained the largest training base throughout the 1970s.

On August 29, 2005, Keesler sustained a direct hit from Hurricane Katrina, which made its third Gulf Coast landfall as a Category 5 storm approximately 30 miles (48 km) west. Although non-essential personnel and Hurricane Hunter planes had been evacuated in advance, "drastic damage" was sustained by the base's industrial and housing areas. Due to storm surge, about half the base was under water. By August 31, however, relief flights were landing at the base.

MERIDIAN NAVAL AIR STATION, Meridian

Commissioned in 1961, the Naval Auxiliary Air Station's operations area was named McCain Field in honor of the late Admiral John S. McCain, Sr. of Teoc.

Training Squadron SEVEN (VT-7) arrived at NAAS Meridian July 12, 1961, then split to form its sister squadron, Training Squadron NINE (VT-9) on December 15.

In September 1965, hundreds of planes from Florida bases arrived to escape the wrath of Hurricane Betsy. The Naval Auxiliary Air Station continued to grow, and by July 1968, the station became a full Naval Air Station.

In 1968, and again in 1969, 300 aircraft from Naval Air Station Pensacola, Florida arrived to escape the fury and destruction of Hurricane Gladys and Hurricane Camille, respectively.

In April 1973, President Richard M. Nixon, accompanied by Senator John C. Stennis and many other high-ranking military and civilian officials, attended the dedication of the new Naval Technical Training Center (NTTC). Known locally as the Stennis Center, it was officially commissioned April 17, 1974.

NAS Meridian was selected and upgraded to a Major Shore Command on October 1, 1982. In March 1984, NAS Meridian was one of 15 installations chosen for the Department of Defense Model Installation Program.

The Air Operations Department employs 230 military and civilian personnel to operate NAS Meridian/McCain Field and Naval Outlying Landing Field (NOLF) Joe Williams. Their primary mission is to support Commander, Training Air Wing ONE, the wing's subordinate training squadrons and its associated T-45 Goshawk aircraft in the conduct of undergraduate strike pilot training.

HEALTH CARE

HEALTH CARE

Public health care, as authorized in Mississippi Code Annotated Title 41, is assigned to the State Department of Health and State Board of Health, established to formulate and implement policy regarding public health matters in Mississippi.

The Mississippi Department of Health's responsibility is to promote and protect the health of the citizens of Mississippi. According to Mississippi statute, the Department has the authority to administer services and programs in vital statistics, maternal-child health and environmental health, including individual on-site wastewater, public water supply, milk regulation, food sanitation, radiological health and boiler pressure vessel safety.

The Department's statutory authorities also include programs for family planning and control of communicable diseases, including sexually transmitted diseases, tuberculosis and general communicable diseases; newborn genetic screening, well-child health services, immunizations, tuberculosis control, licensure of 16 different health professions, health facilities licensure and certification, and certificate of need for health planning.

The State Department of Health also operates the county health department system, including 110 sites, 18 regional home health offices and 92 Women-Infant-Child (WIC) distribution centers.

Public services offered by the Department include those specifically targeting women of all ages in Mississippi, with a specific emphasis on serving mothers and their children up to 18 years of age. Those services include programs on special health topics, supplemental nutrition programs for mothers and infants, as well as the screening of newborns for inheritable disorders and genetic diseases. A children's medical program provides care for children with chronic or disabling conditions. The First Steps early intervention program provides assistance and services for infants and toddlers with developmental delays. The Department also operates a comprehensive immunization program for children and adults.

Other services to the general public include providing copies of birth and death certificates, home health, a public health laboratory, a vital records center and STD/HIV testing.

The Department reviews and determines certificates of need for all hospitals within the State of Mississippi. It also maintains a directory of health facilities, hospitals and nursing home and care facilities, in addition to establishing regulations and minimum standards of care for these entities.

Additionally, the Department licenses facilities as well as practitioners of health-related professions that affect public health, such as nurse aides, radiological health professionals, feeding assistants, dieticians, audiologists, speech pathologists, occupational therapists, respiratory care therapists, athletic trainers, hearing aid dealers and tattoo operators and facilities.

MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES & FACILITIES

The Mississippi Department of Mental Health's mission is to support a better tomorrow by impacting the lives of Mississippians with mental illness, substance abuse problems and intellectual or developmental disabilities.

Regional community mental health/mental retardation centers operate under the supervision of regional commissions appointed by county boards of supervisors of their respective service areas. The 15 regional centers provide a range of community-based mental health services, as well as substance abuse and intellectual/developmental disabilities services to all 82 counties in Mississippi.

The Regional Commission Act, passed in 1966 and amended in 1972, 1974, and 1997, provides the structure for community program development by authorizing counties to join together and form multi-county regional commissions on mental health and mental retardation to plan and implement services in their respective areas. The governing authorities are considered regional and not state-level entities.

The Mississippi Department of Mental Health is responsible for certifying, monitoring, and assisting the regional community mental health centers. These regional community mental health centers are the primary service providers with whom the Department of Mental Health contracts to provide community-based services.

NATURAL RESOURCES

NATURAL RESOURCES

Responsibility for the protection of Mississippi's natural resources is assigned to Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks and various other state agencies and departments by the Mississippi Code. The Secretary of State has constitutional and statutory authority to protect the state's public trust lands as a birthright for future generations of Mississippians.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Mississippi can be divided into four broad geographical regions: the Delta in northwest Mississippi, the Hills in central and north Mississippi, the Piney Woods in southern Mississippi and the Gulf Coast, a narrow strip of land bordering the Gulf of Mexico. The State's physiographic divisions include 10 distinct landform regions: the Tombigbee Hills, the Black Prairie, the Pontotoc Ridge, the Flatwoods, the North Central Hills, the Loess Hills, the Yazoo Basic, the Jackson Prairie, the Pine Hills and the Coastal Meadows.

The State has more than 14,000 miles of fresh water streams and 600,000 acres of lakes. Additionally, the State has 18 major aquifers supplying 93 percent of Mississippi's drinking water. Mississippi has six major reservoirs: Pickwick Lake on the Tennessee River, Arkabutla Lake near Coldwater; Sardis Lake near Oxford, Enid Lake in Yalobusha County, Grenada Lake near Grenada and the Ross Barnett Reservoir to the northeast of Jackson.

More than 19 million acres of forestland covers 64 percent of the state, of which 80 percent is privately owned. The remainder is public land including a network of state parks, state wildlife management areas and six national forests—Bienville, DeSoto, Homochitto, Delta, Holly Springs and Tombigbee. This public land represents 1.2 million acres dedicated to recreation and wilderness protection.

Contributing more than $1 billion to Mississippi's annual economy, the forestry industry is a national model of sustainable forest management. Mississippi was the first state in the nation to establish a reforestation tax credit to encourage landowners to replant after harvest and was also the first to create a statewide forest inventory using remote-sensing satellite imagery to calculate the size and diversity of forestlands.

The State's namesake, the Mississippi River, runs along the western boundaries of Mississippi. The river and its tributaries continually deposit rich alluvial soil throughout the Mississippi Delta, resulting in agricultural industry that contributes more than $6 billion annual to Mississippi's economy.

Mississippi's white sand beaches along the Gulf Coast draws millions of visitors annually in addition to the state-conserved Coastal tidelands and barrier islands.

There are more than one million acres of public hunting lands in Mississippi including nine National Wildlife Refuges and 36 state wildlife management areas representing a wide variety of habitats.

Mississippi Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks division oversees all Mississippi State Parks which offer amenities including fishing, camping, hiking, recreational facilities and fully-furnished cabin rentals.

Reserve America recently released its list of "Top 100 Campground Awards" and Mississippi State Parks were well represented. More than 4,000 parks and campgrounds nationwide were reviewed and seven of Mississippi's Parks made the Top 100. John W. Kyle (Sardis), Lake Lincoln (Wesson), Percy Quin (McComb), Tishomingo (Tishomingo), LeFleur's (Jackson), J.P. Coleman (Iuka) and Trace (Belden) State Parks made the Top 100. Along with the Top 100 list, several Mississippi State Parks won other awards in specific categories such as top fishing, hiking, picnic, kid-friendly and bird-watching locales.

Ross Barnett Reservoir

Created by an impoundment of the Pearl River between Madison and Rankin counties, the 33,000-acre lake features 105 miles of shoreline impounded on the south by a 3.5-mile man-made dam and spillway. The western shore is bounded by the Natchez Trace Parkway.

The Reservoir and the 17,000 acres surrounding the lake are managed by the Pearl River Valley Water Supply District, a state agency created to construct and manage the property. The District carries out its multi-purpose mission without any state or local tax dollars.

A Board of Directors approves plans and projects for the District, maintains the Reservoir dam and monitors water quality in cooperation with the Mississippi Department of Health and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality.

In addition to providing recreational facilities, the Reservoir provides a water supply for the City of Jackson and to approximately 5,000 District lease-holders and is capable of meeting the projected growth demands of the City of Jackson and surrounding areas, well into the future.

Recreational opportunities include 48 parks and recreational facilities utilized by an estimated 2.5 million annual visitors. Visitors can relax at five campgrounds, 16 parks, 22 boat launches, three handicapped-accessible trails, two multi-purpose trails and a mountain bike trail. Each campground has a live-in, on-site Reservoir Patrol manager. In conjunction with private and public sectors, the District has also developed five marinas, four baseball/soccer complexes and two golf courses.

Natchez Trace Parkway

The Natchez Trace, also known as the "Old Natchez Trace," is a historical path extending roughly 440 miles from Natchez to Nashville, Tennessee, linking the Cumberland, Tennessee and Mississippi rivers. It was created and used for centuries by Native Americans, and was later used by early European and American explorers, traders and emigrants in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. Today, the trail is commemorated by the 444-mile Natchez Trace Parkway, which follows the approximate path of the Trace, as well as the related Natchez Trace National Scenic Trail.

Parts of the original trail are still accessible and some segments are listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The southern part of the original Natchez Trace and the Natchez Trace Parkway travel through the state of Mississippi.

The National Park Service displays mileposts on the east side of the parkway. Mileposts start at 1 on the southern end of the Trace near Natchez and end at 444 at the northern terminus.

In Mississippi, the Trace mileposts start at 0 at the southern terminus and end at 310 at the Alabama state line.

PUBLIC TRUST LANDS

The Mississippi Secretary of State has the constitutional and statutory authority to protect Mississippi's public trust lands to preserve the State's resources for future generations. These responsibilities include enforcing the 16th Section Public School Trust Lands and Lieu Lands laws, developing and implementing the Public Trust Tidelands Management Programs, overseeing the sale of lands forfeited to the State for non-payment of ad valorem taxes, maintaining an inventory of State agency lands and providing services to the public and governmental subdivisions relating to sales, acquisitions, leasing, and title of the State's real property assets.

16TH SECTION PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUST LANDS

Mississippi is the only state east of the Mississippi River that still substantially retains and honors its school trust lands. Because admission to the United States occurred in 1817, Mississippi received only one section, or 640 acres, for the support of schools out of every six-square-mile township. There are 107 school districts in Mississippi which manage the school trust lands within their school district boundaries. Local school boards incur the expenses of management and budget for the uses of the revenue in their schools. The Mississippi Secretary of State is the statutorily mandated supervisory trustee of 16th Section Public School Trust Lands.

Mississippi, unlike other eastern states, has respected their fiduciary duty to the school children of our state. We have retained 642,000 surface acres and 674,000 acres of mineral rights. These lands have generated revenue for Mississippi schools for nearly two centuries. Because Mississippi retained their school lands in trust, the lands continue to support schools. Oil and gas leasing generated $19.5 million in 2011. Surface leases created an additional $18.6 million for schools and timber sales generated another $22 million. Each year, these revenues provide critically needed funds for education without reliance on taxpayers.

In Mississippi, the highest revenue source is currently timber. Minimum prices are set by the Mississippi Forestry Commission. The actual sale price is determined by a public auction. Roughly 70% of Mississippi's 16th Section School Lands are managed for timber. Approximately 8,000 acres were leased for commercial and industrial purposes in 20101. There are an additional 7,000 acres leased for residential purposes.

Oil and gas usage is the third highest revenue source. While leasing of lands for oil and gas generates significant funds, the real value to schools lies in the production royalties.

In an effort to increase transparency and provide important protections, the Secretary of State's Office now places all School 16th Section land lease information on the Agency's website at www.sos.ms.gov. Actual copies of the lease documents are provided online to public scrutiny and review. Standard lease forms are also provided on the website to assist local school boards in adopting best practices for leasing various resources.

The Secretary of State reviews and signs all leases to insure the school trust receives fair market value on those transactions. Additionally, the Secretary of State's Office now coordinates with the Mississippi Forestry Commission to bring modern forest management practices to timber production on school trust lands. This partnership has resulted in the certification of 480,000 acres of 16th Section timber by the American Tree Farm System—all in an effort to produce better harvests and greater revenue over time.

The Mississippi Secretary of State provides formal notices of public bids on the Agency website to encourage greater participation and public exposure to 16th Section School Trust Land availability and usage.

Since statehood, Mississippi has built the 16th Section School permanent trust funds to approximately $240. The local share of this fund is invested by each local school district.

A HISTORY OF 16TH SECTION LANDS

The origin of 16th Section Public School Trust Lands in America can be traced to the British and colonial tradition of reserving land for the support of public schools. After the formation of the Union, Thomas Jefferson incorporated the practice into the Land Ordinance of 1785.

Designed to encourage westward expansion, the Ordinance adopted a six-square-mile township as its basic unit of measure and "… reserved the lot no. 16, of every township, for the maintenance of public schools within said township…" The reservation of land for public schools was further confirmed in the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Later, in 1798, when Congress established the Mississippi Territory, it provided a government initially based on the Northwest Ordinance model.

With division of the Mississippi Territory in 1817 to form the State of Mississippi and the Territory of Alabama, Congress called for a survey of land in the new state. Again, 16th Section land was reserved in each township.

The Treaties

At the time of statehood, Native Americans inhabited Mississippi. The Choctaw Nation occupied the area south and west of a line extending southeasterly from the Coahoma and Tunica County boundary to a point on the old Natchez Trace in Webster County and then across Clay County in a generally southeasterly direction to a point on the Tombigbee River. The Chickasaw Nation inhabited the area north and east of that line.

In September 1830, the United States and the Choctaws signed the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. In accordance with the treaty, 16th Sections were reserved from government land sales. The territorial claims of the Chickasaws were resolved with their removal under the Treaty of Pontotoc in 1832. Although these lands were to be sold by the government to private parties "…in the same manner…," they were, in fact, sold with no 16th Section reservations.

Today, 15 counties lie entirely north of the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no reserved 16th Section lands. The counties are Tishomingo, Alcorn, Tippah, Benton, Marshall, DeSoto, Tunica, Tate, Lafayette, Union, Prentiss, Itawamba, Lee, Pontotoc, and Chickasaw. Another seven, Quitman, Panola, Yalobusha, Calhoun, Webster, Clay, and Monroe, are bisected by the Choctaw-Chickasaw Boundary and have no 16th Section lands in the portions of those counties lying north of the boundary. Although the boundary passes through Tallahatchie County, there are no 16th Sections lying north of the boundary in that county.

Chickasaw Cession Lands

To compensate for this failure, in 1836 Congress granted the State of Mississippi 174,555 acres of unsold public land in Bolivar, Coahoma, Tallahatchie, Quitman, Panola, and Leake counties. In the 1850s, Congress and the State of Mississippi allowed this lieu land to be sold. Mississippi invested the $1,047,330 realized from the sale in 8 percent interest loans to railroad companies in the State. The principal was lost with the destruction of the railroads during the Civil War.

Thereafter, the Mississippi Legislature began making annual appropriations to school districts in the Chickasaw Cession equal to the 8 percent interest on the lost principal. The interest amount was reduced from 8 to 6 percent by the Constitution of 1890. For decades, annual appropriations totaling approximately $62,000 were made to the school districts in the Chickasaw Cession. But, by the 1980s the estimated annual appropriation amounted to only $0.63 per pupil in the Chickasaw Cession school districts, while the estimated average income per pupil from 16th Section land in the Choctaw Cession counties was $75.34.

In 1981, Chickasaw Cession school districts successfully challenged the disparity as a violation of the United States Constitution's equal protection clause. As a result, the Chickasaw Cession school districts now receive a payment per teacher unit based on the average annual expendable 16th Section revenue per teacher unit received by the Choctaw Cession school districts, less the amount of the annual interest appropriation.

Court Rulings

In 1890, the United States Supreme Court declared the early laws reserving land in each township for the support of public education to be a "binding and perpetual obligation." In 1895 the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled that 16th Section lands are held by the State in trust for public schools. In 1906, Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice A.H. Whitfield opined: "Sixteenth sections are set apart as a sacred trust. No greater trust can be committed to any state than that of the education of the children within its borders …And, if one such trust can be more sacred than another, it is that trust designed to bring home to the doors of the poor children of the commonwealth the means of acquiring a good education."

Despite Congressional and federal and state judicial endorsements, management of the 16th Section land, with few exceptions, ranged from indifferent to abusive. Disregarding the Mississippi Constitution's prohibition against donation of public lands, many 99-year leases of 16th Section lands were given for one-time payments. Through generations, leaseholders mistakenly came to view themselves as the actual owners of the 16th Sections.

This perception began to change in the early 1970s when Smith County Superintendent of Education Joe Tally refused to sign inadequately compensated leases. Litigation resulted in a Mississippi Supreme Court decision holding that 16th Section lands must be leased for fair market value. The 1974 Legislature gave local school boards veto power in leasing 16th Section land.

16th Section Land Reform Act

In 1978, 16th Section and Lieu Land Act was passed by the Legislature, with Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Gandy casting the tie-breaking vote in the Senate. It provides that 16th Section school lands and lieu lands are held in trust for the benefit of the public schools; it transfers control of public school trust lands from the Boards of Supervisors to the Boards of Education, under the general supervision of the Secretary of State.

Since the passage of the 1978 16th Section and Lieu Land Act, 16th Section land leases are based on a classification system. The nine classifications include: Forest Land, Agricultural Land, Industrial Land, Commercial Land, Residential Land, Farm Residential Land, Recreational Land, Other Land, and Catfish Farming Land. Classification is determined by a finding of the highest and best use of the land for producing the maximum revenue.

All timber on 16th Section land is under the general supervision and management of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Leasing and Competitive Bidding

The local Boards of Education offer hunting and fishing leases, agricultural leases, and mineral leases through a competitive bidding process. Only forest land may be leased for hunting and fishing. Leases are awarded to the highest bidder after advertisement. The most recent leaseholder of a hunting and fishing lease has the right to renew his lease by matching the highest acceptable bid received.

Agricultural leases are granted to the highest bidder after advertisement. Agricultural land may be leased for a maximum term of ten years for the cultivation of rice or for pasturage. For all other agricultural uses, the maximum term is five years.

All 16th Section lands, regardless of classification, may be leased for the exploration, development, mining, and production of oil, gas, and minerals including: carbon dioxide and other gaseous substances; metals, compounds of metals, metal-bearing ores; coal, lignite, sulfur, salt, sand, gravel, fill dirt, and clay. The local Boards of Education grant leases to the highest bidders after advertisement.

Leasing by Application and Appraisal

Leases for all 16th Section land classifications, except for agricultural leases, hunting and fishing leases on forest land, and oil, gas, and mineral leases, are let by application to the local Superintendent of Education and upon approval of the Board of Education. Such leases must also be submitted to the Board of Supervisors for approval of the annual rental amount.

Annual rent for leases granted upon application is set at the appraised fair market rental of the land, excluding buildings and improvements not owned by the school district. For leases of industrial land and commercial land, the annual rental may not be set at less than five percent of the current market value, exclusive of buildings or improvements not owned by the school district.

The maximum lease term for all land classifications leased upon application is 40 years, and rent adjustment clauses are mandatory, except in leases of residential and farm residential land. Rent adjustment clauses are optional, but recommended, in residential and farm residential leases.

The holder of a lease granted upon application has a prior right to re-lease or extend an existing lease on terms as may be agreed upon with the Board of Education, but subject to the classification of the land.

Assignments of leases of 16th Section lands are allowed only if the lease contract so provides, or at the discretion of the Board of Education, provided that it may not arbitrarily withhold permission for assignment.

REVENUES – EXPENDABLE AND NON-EXPENDABLE FUNDS

Revenues collected from the following sources are deemed expendable funds: lease bonuses and annual delay rentals collected under oil, gas and mineral leases; annual rents collected under leases covering all 16th Section land classifications; interest received upon loans or investments of the principal fund; and proceeds from the sale of timber. Generally, expendable funds may be used for all the same purposes as other available school funds in operating and maintaining the schools of the district.

The principal fund is a permanent fund consisting of revenue received from the following sources: easements and rights-of-way; sales of lieu land; permanent damages to school trust land; sales of nonrenewable resources including, but not limited to, the sale of sand, gravel, dirt, clays, and royalties received from the sale of mineral ores, coal, oil, and gas; sales of buildings on 16th Section lands, and sales of timber. Except for income from timber sales, funds required to be deposited into the principal fund are not expendable. However, if a district desires to spend income from timber sales, it must maintain a separate principal fund account for timber income.

Districts are authorized to borrow principal funds at a rate of interest of not less than four percent per annum for a term of not more than 20 years for the erection, equipment, or repair of school buildings, improvement of timber stands, and to provide funds for any building project approved by the State Board of Education. Additionally, districts may borrow funds, at the same interest rate, for a term not exceeding 10 years for the purchase of school buses. It is the duty of the Board of Education to keep the principal fund invested.

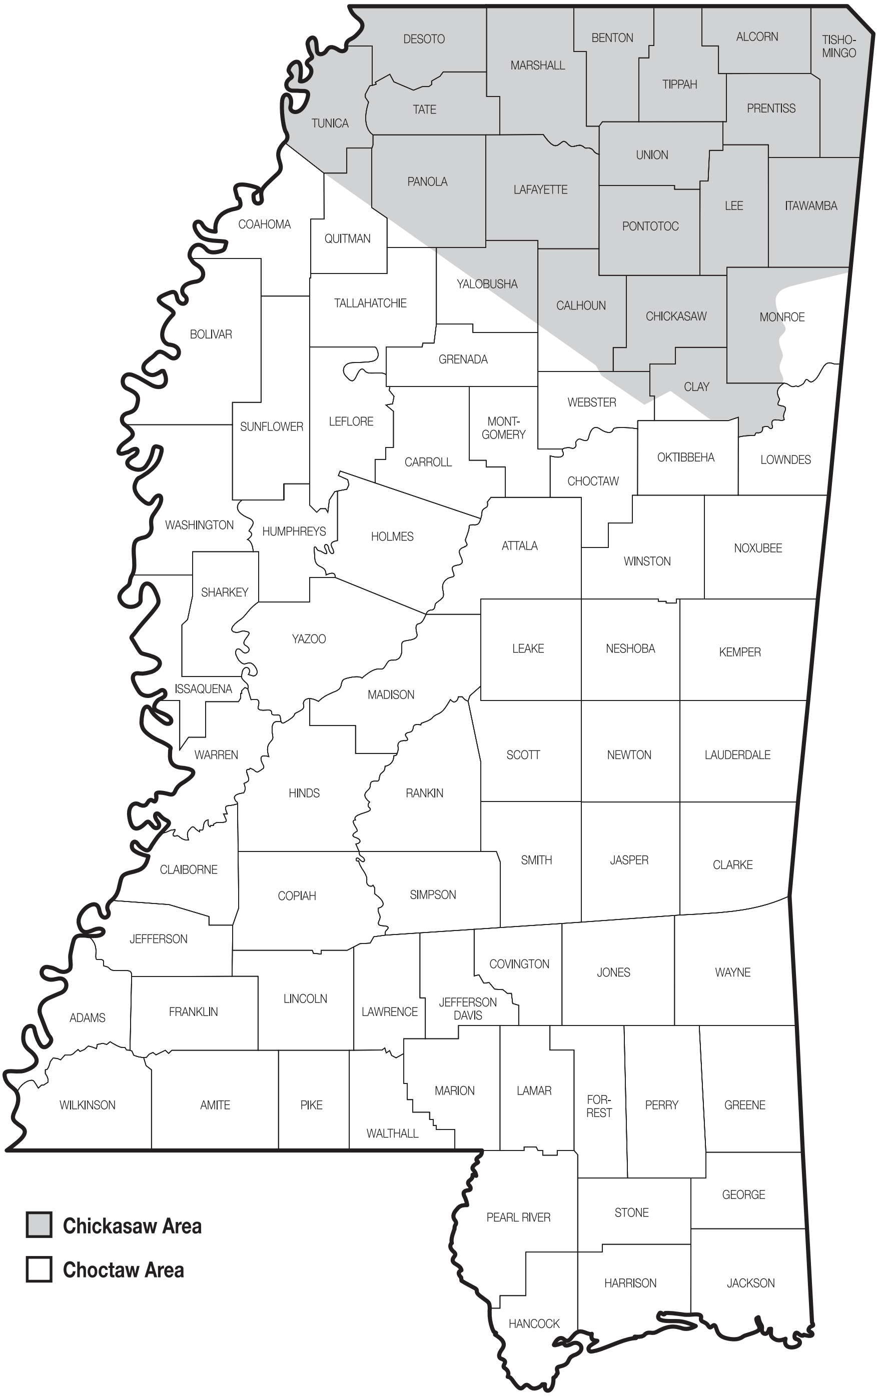
BUILDING ON REFORM

The passage of the 1978 16th Section and Lieu Land Act made tremendous strides in instituting sound management practices of our School Trust Lands. Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann strives to build upon the 16th Section Reform Act and the work of prior Secretaries of State by reforming timber practices in our State and allowing for more open transparency in the way Mississippi regulates 16th Section land.

In the first 90 days of his term, Secretary Hosemann fulfilled a campaign promise to publish all 16th Section land leases on the Secretary of State's website. The posting of these leases allowed for a comparative analysis for school boards to determine fair rental value of 16th Section lands. School boards are now able to establish what amount a comparable lease is receiving in surrounding areas. Now, they are better able to determine how to get the most money for our State lands. The Secretary of State also personally reviews each 16th Section lease that is entered into to be sure we maximize the monetary return to our schools.

Secretary Hosemann entered into a historic Memorandum of Understanding with the Mississippi Forestry Commission to better manage the timber on our 16th Section lands. Through the latest geospatial technologies made available through federal grant dollars, school boards are now armed with the most up-to-date tools to make knowledgeable decisions in regards to timber leases, revenues, and management. Because of this increased citizen knowledge, scrutiny and public information, our State will see an increase in the rate of return of our timber lands, all of which is paid directly to the local school board for use in educating school children. In addition, Secretary Hosemann is also exploring other ways to grow 16th Section land revenues by exploring alternative land uses. Salt domes and lignite excavation are untapped resources waiting to be discovered.

SCHOOL LANDS IN MISSISSIPPI



TIDELANDS

It is the policy of the State of Mississippi to favor the preservation of the natural state of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems and to prevent the despoliation and destruction of them, except where a specific alteration would serve a higher public interest in compliance with the public purposes of the trust. Public Trust Tidelands are managed with a view towards preservation. Revenues are deposited into the Tidelands Fund allocated by the State Legislature, and disbursed to the Department of Marine Resources for programs and projects relating to conservation, reclamation, preservation, acquisition, education and enhancement of public access to the tidelands.

Mississippi's Public Tidelands Trust includes all lands beneath waters that are naturally subject to tidal influence. In general, the inland boundary of the trust is the line of mean high tide of the Gulf of Mexico and the bays, rivers and bayous that flow into it. The outer boundary is the state's seaward boundary, three miles south of the barrier islands. The mean high tide is an arithmetic average of ordinary high tides over a 19 year tidal epoch. As such, the boundary line between public trust tidelands and privately owned lands is not a fixed, stationary line. It ambulates with changes in the mean high tide over the years. Accretion and reliction may increase the upland, private estate; while erosion, subsidence and rising sea levels may move the boundary inland and increase the area held as public tidelands and submerged lands. Artificial changes to a shoreline, such as filling or dredging, do not change the public trust tidelands boundary.

History

The Public Trust Doctrine, the legal authority through which these lands are administered, is of ancient origin. The concept of common ownership of the sea and the seashore is based on the second century work of the Roman jurist Gaius. The doctrine was later codified by Justinian, the emperor who ruled the Roman Empire from Constantinople in the Sixth Century: "… Let us proceed to the law of Things. Of these, some admit of private ownership, while others… are by natural law common to all…. The following things are by natural law common to all—the air, running water, the sea, and consequently the seashore."

Roman civil law shaped not only the civil law of Continental Europe, but also the common law of England, where the tidelands were protected by the King for all his subjects, and subsequently the law of the United States. Thomas Jefferson owned several editions of the Institutes of Justinian, including the first American translation.

The Public Trust Doctrine in Mississippi

The original colonies withheld their tidelands from the United States when they adopted the Constitution and entered the union. Subsequently admitted states entered the union on an equal footing with the original thirteen, with the United States creating similar trusts for each new state.

Mississippi's Public Tidelands Trust was funded at the time of statehood in 1817. In 1857, the Mississippi Supreme Court recognized in Martin v. O'Brien, 34 Miss. 21, that "the shores of the sea below high water mark belong to the state as trustee for the public…" and there followed a long and unbroken line of cases recognizing the state's ownership of lands overflowed by the tide. The issue attracted new interest in the mid-1980s when a dispute arose between the State and private owners over the right to lease oil, gas and mineral interests. In the 1986 Mississippi Supreme Court decision in Cinque Bambini Partnership v. State, 491 So.2d 508, Justice James Robertson, writing for a unanimous court, declared that "title to all lands naturally subject to tidal influence, inland to today's mean high water mark, is held by the State of Mississippi in trust…." Justice Robertson noted in the Cinque Bambini ruling that "The public purposes to which these lands and waters placed in the public trust may be devoted are not static."

They include navigation and transportation; commerce; fishing; bathing, swimming and other recreational activities; development of mineral resources; environmental protection and preservation; the enhancement of aquatic, avarian and marine life, sea agriculture "and no doubt others."

In February 1988, the United States Supreme Court affirmed the Cinque Bambini decision in Phillips Petroleum Company v. Mississippi, 484 U.S. 108, 108 S.Ct. 791, 98 L.Ed. 277.

Following the state and federal Supreme Court decisions, the Mississippi Legislature in 1989 adopted the Public Trust Tidelands Act, which is codified primarily in Chapter 15 of Title 29 of the Mississippi Code. The Legislature, mindful of the many and sometimes conflicting public purposes of the trust, declared it "to be the public policy of this state to favor the preservation of the natural state of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems and to prevent the despoliation and destruction of them, except where a specific alteration of specific public trust tidelands would serve a higher public interest in compliance with the public purposes of the public trust in which such tidelands are held." MCA §29-15-3(1). And while the law provides that tidelands and submerged lands are held by the state in trust for use of all the people, it also recognizes that the state's responsibilities as trustee extend to littoral and riparian property owners as well as to other members of the public. MCA §29-15-5.

The constitutionality of the 1989 Public Trust Tidelands Act was upheld by the Mississippi Supreme Court in Secretary of State v. Wiesenberg, 633 So.2d 983 (Miss. 1994).

Tidelands Maps

In the preamble to the Public Trust Tidelands Act, the Legislature found that certainty and stability of the land titles of riparian and littoral property owners along the shores of tidally affected waters of the state are essential to the economic welfare of the state and to the peace, tranquility and financial security of the citizens of the state of Mississippi. A crucial part of this act directed the Secretary of State to publish maps depicting the boundary of the public trust tidelands. MCA § 29-15-7. Pursuant to this directive, final maps were adopted and certified December 5, 1994. These maps provide the basis for determining the boundary between private upland and Public Trust Tidelands by showing areas where the shoreline is natural and where the shoreline has been artificially altered by excavation and filling. Official copies of these maps are available in the offices of the Secretary of State offices in Jackson and Gulfport, as well as in the offices of the Chancery Clerks of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

Tidelands Leasing

Under MCA §29-1-107, the Secretary of State is authorized to "rent or lease surface lands, tidelands or submerged lands owned or controlled by the State of Mississippi lying in or adjacent to the Mississippi Sound or Gulf of Mexico or streams emptying therein…" MCA §29-1-107(2) states he "may lease or rent surface lands, tidelands or submerged lands..." The Secretary of State may decide a particular proposed alteration of public trust tidelands does not serve a higher public interest in compliance with the purposes of the trust and decline to lease tidelands to a lease applicant. The discretionary nature of the tidelands leasing authority was upheld by the Mississippi Supreme Court in Columbia Land Development LLC v. Secretary of State Eric Clark, 868 So.2d 1006 (Miss. 2004).

Pursuant to this statutory and judicial authority, the Secretary of State publishes Rules, Regulations and Procedures for the Administration, Control and Leasing of Public Trust Tidelands and Submerged Lands. Because the Mississippi Constitution in Section 95 prohibits the donation of lands belonging to the state to individuals or private corporations, these rules generally require that when an activity on public trust tidelands requires a lease, the lease rental must be fair market value. In 2012, the Legislature exempted littoral and riparian owners' residential piers from the leasing requirements.

In all cases where a lease is required, the Secretary of State establishes the initial rent. In most cases the initial rent is based on an appraisal prepared by a qualified appraiser selected by the Secretary of State. The prospective lessee is free to provide the state's appraiser with any information he believes is relevant. The law requires rent review and adjustment at each fifth anniversary of the lease. The rent adjustment is tied either to the All Urban Consumer Price Index – All Items (CPI) or to an appraisal that deducts the value of the lessee's improvements. Casino leases are generally adjusted annually by the CPI index.

The Secretary of State's administrative rules take into account the special status of riparian and littoral owners. In the riparian or littoral area, the rules provide that only the riparian or littoral owner or someone who stands in his shoes can lease the adjoining tidelands for private use. Nevertheless, the state may impose additional public uses in a littoral or riparian area provided such uses serve a higher public purpose approved by the legislature.

The Public Trust Tidelands Fund

The rents which the State collects from tidelands leases are deposited in a special fund called the Public Trust Tidelands Fund. Each year, after covering administrative costs and lost ad valorem taxes, if any, the Secretary of State disburses the funds to the Department of Marine Resources.

The Legislature has directed this money be used for "new and extra programs of tidelands management, such as conservation, reclamation, preservation, acquisition, education or the enhancement of public access to the public trust tidelands or public improvement projects as they relate to such lands." MCA §29-15-9.

Between 1990 and 2012, the Secretary of State has turned back more than $107 million from tidelands leases and assessments to the Department of Marine Resources. That money is spent in the three coastal counties to build public piers and boat launches; to improve and build municipal and county marinas and harbors; to establish and monitor fishing reefs in the Mississippi Sound; to acquire environmentally important habitat for Mississippi's Coastal Preserve System; and to conduct important scientific research on subjects like fisheries stocks, red tide and submerged sea grasses, and other subjects essential to the protection and preservation of the public trust tidelands and their ecosystems.

In 2013, Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann, along with the Mississippi Legislature, also acquired a significant portion of Cat Island to protect and preserve this natural resource for generations to come. One of the five islands which form the southern boundary of the State of Mississippi, Cat Island lies roughly eight to 10 miles south of the mainland coast and is the only Mississippi barrier island with significant acreage remaining in private ownership. Through several different funding mechanisms, the State of Mississippi was able to acquire approximately 217 acres of Cat Island from a private landowner at minimal cost to the State. The acquisition of such a pristine ecological portion of land is a significant step in the preservation of Cat Island for public use.

ELECTIONS

Every year is an election year in Mississippi. Elections for all state offices and most county-level offices are held in years preceding presidential elections which are held every four years. Most municipal elections are conducted in years immediately following presidential elections. The Secretary of State's Office is responsible for overseeing and conducting all statewide elections in cooperation with local Election Commissioners and Circuit Clerks. The Secretary of State is statutorily authorized to certify election returns and to report to the Mississippi Legislature on electoral vote totals.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Registration Qualifications: Every United States citizen has the right to vote in Mississippi elections as long as he or she is:

- A resident of Mississippi and the county, city, or town for 30 days
- 18 years of age or older
- Not declared mentally incompetent by a court
- Not convicted in a Mississippi court of arson, armed robbery, bigamy, bribery, carjacking, embezzlement, extortion, felony bad check, felony shoplifting, forgery, larceny, murder, obtaining money or goods under false pretense, perjury, rape, receiving stolen property, robbery, statutory rape, theft, timber larceny, or unlawful taking of motor vehicle, unless having been pardoned or had rights of citizenship restored by Governor, or had suffrage restored by the Legislature

Registering to Vote: Register to vote in person with either the county registrar (usually the circuit clerk), the municipal clerk, or with the registrar or deputy registrar at a duly authorized satellite registration location. Registrars must accept registration at any time during regular office hours. The registration form is kept as a permanent record. Registration must be accomplished at least 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Mail-in voter registration forms are available at the Secretary of State's Office, in public libraries, drivers license examining stations, circuit clerks' offices, municipal clerks' offices, public schools, and online at the Secretary of State's website, www.sos.ms.gov. Additionally, voters may register at certain state and federal agencies. The application must be postmarked or delivered to the registrar 30 days prior to the first election in which a citizen wishes to vote.

Polling places and precincts are assigned to registered voters by the voter registrar. Voters who move from one precinct to another within the county or city should submit a written change of address notice to the voter registrar. Voters who move from county to county within the state must re-register in the new county of residence.

Voting Absentee: Registered voters who meet one of the following criteria can apply for and vote by absentee ballot:

- Away from county of residence on election day
- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily or permanently physically disabled
- Student, teacher, or administrator, or a spouse and/or dependent whose studies or employment requires absence from the home county on election day
- Must be at place of work during the times the polls are open
- Member of the armed forces, a spouse, and/or dependent of military personnel
- Member of Merchant Marines or Red Cross, a spouse, and/or dependent of a member
- Hospitalized, disabled war veteran, a spouse, and/or dependent of a hospitalized veteran
- Civilian attached to and serving outside the U.S. with any branch of the armed forces, Merchant Marines, or Red Cross or a spouse and/or dependent
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day
- Member, spouse, or dependent of Mississippi's Congressional delegation

Applications for absentee ballots are accepted during regular working hours at the voter registrar's office beginning 60 days before an election. Applications also are accepted at the voter registrar's office from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. on the two Saturdays before an election. Absentee balloting begins 45 days before the election.

Only registered voters who meet any one or more of the following criteria may apply for and cast absentee ballots by mail:

- 65 years of age or older
- Temporarily residing outside the county of residence
- Parent, spouse, and/or dependent who will be with a temporarily or permanently disabled individual who is hospitalized outside his/her county of residence, or more than 50 miles away from his/her residence, on election day
- Permanently or temporarily physically disabled

Mail-in absentee ballot applications must be notarized and officially sworn to by any one of the following:

- Notary public
- U.S. Postmaster
- Assistant U.S. Postmaster
- U.S. Postal Supervisor
- Clerk in charge of a contract postal station
- Any officer having authority to administer an oath or take an acknowledgment

Applications of persons who are temporarily or permanently physically disabled are not required to be notarized. It is sufficient for the application to be witnessed by a person 18 years of age or older.

Permanently physically disabled voters may receive absentee ballots on a continuing basis by submitting a regular absentee ballot application along with a statement signed and sworn to by a licensed physician or nurse practitioner to the voter registrar.

Members of the military and Mississippi citizens residing overseas may mail or fax a Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to the voter registrar. The post card is obtained from their military command or employer and can be used to either apply for an absentee ballot, apply to register as a voter, or both. In addition, Mississippi law allows military and overseas voters to receive by fax from the registrar an absentee ballot and to return by fax to the registrar a voted absentee ballot. Absentee ballots can also be scanned and emailed to the Secretary of State's Office at uocava@sos.ms.gov. The Secretary of State's Office will relay the ballots to the appropriate circuit clerk's office. If time constraints dictate, a military or overseas voter may use a federal write-in ballot for voting.

Absentee ballots voted in the office of the voter registrar must be cast by noon on Saturday preceding a Tuesday election.

Mailed, completed absentee ballots must be received by the voter registrar before 5:00 p.m. on the day before election day, except for military and overseas ballots for President of the United States which may be received by the registrar until 7:00 p.m. on election day.

Absentee ballot fraud is a crime in Mississippi. A person convicted of absentee ballot fraud is subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or by imprisonment in the county jail for no more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, or by being sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years. The laws describing the crime and penalties are found in Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-753 (1972).

2002 HELP AMERICA VOTE ACT

On October 29, 2002, President George W. Bush signed the Help America Vote Act (HAVA) into law. HAVA is a federal response to the irregularities in voting systems and processes seen in certain states during the 2000 Presidential Election. HAVA requires each state to develop a comprehensive state plan for implementing mandatory changes in the administration of elections. The impact of HAVA on the state includes these areas: a centralized statewide voter registration system, replacing punch card and lever voting machines, improving voter education and poll worker training, requiring provisional ballots, and mandating that at least one voting machine which is accessible to voters with disabilities be available per polling place.

THE ELECTION PROCESS

The two major political parties in Mississippi are the Democratic Party of the State of Mississippi and the Mississippi Republican Party. Other registered political parties include the Libertarian Party of Mississippi, Constitution Party of Mississippi, Green Party of Mississippi, and the America First Party of Mississippi. Candidates who do not align themselves with any political party are known as Independents.

Generally, political parties choose members to serve on county executive committees during county caucuses held the year after gubernatorial races. Party state executive committees are elected at congressional district caucuses and state party conventions. Municipal party executive committees are elected in the municipal party primaries, usually held the year following presidential elections.

Qualifying for Office: All candidates must meet the legal requirements to hold the office sought. Most qualifying deadlines are the same for both independent candidates and party candidates.

Party candidates pay qualifying fees and file qualifying papers with the municipal clerk or county circuit clerk or, in the case of state and state district races, with either the county circuit clerk or secretary of state's office.

Independent candidates do not pay qualifying fees to run for office. Rather, they qualify by filing petitions signed by a specified number of registered voters. Independent candidates for state and state district offices file with the Secretary of State's Office petitions which have been certified by the local county voter registrar.

Independent candidates for county and county district offices file qualifying papers with the county registrar's office, and independent candidates for municipal office file qualifying papers with the municipal registrar's office.

Fee for party candidates: $15 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.

Number of signatures required for Independent candidates: 15. No fee required.

Note: In most cases, fees are assessed only of candidates who run in party primaries. Independent candidates are not assessed fees. For the current schedule of most fees, see Miss. Code Ann. §§ 23-15-297 and 23-15-977 (1972). Party candidates must file the required fee and a qualifying statement of intent (available from the Circuit Clerk or the Secretary of State's Office). The completed and certified petitions of Independent candidates for multi-county offices must be submitted to the Secretary of State's Office by the appropriate qualifying deadline. Accordingly, the petition must first be submitted a reasonable time in advance to the appropriate circuit clerk's office so signatures may be certified as those of registered voters. More information can be obtained from the Secretary of State's Office or the Circuit Clerk.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Party candidates are nominated during party primary elections. Voters cast ballots in the party primary of their choice. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, a run-off, or second primary, is held between the two candidates with the most votes. Run-offs are held either two or three weeks after the primary depending on the office.

Voters in the first primary of one party may not "crossover" and vote in the run-off of another party. Persons who do not vote in a first primary may vote in any party's run-off.

County or municipal party executive committees conduct party primary elections and certify party primary election returns. These certified returns are filed with the applicable voter registrar. Results of state or state district primaries are sent to the state party executive committee for certification. Certified results of state and state district party primaries are filed with the Secretary of State's Office.

NON-PARTISAN ELECTIONS

The elections for Supreme Court Justices, Court of Appeals Judges, Chancery Court Judges, Circuit Court Judges, and County and Family Court Judges are conducted as non-partisan races. Thus, candidates for these offices must submit qualifying fees and papers to statutorily designated offices.

GENERAL ELECTIONS

Party nominees, qualified independent candidates, candidates for non-partisan offices, and certain ballot measures like bond issues and constitutional amendments usually appear on general election ballots.

The Secretary of State issues the official "sample ballot" for state and state district offices. Local election commissions issue the official "sample ballot" for county and municipal offices.

Usually, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes is elected in the general election. However, run-off elections held after the general election are sometimes necessary for non-partisan judicial offices and some special elections because no party primary/run-off system is held.

General elections are run by county election commissions or municipal election commissions with limited oversight from the State Board of Election Commissioners, comprised of the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General. Voter registrars and the Secretary of State's Office assist. Local election commissions file certified election returns with the Secretary of State's Office. Municipal election commissions file copies of the certified election returns with the Secretary of State's Office.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE VOTES

Section 140 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 states that in order to be elected Governor or to any of the other seven statewide elected offices, a candidate must receive a majority of the popular vote in the general election and a majority of the electoral vote.

The electoral vote totals are determined by state House of Representatives districts. The candidate who receives the most votes in an individual district is awarded the electoral vote for that district. With 122 House Districts in the state, a majority of electoral votes is 62.

The electoral vote for the 2011 General Election is presented below:

STATE OFFICE	ELECTORAL VOTE TOTALS
Governor
Phil Bryant	82
Johnny L. Dupree	40
Lieutenant Governor
Tate Reeves	121
Tracella Lou O'Hara Hill	1
Secretary of State
Delbert Hosemann	122
Attorney General
Jim Hood	98
Steve Simpson	24
Stacey E. Pickering	113
Ashley Norwood	9
State Treasurer
Lynn Fitch	80
Connie Moran	42
Joel Gill	41
Cathy L. Toole	0
Mike Chaney	83
Louis Fondren	39
Barbara Dale Washer	0

If a candidate does not receive both a majority of the popular votes and a majority of the electoral vote, Section 141 of the Mississippi Constitution provides that members of the House of Representatives shall choose the Governor from the two persons who received the highest number of popular votes.

VOTER IDENTIFICATION

In the November 2011 General Election, more than 62% of Mississippi voters approved a proposed Constitutional Amendment to require electors appearing in person to vote to present an approved form of photo identification before being allowed to cast a ballot. Before the Voter Identification law is implemented, however, it must first be pre-cleared by the U.S. Department of Justice or the U.S. District Court in Washington D.C. under requirements of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. A federal ruling on Mississippi's law had not been issued as of May 2013.

Upon federal approval, a qualified elector will be able to present several acceptable forms of photo identification to satisfy the new requirement. Acceptable forms of photo ID are:

- A Mississippi driver's license;
- A photo ID card issued by a branch, department or agency of the State of Mississippi;
- A United States passport;
- A U.S. or Mississippi state or local government employee photo ID;
- A Mississippi firearms license;
- A student photo ID issued by an accredited university, college or community college;
- A U.S. military ID;
- A tribal identification card.

If an elector does not have any of the acceptable forms of photo identification, a Mississippi Voter Photo Identification card will be available at no cost to the individual. Cards will be available at Circuit Clerks' offices in all 82 Mississippi counties. If an individual needs travel assistance to obtain a Mississippi Voter Photo ID card, it will be provided at no cost to the individual.

The Mississippi Secretary of State's Office is responsible for developing procedures for implementing the new Voter ID law.

The Voter Identification requirement does not apply to any voter living and voting in a licensed nursing home or assisted living center or voting by absentee ballot by mail.

Also, any elector who has a religious objection to being photographed will be allowed to cast an affidavit ballot. The affidavit ballot will automatically count if the elector executes a separate affidavit before the Circuit Clerk affirming the religious objection of the elector to being photographed.

Any elector who does not present acceptable photo identification will be able to cast an affidavit ballot. The affidavit ballot will automatically count if the elector presents acceptable photo identification to the appropriate circuit clerk.

The Voter Identification initiative, placed on the 2011 General Election ballot for statewide approval, was the result of initiative petitions signed by 131,678 Mississippians. According to Mississippi law, petitioners were required to gather a minimum of 89,285 certified signatures with at least 17,857 certified signatures from each of the five Congressional Districts as they existed in 2000 for the initiative to be placed on the ballot.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE DISCLOSURE AND ORGANIZATION

Candidates for public office in Mississippi must follow state law regarding disclosure of their political contributions and expenditures. Political committees, groups that raise and donate money on behalf of candidates or issues, also must follow the state's disclosure laws.

In 1998, the Mississippi Legislature passed a major campaign finance reform bill which became law in 1999. Campaign contributions and expenditures that exceed $200 must be reported by candidates and committees.

Any person or group who spends or receives in the aggregate $200.01 or more to influence an election must file all applicable campaign finance reports, even if qualifying papers have not been filed. In addition to campaign finance disclosure reports, political committees must register their organization within ten days of receiving or spending in excess of $200 to influence voters.

Candidates for state, state district, and legislative office file reports with the Secretary of State's Office. County and county/district candidates file reports with the appropriate circuit clerk, and candidates for municipal office file reports with the municipal clerk.

All judicial candidates, except justice court judges, are required to establish committees to handle campaign finances. Candidate committees for judges are prohibited from soliciting donations earlier than 60 days before the candidate qualifying deadline and later than 120 days after the last applicable election day, according to Canon 5 Code of Judicial Conduct.

Once authorized by a candidate to conduct campaign activities for any elected office except a federal office, a candidate's political committee must also register their organization and file campaign finance reports. Candidates for federal office should contact the Federal Election Commission for campaign finance disclosure requirements.

Campaign Finance Report Requirements:

Five types of campaign finance reports are required of all candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees. These reports are filed at different times.

1. Pre-election reports – Aggregate from January 1 through the tenth day before each election. Due date: the 7th day before any election. Candidates and candidate committees file only in elections in which the candidates' names are on the ballot, but political committees file before any primary, run-off, or general election, even if the committee is not involved.
2. Periodic reports – Aggregate from January 1 through the due date. Periodic reports are due in gubernatorial and judicial election years. Due dates: May 10, June 10, July 10, October 10, and January 10.
3. Annual reports – Aggregate for the period from January 1 through December 31. Due date: January 31 except following gubernatorial election years, during which periodic reports are filed and judicial candidates in years they file periodic reports.
4. 48 Hour reports – Applies only to candidates. Reportable contributions received after the tenth day, but more than 48 hours before 12:01 a.m. on the election day, must be reported by fax, mail, or hand delivery to the appropriate office within 48 hours of receipt.
5. Termination reports – Due when political activities cease. Contains all reportable activity since the last filed report. Unless and until a termination report is filed, every candidate and committee must file every required report. A termination report may be filed when contributions are no longer accepted, expenditures are no longer made, and there are no outstanding debts or financial obligations associated with the candidate or committee activities. Filing a termination report is the only way to end reporting obligations and responsibilities. If no termination report is filed, candidates and committees remain subject to filing all other required reports.

Political committees and individuals aligned for or against constitutional initiatives must file monthly initiative committee reports with the Secretary of State.

Report Contents:

All reports must include:

1. Aggregated year-to-date totals – Total year-to-date amount of contributions received and expenditures made must be reported by all candidates.
2. Cash on hand – All cash on hand must be reported and carried over year-to-year.
3. Contributions – An itemized listing must be reported of each contributor who has contributed in the aggregate over $200 year-to-date, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of each contribution, amount of each contribution, and year-to-date aggregate contribution.
4. Expenditures – An itemized listing must be reported of each expenditure of over $200 in the aggregate year-to-date and the person or business, including name, address, occupation, employer, date of expenditure, amount of expenditure, and year-to-date aggregate expenditures.

Campaign finance report forms may be obtained from the local voter registrar's office, the Secretary of State's Office, or downloaded from the Secretary of State's website at www.sos.ms.gov or filed electronically.

Statement of Economic Interest:

Candidates for public office also must file a "Statement of Economic Interest" with the Mississippi Ethics Commission. The form may be obtained from the Mississippi Ethics Commission.

Technical Assistance:

Candidates, candidate's committees, and political committees are advised to review the appropriate statutes and state laws regarding regulation and disclosure of campaign finances and other obligations and responsibilities. Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-801 et seq. (1972).

The information printed in this edition of the Official and Statistical Register regarding voter registration, voting, absentee voting, candidate qualifications, dates of elections, qualifying deadlines, and campaign finance disclosure is subject to change due to legislation or action by the Courts. Always refer to the current language in effect for the appropriate statutes and contact your circuit clerk or the Secretary of State's Office before relying on the information in this book.

MISSISSIPPI FIRSTS

In 1963, the University of Mississippi Medical Center accomplished the world's first human lung transplant and, on January 23, 1964, Dr. James D. Hardy performed the world's first heart transplant surgery.

Borden's Condensed Milk was first canned in Liberty.

The first bottle of Dr. Tichener's Antiseptic was produced in Liberty.

H.T. Merrill from Iuka performed the world's first round trip trans-oceanic flight in 1928.

In 1884 the concept of selling shoes in boxes in pairs (right foot and left foot) occurred in Vicksburg at Phil Gilbert's Shoe Parlor on Washington Street.

The first female rural mail carrier in the United States was Mrs. Mamie Thomas. She delivered mail by buggy to the area southeast of Vicksburg in 1914.

Historic Jefferson College, circa 1802, was the first preparatory school established in the Mississippi Territory. Located in Washington the educational institution is also the site where tradition holds Aaron Burr was arraigned for treason in 1807, beneath what became known as Burr Oaks.

William Grant, of Woodville, was the first African American to conduct a major American symphony orchestra.

Burnita Shelton Mathews of Hazelhurst was the first woman federal judge in the United States and served in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Emmette F. Izard of Hazelhurst developed the first fibers of rayon. They became known as the first real synthetics.

The first nuclear submarine built in the south was produced in Mississippi.

Leontyne Price was the first African American to become a leading prima donna at the Metropolitan Opera in New York City.

The first football player on a Wheaties box was Walter Payton of Columbia.

Natchez was settled by the French in 1716 and was the first permanent settlement on the Mississippi River. Natchez once had 500 millionaires, more than any other city except New York City.

Pine Sol was invented in 1929 by Jackson native Harry A. Cole, Sr.

Root beer was invented in Biloxi in 1898 by Edward Adolf Barq, Sr.

MISSISSIPPI STATE CAPITOL

400 High Street, Jackson, MS 39201
(601) 359-3114

Mississippi's current State Capitol Building, located between Mississippi and High streets in downtown Jackson, is the third capitol building built in the capital city of Jackson. The first building was completed in 1822, the second building in 1833 and the current capitol building was completed in 1903. The building was erected on the site of the old state penitentiary and was designed by Theodore Link, an architect from St. Louis, Missouri. The building cost $1,095,681, which was financed by the Illinois Central Railroad's payment of back taxes they owed the state.

From 1979 to 1983, the capitol building underwent a complete restoration, which cost $19 million. The renovation remained true to the original building and strived to maintain the original design when at all possible.

The Beaux Arts style building was designed to house all branches of the Mississippi State government. Currently, only the Legislature and the executive branches are contained in the Capitol. The judicial branch is housed in the Gartin Justice Building across High Street.

The Capitol is 402 feet long and 180 feet to the top of the dome. The dome interior contains 750 lights which illuminate the blind-folded lady representing "Blind Justice" and four scenes: two Indians, a Spanish explorer and a Confederate general. The eagle, which sits atop the dome, is made of solid copper gilded with gold leaf. The eagle is 8 feet high and 15 feet wide.

On the first floor, the Hall of Governors features portraits of Mississippi's governors since the creation of the Mississippi Territory in 1798. The State Library and the Supreme Court chambers, now both committee meeting rooms, are located on the second floor. Both houses of the Legislature are located on the third floor, along with the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House's offices. The Secretary of State maintains an office on the first floor near the main, southern-facing entrance. Public viewing for both chambers is located on the fourth floor.

The walls of the rotunda are Italian white marble with a base of New York jet-black marble. Eight large columns are art marble known as scagliola. Balustrades are cast iron and original to the building.

The Senate Chamber has seats for the 52 Senators. The Chamber is art marble with the base of Belgium black marble. Its columns are Breccia violet with corinthian caps. Its dome is stained Bohemian glass with another dome on top for protection. In the center of the dome is a green circle of printing that reads, "The people's government made for the people by the people and answerable to the people." An image of Theresa Whitecloud, a full-blooded Choctaw Indian princess (died 1970), is on six wooden panels. The Chamber desks were replaced in the 1940s.

The House of Representatives Chamber has seats for the 122 Representatives, including the Speaker, the chamber's presiding officer. The Chamber dome is the original Bohemian stained glass with another dome on top for protection of the stained glass. Desks are the originals of 1903. The Mississippi Coat of Arms is at the top of each arch. The walls are art marble and their base is Belgian black marble.

One of the 53 replicas of the original Liberty Bell, as well as a statue erected in memory of the ladies, mothers, sisters, wives and daughters of the Confederate soldiers, is located on the capitol grounds. Among the trees on the grounds are the state tree, the magnolia tree, along with two Japanese magnolia trees. Also on the grounds is the figurehead from the second USS Mississippi battleship. The ship was sold to the government of Greece during 1914 but the figurehead was presented to Mississippi by the United States Navy in December 1909.

GOVERNOR’S MANSION

300 East Capitol Street, Jackson, MS 39201
(601) 359-3175

First occupied in 1842, the Mississippi Governor’s Mansion is the second oldest continuously occupied governor’s residence in the United States. In 1975, it was designated a National Historic Landmark, making it at that time one of only two state gubernatorial residences to receive this honor.

In January 1833, the Mississippi legislature appropriated funds to build a capitol building and “a suitable house for the Governor.” Delayed by a serious Depression caused by the Panic of 1837, construction of the Governor’s Mansion was not begun until 1839, the same year that the capitol building was completed. In January 1842, Governor Tilghman Tucker and his family moved into the Mansion, which had been constructed for a cost of approximately $50,000.00. Both the capitol building (Old Capitol) and the Governor’s Mansion were designed by architect William Nichols, a native of Bath, England. Nichols designed the Mansion in the period’s most popular architectural style—Greek Revival. Architectural historians consider the Mississippi Governor’s Mansion to be one of the finest surviving examples of the Greek Revival style in the United States.

During the latter part of the nineteenth century, the Mansion fell into a state of disrepair, and by 1900 many people were calling for its demolition. In 1908, Governor Edmund Noel initially refused to move his family there and lived instead at the Edwards House, a hotel a few blocks away from the Mansion. Then-Governor Noel and family moved into the Mansion briefly, believing this would be the most effective way to bring attention to the condition of the property. The cause to save the Mansion was taken up by First Lady Alice Noel and by patriotic ladies’ organizations, who persuaded the Legislature to allocate $30,000 for a renovation, directed by local architect William S. Hull.

The 1908–1909 renovation included the construction of a two-story family annex, which was added to the rear of the Mansion. The three-part window on the rear façade was bricked in, and other windows in the original structure—nineteenth-century twelve-pane windows—were replaced with the more contemporary double-pane style. The original staircase was removed and replaced with a center staircase to give access to the family annex. New large entrances were constructed from the hall to the State Dining Room and from the hall to the Back Rose (Northwest) Parlor of the same size as the original entrances between the State Dining Room/Gold (East) Parlor and between the double Rose (West) Parlors. These 1909 entrances had architraves and sliding doors to match the 1841 entrances. The original front door was removed and replaced with a beveled glass door. Thin hardwood floors were placed over the original wide heart pine plank floors. A layer of yellow pressed brick was applied to the original Mansion exterior to match the yellow pressed brick of the two-story annex. The Mansion retained this yellow brick exterior until it was painted white during the 1940-1943 term of Governor Paul B. Johnson, Sr.

Despite occasional appropriations for repair and furnishings, the Mansion deteriorated structurally. In July 1971, a safety inspection of the Mansion indicated that the building was not safe for occupancy, and Governor John Bell Williams and his family subsequently vacated the Mansion. It was determined that only a major restoration could save the Governor's Mansion for future generations.

In December 1971 Governor-elect William Waller met with the State Building Commission, which adopted a resolution recommending to the Legislature that the Mansion be "completely restored, refurbished, and refurnished." The Commission called upon the Board of Trustees of the Department of Archives and History to be responsible for advising the project architect and named Charlotte Capers, director of the Department during the restoration of the Old Capitol, as principal executive for the project. Shortly after Governor Waller's January 1972 inauguration, funds were allocated by the Legislature for the 1972–1975 major restoration and renovation of the Mansion.

Charlotte Capers secured two distinguished consultants for the project: Charles E. Peterson, architectural historian and restorationist, best known for his work on the Independence Hall restoration; and Edward Vason Jones, architect and interior designer and consultant to the White House. The consultants worked closely with the project architects, Lewis-Eaton Partnership, Inc., on all matters related to the historic or original portion of the Mansion. The family annex, built in 1908 and condemned as unsafe in 1971, was demolished and reconstructed in a similar but larger version to provide family living quarters and office space.

On June 8, 1975, the $2.7 million restoration and renovation of the Mansion was completed and a formal dedication ceremony held. In 1975, the Mississippi Governor's Mansion was designated a National Historic Landmark by the Department of Interior for its architectural and historical significance.

OLD CAPITOL MUSEUM

100 South State Street, Jackson, MS 39201
(601) 576-6920

The Old Capitol was the site of some of the state's most significant legislative actions, such as the passage of the 1839 Married Women's Property Act, Mississippi's secession from the Union in 1861, and the crafting of the 1868 and 1890 state constitutions.

Architect for the Capitol was William Nichols, born in 1780 in Bath, England. In 1800 he immigrated to the United States. Nichols worked in New Bern, North Carolina, as an architect and builder, and then in 1819 was appointed state architect of North Carolina. His Greek Revival renovation of their state house previewed his design for Mississippi's Old Capitol almost two decades later.

When Nichols came to Mississippi in the fall of 1835 as the new state architect, his first job was to tear down previous architect John Lawrence's false start on the building. Nichols overcame many obstacles in the construction of the Old Capitol; the shortage of skilled workers was so great that some owners hired out their skilled slaves. Nichols used local limestone, although it was of inferior quality. Blocks of stone were carried by wagon from the quarry to Jackson. Construction was repeatedly slowed by problems with the brick suppliers. Nevertheless, Nichols carried on.

Except for small interior details, work was finished by February 1840. A chandelier arrived in June 1840, and the final expenditure for building the state house was made October 13, 1840, for flagging the rotunda. The cost of building the Old Capitol was about $400,000, a huge amount for that time.

While Nichols was working on the state house, he also designed two other major projects: the Mississippi Governor's Mansion, completed in 1842, and the state's first penitentiary. The latter building was a large, castle-like structure in Gothic Revival style at the site of the current state capitol.

The Old Capitol has been restored to its original grandeur and reopened by the State as a free museum focusing on the distinguished history of the building and the events that have taken place in it. Interactive multimedia exhibits explore the roles of the legislature, governor, and high court, as well as the importance of historic preservation to the state, the activities that took place in the building after the New Capitol was constructed in 1903, and much more.

The building is a National Historic Landmark, and one of the country's premier examples of Greek Revival public architecture. When it was built in 1839, the massive limestone exterior, copper dome, and grand interior spaces made the Old Capitol the most distinguished building in Mississippi.

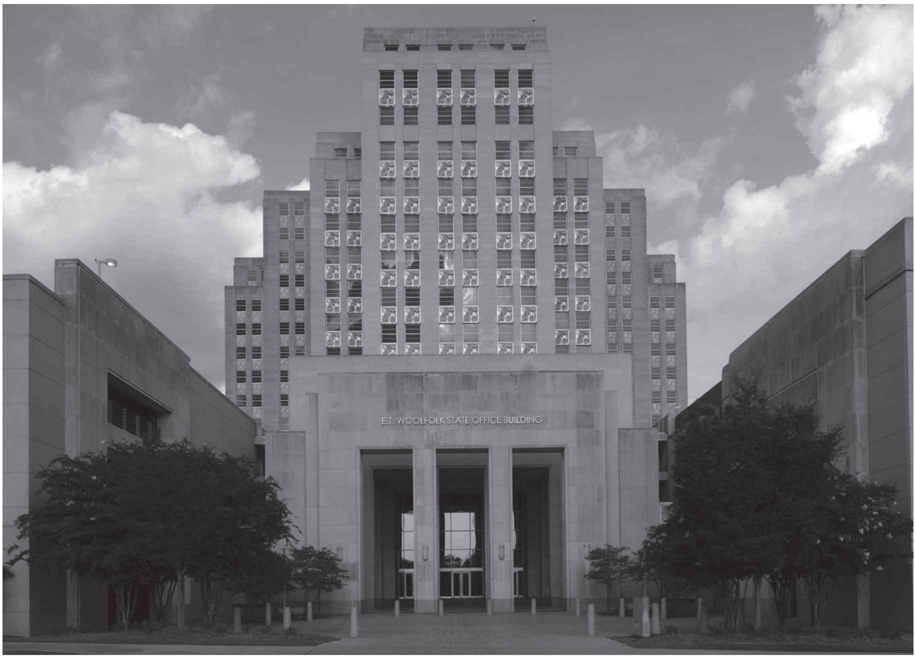
The Old Capitol Museum completed its last major restoration in 2009. From 1961 until 2005, the Old Capitol was home to the state's history museum. Damage suffered from Hurricane Katrina forced the museum's closure and led to the 2006 Legislature providing the majority of funding for the total $16 million project. Work on the site began in January 2007, and the museum re-opened in early 2009.

The 2009 restoration brought tremendous changes to Mississippi's most historic landmark and museum, including these new features:

- Faux-limestone facade. The Old Capitol originally had a stucco façade on its front and sides that was scored to look like limestone. The brick was left exposed on the rear of the building because it faced the Pearl River swamp. In 2008, the stucco was reapplied, returning the Old Capitol to its original mid-nineteenth-century appearance.
- Wrought iron fence. The original fence that defined the historic Capitol Green has been recreated. Landscaping will soon return the green to its nineteenth-century appearance, with no plantings next to the building.
- Historic Governor's Office. An earlier restoration erred in creating a large and lavish governor's office. This smaller governor's office is truer to the period. Notice the mantle and baseboards (called mop boards), which have been grained to imitate marble as in the original.
- State Library. The state library, located in the third floor apse area from 1839-1858, has been fully restored. New bookshelves will contain many of the library's original books. The columns in the room have also relocated closer to the bookshelves as they appear in a historic photograph.
- Senate. A gaslight reflector once again lights the Senate by directing gaslight downward. An ornate dome design with octagonal coffers and rosettes has been recreated with the help of period photographs. Mannequins of legislators surrounded by reproduction desks and chairs recreate actual debates from the past.
- Glass entrance doors to legislative chambers. Photographs show that the large entrance doors to both the House and Senate Chambers were originally part glass to allow legislators of one body to watch the actions of the other.
- New draperies, carpets, and colors. The Governor's office and the Senate and House Chambers feature new carpets and draperies based on research and historic fabrics in the museum's collection. Additional research and the study of historic photographs also led to many color changes in several areas in the Old Capitol.
- Interesting light fixtures in the Rotunda. The only known decorations to have filled the Rotunda niches are the early-1900s brass torchieres, which have been reproduced.
- New Staircase balusters. Photographic documentation showed that the previous (1959) balusters on the spiral staircases were inappropriate. They have been replaced with more accurate balusters.

Hours are Tuesday–Saturday, 9 a.m.–5 p.m.; Sunday 1–5 p.m.; closed Mondays.

Admission to the Old Capitol is free. Please call ahead to schedule tours for groups of 10 or more.



E.T. WOOLFOLK STATE OFFICE BUILDING

501 North West Street, Jackson, MS 39201
(601) 576-2501

Immediately to the west of the New State Capitol Building stands the Woolfolk Office Building. Completed in 1949 at a cost of almost $3.7 million, the 15-story Ellis Trigg Woolfolk Building is cemented in Mississippi history. The original 259,000 square feet, 15-story building formed an appropriate backdrop to the New State Capitol Building. Housing up to 28 state agencies at one point, this building was a major hub of state activity. The towering limestone structure was the largest building in the State at the time of construction.

In 1946, the Legislature authorized the building of a state facility to relieve the financial burdens of rents for state agencies. Architects E.L. Malvaney and Associates, Emmett J. Hull, Cary Jones, and Frank Gates were selected to design the building. The general contractor for the building was J.A. Jones Construction Company of Charlotte, N.C.

Governor Fielding L. Wright and other members of the Building Commission were responsible for the rapid progress in getting the building project underway and completed in a timely and cost effective manner.

The regal structure is quite impressive. One of the most striking features of this building is the magnolia that is etched into the limestone. The Woolfolk Building not only met the functional need for consolidating state agencies in one building, it was designed to reflect and even showcase Mississippi's rich culture and heritage. For this reason, a portion of the building was designated for attractive displays and exhibits showing Mississippi's industrial, recreational and agricultural advantages. The building was equipped with a large cafeteria and assembly hall.

It was named for Senatobia native Ellis Trigg Woolfolk (1877-1946), a state senator and representative who chaired the House Appropriations Committee. An annex to the state office building was added in 2001, bringing the current square footage to 446,616.

CARROLL GARTIN JUSTICE BUILDING

(601) 359-3697

The Gartin Justice Building is home to the Mississippi Supreme Court and the Mississippi Court of Appeals. Planning for a new justice building began in 1993. Construction began in 2001 and the courts began moving in 2008. The building is named for former Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, who was also a two-term mayor of Laurel. Gartin was completing his third term as lieutenant governor when he died in December 1966.

The neoclassical architecture of the remodeled appellate court building was designed to complement the state Capitol across the street. The four-story, 162,000-square-foot structure is topped with a copper roof. The building has limestone columns and an exterior of more than 10,000 pieces of gray Indiana limestone.

The state Supreme Court has been housed in various places since its inception in 1818. The court originally met in Natchez at the Adams County Courthouse. It briefly moved to Monticello from 1826 to 1828 and then back to Natchez. The court met inside the Old Capitol in Jackson from 1839 to 1903. In 1974, the court moved from the present Capitol to the original Gartin Justice Building.

HEBER LADNER BUILDING

401 Mississippi Street

Constructed in 1924, the building now housing the Secretary of State's offices was originally a library designed by architect N.W. Overstreet. The neoclassical Italian Renaissance-revival building was renovated in 1980. The two-story building contains 12,520 square feet of office and meeting space.

WAR MEMORIAL BUILDING

120 South State Street

Designed by E.L. Malvaney in the Art Deco style and built in 1940 as a tribute to Mississippi veterans, several veteran's associations and a military museum are located in the building. A replica of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is located in the courtyard.

WALTER SILLERS BUILDING

550 High Street

Currently, the Sillers Building houses the offices of Medicaid, the Attorney General and other state agencies.

WILLIAM F. WINTER ARCHIVES AND HISTORY BUILDING

200 North Street

The William F. Winter Archives and History Building, dedicated November 7, 2003, serves as the main administration building and home for the State of Mississippi archives collection. It is situated on and shares a bluff in downtown Jackson with three prominent historic structures—the War Memorial Building, the Capers Building and the State Old Capitol Building. The architecture of this new 140,575-square-foot facility blends with its historic neighbors and forms an appropriate backdrop for the Old Capitol. To ensure the correct scale, the building's visual mass was reduced by building the two floors of archival storage into the hillside and by recessing the fifth floor along the two facades facing the Old Capitol block. The facility's major programmatic divisions are public areas for the study of State archives, administrative office spaces, archivists work areas, and archival stack storage areas.

ROBERT E. LEE BUILDING

239 North Lamar Street

The Italian Renaissance-style building was built in 1930 as a luxury hotel designed by Jackson architect Claude H. Lindsley. In 1969, the 115,300-square-foot building was sold to the state and remodeled for government offices. It was again renovated in 1981 and 2011.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

359 North West Street

Parts of this building date as early as 1888-89. Its present Collegiate Gothic appearance is due to major remodeling in 1925. Currently, it houses offices for the Mississippi Department of Education.

BUREAU OF CAPITOL FACILITIES

The Office of Capitol Facilities performs the duties required to assure that all buildings under this office's jurisdiction are maintained and kept operable in addition to maintaining grounds and performing custodial duties. Parking at state buildings in the Capitol Complex is also a responsibility of this office.

The Office of Capitol Facilities currently has 24 buildings under its jurisdiction: Central High Building, New Capitol Building, Burroughs Building, Carroll Gartin Building, Governor's Mansion, Heber Ladner Building, Robert E. Lee Building, 700 North State Street, Walter Sillers Building, Charlotte Capers Building, GM&O Depot Building, 515 Amite Street, Old Capitol Building, Manship House, Manship Visitor's Center, War Memorial Building, 301 Building, Carpenter Shop, State Records Center, E. T. Woolfolk Building, E. L. Bolton State Office Building (Biloxi), and State Service Buildings #1 and #2 (Hattiesburg). The 660 North Street and the 620 North Street Buildings are also under the jurisdiction of Capitol Facilities.

1119 Pinehurst Street, Jackson 39202
(601) 353-7762
www.mdah.state.ms.us/welty/index.htm

The Eudora Welty House is a National Historic Landmark and one of the nation's most intact literary house museums, reflecting Welty's life there over 76 years. Welty left her house and collection of thousands of books to the State, and the Welty family donated furniture and art. Visitors will see Welty's house as she lived in it.

JIM BUCK ROSS AGRICULTURE & FORESTRY MUSEUM

1150 Lakeland Drive, Jackson 39202
(601) 713-3365
www.mdac.state.ms.us

Celebrating Mississippi's proud agricultural legacy, the museum invites visitors to park their vehicle, walk across a rustic bridge, and enter a bygone era. Guides reveal how agriculture and forestry molded the history and heritage of the State. Various museums of the Ag Museum include the Heritage Exhibit Center, the National Agricultural Aviation Museum, the Fitzgerald Collection, Small Town Mississippi, the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead, the Ethnic Heritage Center, and the Forestry Auditorium.

MANSHIP HOUSE MUSEUM

420 East Fortification Street, Jackson 39202
(601) 961-4724
www.mdah.state.ms.us/museum/manship.html

The Manship House was built on a four-acre lot in a sparsely settled area of Jackson when it was a city of about 3,000. Although the city has grown up around the house, it stands in its original setting of native trees and shrubs, some of which may have been planted by Manship himself. The Manship House Museum closed July 1, 2010, for repairs.

MISSISSIPPI MUSEUM OF NATURAL SCIENCE

2148 Riverside Drive, Jackson 39202-1353
(601) 354-7303/F (601) 354-7227
www.mdwfp.com/museum

Located in LeFleur's Bluff State Park, the Museum's buildings and group feature a 73,000-square-foot exhibit complex overlooking a 300-acre natural landscape, 2.5 miles of nature trails and an open-air amphitheater.

The Mississippi Library Commission was established in 1926 by an act of the Mississippi Legislature. The agency was charged with giving advice, when asked, to schools and public libraries and to communities desiring to establish libraries. Further, the agency was required to obtain annual reports from all libraries in the state and to make a biennial report to the legislature of its work. The Act also authorized the Board of Commissioners to purchase and operate traveling libraries which might circulate to just about any library, organization or group including charitable and penal institutions. Today, the Mississippi Library Commission offers a wide variety of direct and indirect services to libraries, government agencies and the citizens of Mississippi.

The Mississippi Library Commission is committed—through leadership, advocacy, and service—to strengthening and enhancing libraries and library services for all Mississippians.

The 2012 Mississippi Officials & Statistical Register is presented to the State of Mississippi by Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann. The book was paid for by the taxpayers of the state of Mississippi and authorized by the Mississippi Legislature. The Blue Book was produced by the Education & Publications Division of the Mississippi Secretary of State's Office. Creative design and production assistance was provided by Maris, West & Baker.

All copyrighted photographs within this book are the property of their respective copyright owners and are copyright protected worldwide. Use of the photographs in this publication is for non-commercial, informational purposes only. Every effort has been made by the Mississippi Secretary of State's Office to provide accurate and complete information. However, no warranties, express or implied, are provided for the data contained herein. Except for occasional updates, appointments and other data included in the informational sections of the 2012-2016 Blue Book are current as of May 30, 2013. The Municipal and Counties sections were updated in the 2014 reprint. An updated version of the 2012-2016 Official & Statistical Register will be published on the Mississippi Secretary of State's website at www.sos.ms.gov at the beginning of each subsequent fiscal year. The next Blue Book will be published in 2016.
